

Signed, published and declared by David Richards, as and for his last will in the presence of us, who in his presence and at his request, and in the presence of each other have hereunto signed our names as witnesses.

F. C. Oudette

J. T. Oatmeal

J. S. Bau

At Roanoke County Court June Term, 1891.

The last Will and Testament of David Richards (colored), deceased, was this day produced in Court and proved according to law, by the oaths of F. C. Oudette and J. T. Oatmeal, subscribing witnesses thereto, and is thereupon ordered to be recorded.

A copy from the Records of Court.

Teste:

Wm. McCauley, Clerk.

Lydia L. Corley I Lydia L. Corley, being of sound mind and memory, do give, devise and bequeath to my beloved husband James B. Corley the following property, real and personal, to wit: My farm at Coileysville containing Fourteen acres of land which formerly belonged to my said beloved husband James B. Corley, also my one half interest in a twenty horse power steam engine and saw and corn mill and fixtures and all of my household and kitchen furniture hereby working all former mills by me made.

In witness whereof, I, Lydia L. Corley, have to this, my last will and testament, subscribed my name this 2nd day of May 1890 at Coileysville

Lydia L. Corley

Subscribed by the testator in the presence of each of us, and at the same time declared by her to us to be her last will and testament, and thereupon we, at the request of the testator and in her presence, sign our names hereto as witnesses, this 2nd day of May 1890 at Coileysville

(test)

Samuel Boon

Chas. W. Martin

Codicil.

I hereby will my beloved husband, James B. Corley all the money I have in Franklin Bank and my buggy during his life time and at his death I will that my sister Mary C. Cambers have my Buggy. I also will my beloved husband Four of my bed covers, (first choice). I devise that Sister Fannie Price have my Rocking Chair. I bequeath to my Sister Julia Wigginton my feather bed, Bolster and pillows, and to my niece Lydia F. Starkey my Sewing Machine and to my my niece Pattie Chambers my Side Saddle and to my niece Ann Robertson Two Quilts and to my niece Fannie Purcell Two Quilts and to my nephew George Wigginton One Figured Couplet and to my nephew James Wigginton One white Counterspane, and to Jasper S. Corley One Figured Couplet and One White Counterspane and to Texas A. Bryant my Sash and One White Counterspane.

In witness whereof I Lydia L. Corley have to, my Codicil to my last will and testament Subscribed my name This 15th day of November 1890 at Corleyville

Lydia L. Corley (seal)

Subscribed by the testator in my presence and at the same time declared both will and codicil to be her last will and testament and thereupon at her request and in her presence sign my name as witness This November 15th 1890.

(Teste)

Wm. O. Turner

At Roanoke County Court, July Term, 1891: *

The last Will and Testament of Lydia L. Corley, deceased, was this day produced in Court and found according to law by the oaths of Samuel Poore and Charles W. Martin, subscribing witnesses thereto, and is thereupon ordered to be recorded.

A copy from the Records of Court.

Teste:

Robert S. James & Co

Wm. O. Corley, Clerk

Sallie S. Webber. I, Sallie S. Webber, do make my last will and testament as follows:

I give and devise unto my husband, Henry A. Webber, all of my property, wherever situate, both real and personal, composing my separate estate, to have and to hold in trust for the benefit of my two children, Jeremiah Etain Webber and and Sallie Houseman Webber, until the youngest shall arrive at the age of twenty one years, when the same shall be equally divided between them; but should either of them die before arriving at the age of twenty one years without leaving lawful issue, then the said property shall be held in trust for the benefit of the one surviving; but should both of my said children die, without lawful issue, before arriving at twenty one years of age, then it is my will that the property herein devised be equally divided between the children of my said husband, Henry A. Webber, the issue of his first marriage, to wit: Joseph Henry Webber, Mary Susan Webber, and John Bruffey Webber, or such of them as may then be living— And I constitute and appoint my said Husband, Henry A. Webber, executor of this my last will, and request that he be allowed to qualify as such