At Roanoke County Court, August Term 1881.

A writing purporting to be the last Will and Testament of David Myers deceased, was produced in Court by John O. Myers, the Executor therein named, and there being no subscribing witness thereto, William P. Roberts and Lewis Zirkle were sworn and severally deposed that they are well acquainted with the testator's hand-writing, and verily believe the said writing and the names thereto subscribed to be wholly written by the testator's own hand. And another paper writing purporting to be a codicil to said Will was presented in Court by the said John O. Myers and there being no subscribing witness thereto, the said William P. Roberts and Lewis Zirkle being duly sworn, deposed that they verily believe the said last mentioned writing and the names thereto subscribed to be wholly written by the testator's own hand. Whereupon the said writings are ordered to be recorded as the true last Will and Testament of the said David Myers deceased.

Abraham Hartman The last Will and Testament of Abraham Hartman of Roanoke County, Virginia.

I, Abraham Hartman, considering the uncertainty of this mortal life, and being of sound mind and memory, do make and publish this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following: First, after my just debts are paid, I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife Catherine one half of all my property both real and personal consisting of (57) fifty one acres of land in the home tract and (33) acres in the Snyder tract both lying in Roanoke County Va. and on tributary branches of Back Creek, and the personal property consisting of Household and Kitchen Furniture one Horse one Cow and the stock of hogs and sheep to have and to hold during her mortal life and the other half until my son Abram L. Hartman arrives at the age of twenty one years at which time I will that the one half of the said property both real and personal be transferred into the hands of my said son Abram L. Hartman, and after the death of my beloved wife Catherine the remainder of said property to be transferred into the hands
