

KEY

NOTE

This map shows the battlefield as it was May 15, 1864. It is based on the Woodstock, Va., sheet of the U. S. Geological Survey as shown in the sub-sketch. The woods, orchards, houses and other cultural features are by Frank J. Bushong, the best living authority, confirmed by Mr. Hupp, of Sperryville, Va., who also pointed out on the ground the Imboden-Boyd action of May 13, 1864. The places where certain ones fell are from lifelong residents of New Market, who were there on the day of the battle, and from J. H. Dwyer, of Woodson's Missourians.

1. Cadet Artillery Section, 4th position.

2. Mile post—To Staunton 4 1/2.

3. Hupp House.

4. DuPont's Bn., Battery B, covering Sigel's retreat.

5. Hupp House.

6. Cadet's Battery.

7. Corps Cadets at 2.45 p. m.

8. West End Post and Cap Penco.

9. Oak Tree Penco.

10. Jefferson killed.

11. Large willow tree.

12. Old stone quarry.

13. Lt. Col. Kipp fell between 15 and 18.

14. Movement to 5th Pa. Volunteers.

15. Hickory tree fence.

16. Edgar's Battalion emerging from Indian Hollow at Hupp's Spring.

17. East End Post and Cap Penco.

18. 42nd Va. advanced position.

19. Monument to Woodson's Men.

20. Hupp House.

21. Mile post—To Staunton 4 1/2.

22. 42nd Va. retired position.

23. Berkeley's Section Artillery.

24 to 25. McLaughlin's Artillery.

25. Cadet Section Artillery.

26. Imboden's Camp, 1862-4.

27. Imboden's Artillery of May 15.

28. Old apple tree and Federal Dead.

29. Two old gale-pots. Cabell, Jones and Crockett fell near here.

30. Old pear tree. One killed and Dwyer wounded.

31. Dr. Rice's Barn.

32. Two cadets fell.

33. Indian Hollow.

34. Dr. Rice's House.

35. Imboden's Cav., May 13, 1864.

36. Church Road.

37. Camp Whitwell, Corps Cadets, May 16 to 20, 1864.

38. Old Barn—later burned by enemy.

39. Snow's Battery.

40. Cadet Section with McLaughlin's Artillery.

41. Mile post—To Staunton 4 1/2.

42. Off South end Indian Hollow.

43. Cadets prepared for action.

44. Old House on edge of New Market.

45. Prof. Capt. Hill and others wounded.

46. Smith's Creek Bridge, on Road to Luray.

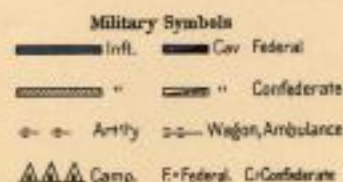

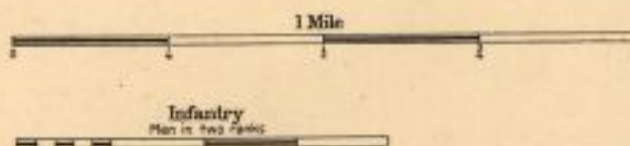

47. Cadet and other artillery about noon.

48. Very large old cedar tree.

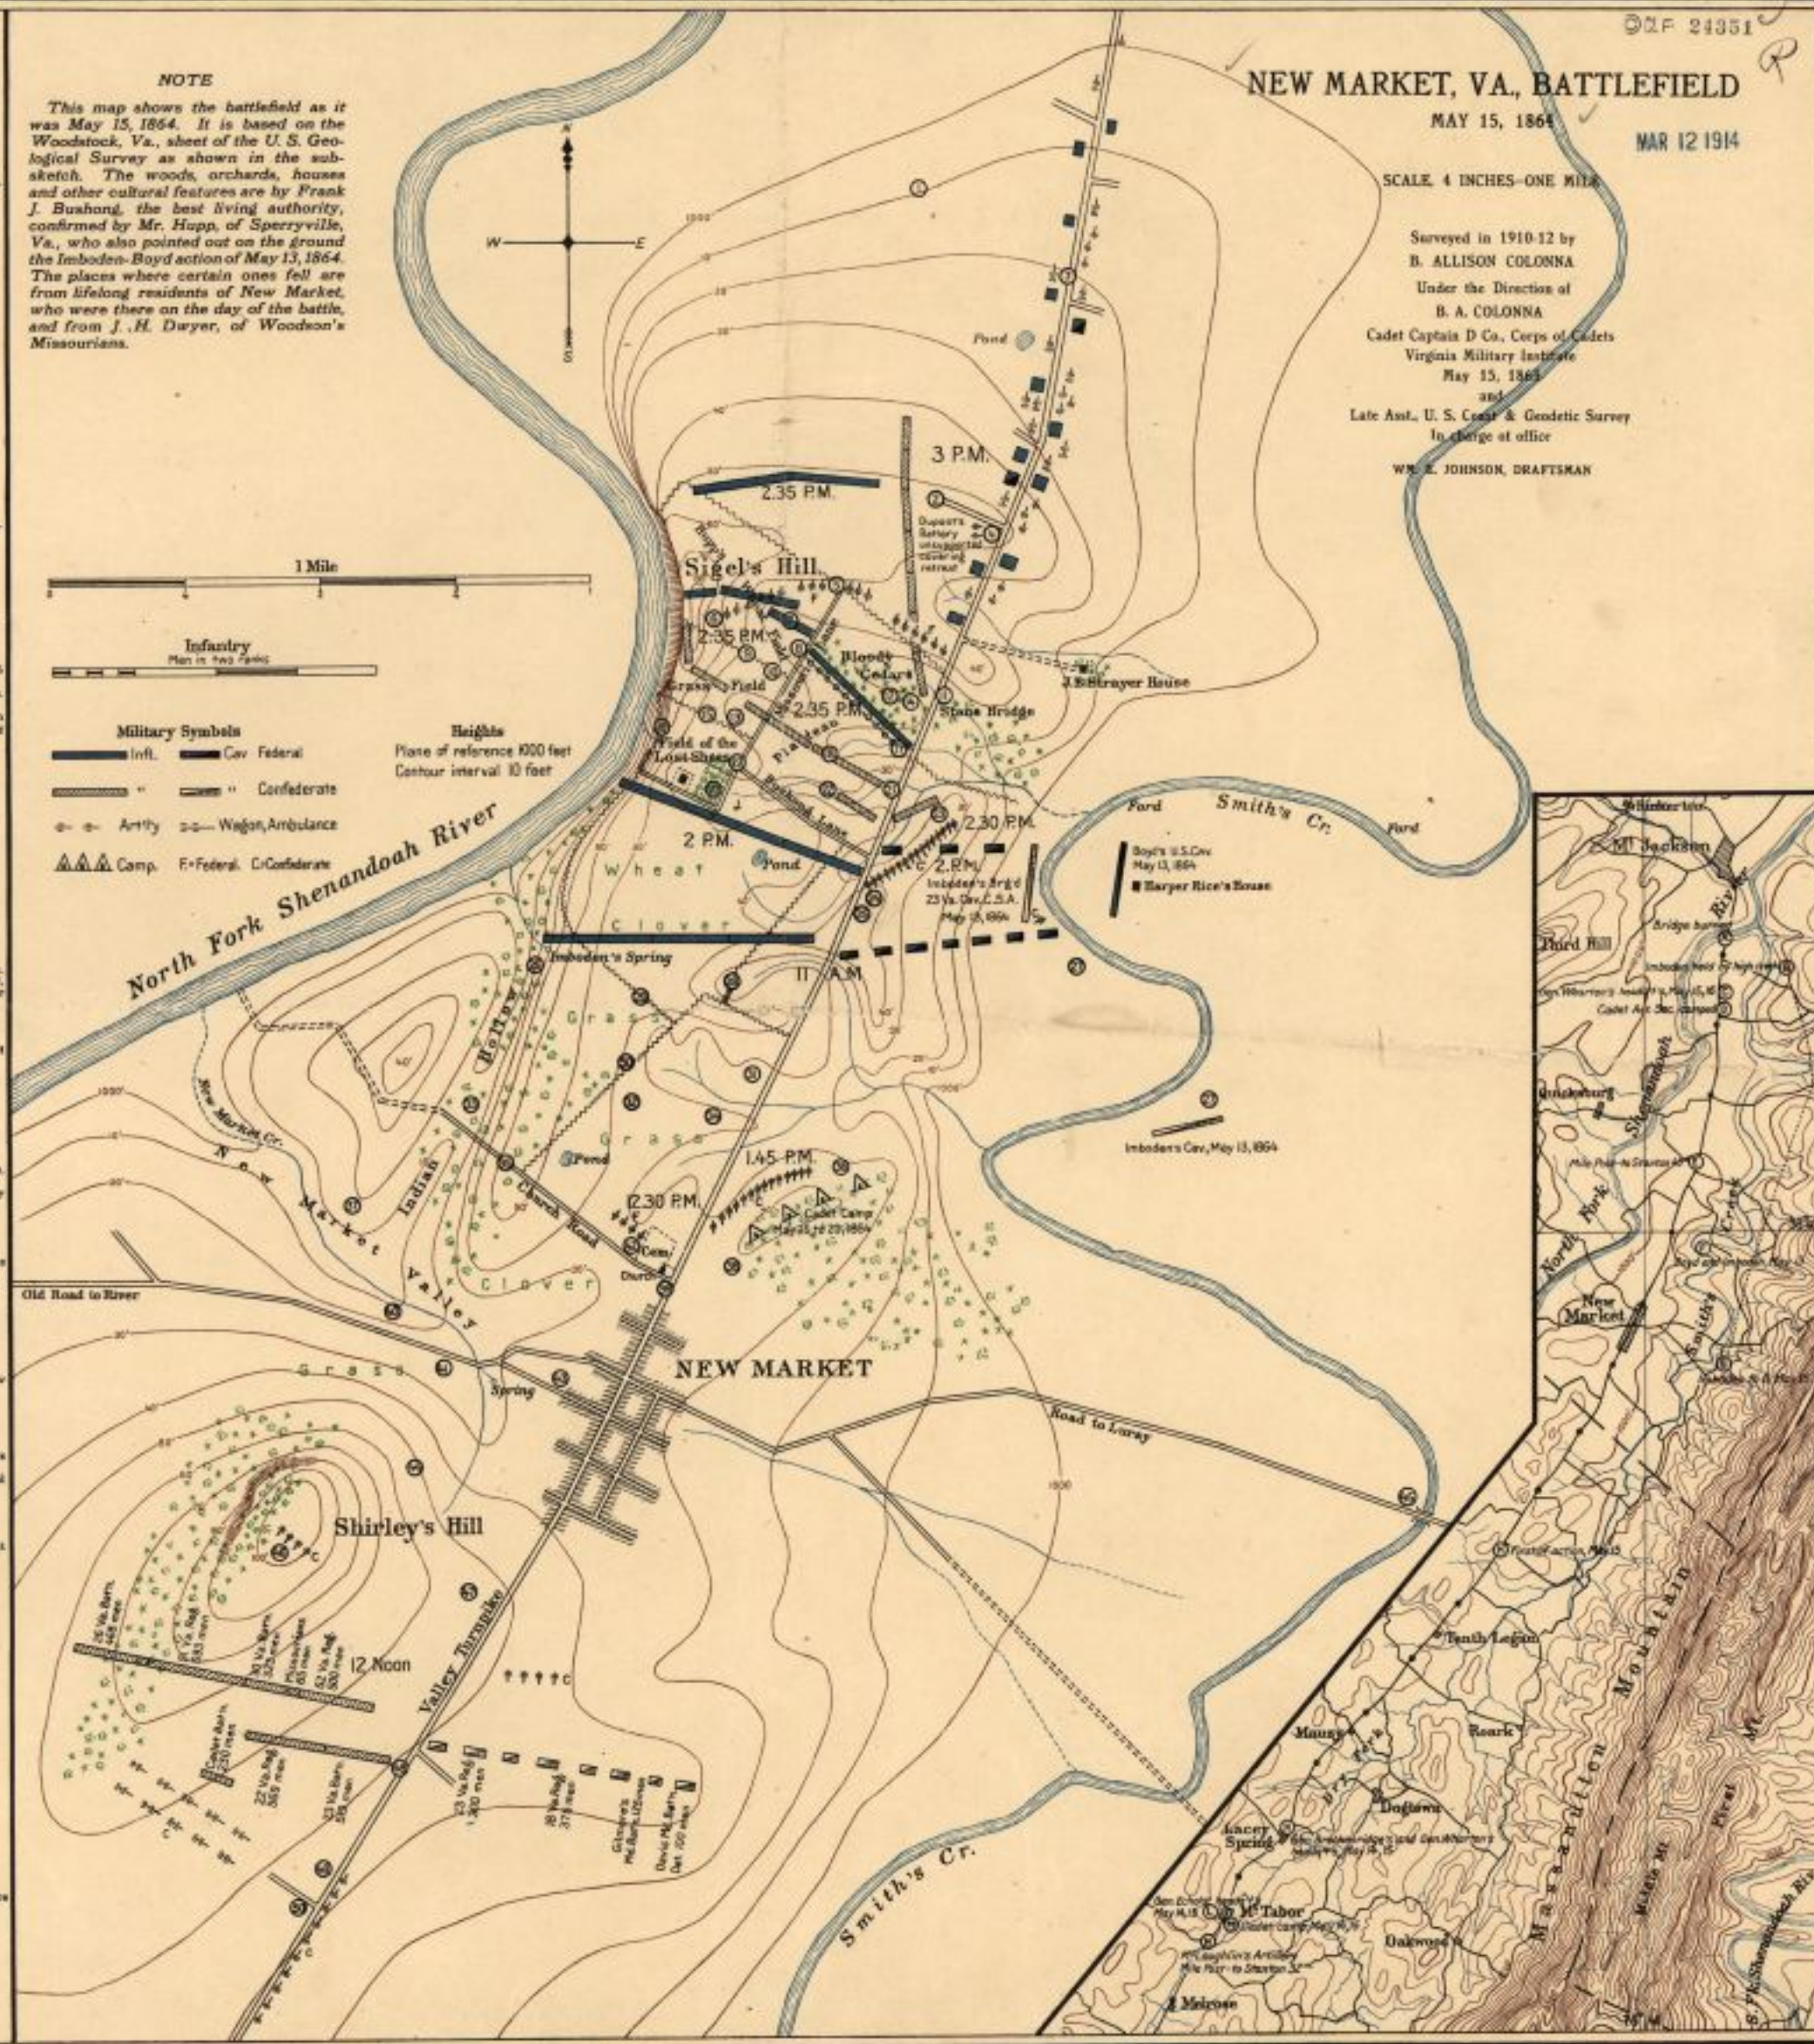

49. Mile post—To Staunton 4 1/2.

50. Cadet Battalion left pile.

51. Cadet Artillery Section left pile for Shirley's Hill.

Heights
Plane of reference 1000 feet
Contour interval 10 feet

NEW MARKET, VA., BATTLEFIELD

MAY 15, 1864

MAY 12 1914

SCALE 4 INCHES=ONE MILE

Surveyed in 1910-12 by
B. ALLISON COLONNA

Under the Direction of
B. A. COLONNA

Cadet Captain D Co., Corps of Cadets
Virginia Military Institute
May 15, 1864

and
Late Asst. U. S. Coast & Geodetic Survey
In Charge of office

WM. E. JOHNSON, DRAFTSMAN