Signed sealed published and declared as and for the last will and Testament of the within named Margaret Ledgerwood in presence of us,

Absalom Woods

William Doosing

At Roanoke County Court April Term 1891.

The last will and Testament of Margaret A. Ledgerwood deceased was this day produced in Court, the same having been in the possession of Matilda Hall, widow of Allen Hall deceased, as was shown by the testimony of John Hall, and it appearing that Absalom Woods and William Doosing the subscribing witnesses thereto are dead, Andrew Huffman and Mark D. Moomaw were sworn and severally deposed that they are well acquainted with the handwriting of the said witnesses, and verily believe the names of the said witnesses subscribed to the said will to be the genuine signatures of the said Absalom Woods and William Doosing, thereupon it is ordered that the said will be recorded as the last will and testament of the said Margaret Ledgerwood deceased.
