2. Vines, see No. 5.

- 3 Thomas, Quartermaster, Virginia State Regiment, May 1778, commissioned 2nd Lieutenant, Continental Army, October 22, 1778, served until January, 1781 (Heitman's list of Officers Continental Army, p. 131). In 1790 Lieutenant Collier was living on the adjoining plantation to his brother Myhill in Greenville County, Virginia, and had in family four whites and eight blacks. The following Colliers were also living in Greenville County at that time but it has been impossible to connect them with the branch of the family, viz. Myhill, Thomas or Isaac. Their names were Daniel Collier, John Collier, Moses Collier.

(It is thought by the writer composing this article that the Collier families of Moses, John and Daniel were the relations or descendants of John Collier, Jr., who resided in Kind and Queens County, in 1749, and on September 26, 1749, married a girl by the name of Anne Collier, who was the daughter of Mrs. Anne Collier. There was also a Thomas Collier in this family and it is thought from this family descended Meridith Collier, who removed to North Carolina along about 1755 and who had children by the name of Mary, John and twin boys by the name of Meridith and Merrill, Meridith removing to Jackson County, Georgia and later to Dekalb County, Georgia, and represented Dekalb County in the Georgia Legislature, 1832-40 and Merrill removed to Jackson County, Georgia and was commissioned Lieutenant 316th Dist. Company Jackson County, Georgia Militia, August 12, 1812. It appears that Merrill and Meridith are the sons of Joseph Collier above mentioned, who removed from Virginia to South Carolina near the Georgia line just after the Revolutionary War. From this branch of the Collier family sprang the Colliers of Atlanta, Georgia, viz. Judge John Collier, Charles A. Collier, Mrs. Dr. Floyd W. McRae).

4. Charles, married Susannah, daughter of William Smith, He was Lieutenant and Captain Virginia State Regiment, 1771-1781.
5. Isaac. GAY
6. Elizabeth Smith.
7. Judith Collier, married James Hicks of Brunswick County, Virginia, (see VII)
8. Anne, married April 28th, 1730, Ephriam Parham.

VI- Judith Collier, (daughter of Isaac Collier of Poto Bello, who's will was proved on August 15, 1737), who married James Hicks of Brunswick County, Virginia, had a daughter Ann Vines Hicks, who married Dr. Walker of Brunswick County, Virginia, who was a surgeon in the U. S. Army in 1812.

(William & Mary Quarterly XX p. 196).

(Statement of the branch of the Virginia Colliers which appeared to be connected with the Collier family in this genealogy and from which a portion of the Georgia Colliers descended.)

Mrs. Ann Vines Hicks Walker, above mentioned, was living during the year 1860, at the age of 94 years, near Diamong Grove in Brunswick County, Virginia. She was a paternal aunt of R. A. Hardaway of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and the above facts were given out by him in a statement that he made at Tuscaloosa on April 3, 1886. Mr. Hardaway visited her home in Virginia at that time, and Mrs. Ann Vines Hicks Walker stated to him that she was the niece of Cornelius Collier of Yorktown, Virginia, that her mother was Judith Collier, and that her two uncles, or the two brothers of her mother, were officers in the regiment of which Lawrence Washington was Captain at Porto Bello, near Darien. In the expedition of 1740-42 under Admiral Vernon and General Wentworth, Lawrence Washington named his estate on the Potomac River, Mt. Vernon, and the Collier's named their home on the North River, Porto Bello. There is such a place above Williamsburg on the river. Mrs. Ann Vines Hicks Walker said she had four brothers who were officers in the Continental Army in 1776, and two of them were captured at Nash's defeat at the Battle of Brier Creek, Burke County, Georgia, where the Continentals alone made any stand. Mrs. Walker's husband, Dr. Wm. Walker, was a well known surgeon in the U. S. Army in 1812, as you will note in above paragraph VI.

GAY

The above is given merely as a historical event).

VII- Vines Collier who came from Virginia to Georgia, before coming to Georgia, served as Ensign & Lieutenant in the French and Indian War and was in the expedition at Ft. Duquerne (Pittsburg). He married in Brunswick County, Virginia, about 1760, Sara Elizabeth, daughter of Benjamin Williamson, and removed with his family to Wilkes County, Georgia; about 1780, and later to Oglethorpe County, where he died in September, 1795, he was buried at Old Salem Church in Oglethorpe County, Georgia, six miles southeast of Lexington. His wife's name was Sarah.

1. Had 13 children, viz.-----

1. Mary (Polly) born 1760, married John H. Owens, son of Glennie, in 1803, and lived and died in Monroe County, Georgia, (Now Lamar) near Barnesville.
2. Elizabeth, born 1761, married Rev. Thomas Dunn, a Methodist Preacher, she died 1840.
3. Sarah, born 1763, married Harrison King Smith in 1804.
4. Isaac, born 1785, was member of Georgia Legislature and State Senate, (see Iv).
5. Anne (Nancy) born 1767, married first, John Hardeman and second, George Menefee. (See V).
6. Thomas, born 1771, was living in Columbia County, Georgia, in 1792, and was a J. P.
7. John, born 1773, married Patsey Gresham in 1795. (See VII)
8. William, born 1775, married Sallie Powell (daughter of Edward Powell in 1801. (See VIII).
9. Vines, born 1777, married Dorothy Raffety in 1802. (See IX).
10. Benjamin, born 1779, Judge of Crawford County, married Ann (Polly) Howard in 1805. (See X).
11. Williamson, born 1781, married Memena Powell in 1803 (See XI).
12. Robert, born 1783, married Martha Booker of Putnam County, on May 1, 1806, removed to Upson County, Georgia.
13. Cuthbert, born 1785, married Nancy Dickee, 1803, and removed to Monroe County, Georgia. (See XIII).

(Below you will find as near as can be ascertained at the present time, viz., December, 1924, where the descendants of the above members of the Vines Collier's family located. Vines Collier received his name from the family of his mother's people, viz. Thomas Vines of Virginia).

1. Mary (Polly) Collier, that married John H. Owens, son of Glennie Owens, in 1803, removed to Monroe County, Georgia, three or four miles south of Barnesville, and settled on the highway running from Barnesville to Macon, and from this family sprang the Owens family of Monroe County, many of whom are living in the County at this time, December, 1924.

II- Elizabeth Collier that married Rev. Thomas Dunn, a Methodist Preacher, and who died in 1840, had the following children: Ishmael, John Vines, Thomas, Nancy, who married Keener, Priscilla, who married Bell, Sarah, who married Willis A. Jordan, Mary, who married Daniel Drewery, who was killed by Dennis, and left a child named William Thomas.

III- Sarah, born 1783, and who married Harrison King Smith in 1804, evidently settled around Dekalb County, as they had a daughter named Serena, who married George Logan of Dekalb County and another daughter Salina, who married Ellington of Dekalb County, and another daughter Elizabeth, who married _____ that moved to Columbus, Georgia, and three sons, John, Harrison and Charles, no record of his marriage. It appears that Harrison Smith, above mentioned, married Elizabeth, daughter of John Hardeman and Nancy Collier. GAR

IV- Isaac, who was born in Brunswick County, Virginia, in 1765 removed to Georgia with his father, Vines Collier, and settled in Oglethorpe County, where he married Elizabeth, daughter of Charles Smith and had the following children: Charles, Vines, William, Cuthbert, Rebecca, Elizabeth, Nancy, and Susannah. He was Clerk of the Court of Oglethorpe County and also member of the Georgia Legislature H. R. 1830-31, also elected to Georgia State Senate 1832-33. It appears that some members of descendants of his family removed to West Upson, Talbot, Meriwether Counties, etc, Mrs. Rebecca Ann Collier Mills, living at Thomaston, Georgia, in 1924, appears to be the daughter of Charles Vines Collier, who was the son of Isaac above mentioned.

V- Anne (Nancy), born 1767, in Brunswick County, Virginia, married John Hardeman about 1790, who was a son of John Hardeman of Gilford County, N. C. John Hardeman had a sister by the name of Easter that married John Everett. They had the following children: Betty, who married Harison Smith, Thomas.

John who moved to Memphis, Tennessee, Robert Vines, Benjamin F., Martha, who was born after the death of John Hardeman and married Lawhorn of Rome, Georgia. After John Hardeman's death, his widow, Anne (Nancy) married George Menefee of Palmetto, who had children by the name of Willis and others. Willis resided at Palmetto and raised a large family from whom, perhaps, Mrs. Wm. Byrd Tate living at about Marietta, Georgia, in 1925 descended.

Thomas Hardeman, a member of Congress and also Postmaster at Macon, Georgia was a descendant of John Hardeman and Anne Collier.

VI- Thomas Collier, son of Vines was living in Columbia County, Georgia, in 1792, the records are not very complete regarding his after life. He was born in 1771 in Brunswick County, Virginia, and evidently had a son by the name of Dr. William Collier who resided in Columbia County, Georgia, that read medicine in Philadelphia under Dr. Rush and in 1811 married Sarah Germany of Columbia County. This Dr. Collier died in 1825. There was a Thomas Collier a member of the Georgia Legislature H. R. from Pulaski County, in 1837-38-39 that was evidently a grandson of the Thomas Collier who resided in Columbia County in 1792. Thomas, subject of this sketch, died in 1826 and Benjamin Collier, his brother, administered on his estate.

VII- John Collier who was born also in Brunswick County, Virginia, in 1773 came from Virginia to Oglethorpe County with his father, Vines, about 1780. He was the first Tax Collector of Oglethorpe County, Georgia, married Patsey Gresham in 1795 who was a daughter of John Gresham. John Collier was appointed Captain of the 345th Dist. Company Pulaski County on June 20, 1812, and resigned August 11, 1813.

VIII- William, also son of Vines, born in 1775, Brunswick County, Virginia, came with his father to Georgia and married Sallie Powell in 1801, she was a daughter of Edward and Mary Powell. She had a sister, Rebecca, that married Vines Smith and a sister named Jemena that married Williamson Collier. It is not clear at this time what became of William's family after they left Oglethorpe County. It may come out in the records to be compiled later.

IX- Vines Collier, born 1777 in Brunswick County, Virginia, and a son of Vines, also came with his father from Brunswick County, Virginia, and married Dorothy Raffety in 1802 and died in Wilkes County, Georgia. They evidently had no children. (GAR)

X- Benjamin Collier, also son of Vines, born 1779, is said to have been Judge of Crawford Conty, Georgia, yet some of the records show that, perhaps, he moved to Early County. Benjamin was named for his mother's father, Benjamin Williamson of Virginia. He married Ann (Polly) Howard in 1805 and it seems died in 1830 and in his will mentioned the following legatees: Robert, William, Cuthbert, Williamson, Vines, Isaac, Benjamin, John H. Owens, Harrison King Smith, Thomas Dunn, Thomas G. Jones, Benjamin F. Hardeman, George Menefee.

XI- Williamson Collier, likewise son of Vines, was born in Oglethorpe County, Georgia in 1781, he married Jemena Powell in 1803, who was a sister of Sallie Powell who married William Collier. Williamson had a son by the name of William who removed to Upson and Monroe County, Georgia, near The Rock and Barnesville, and died around 1872, and had some grandchildren that were raised in this section and resided and died in Pike County by the name of Vines Hicks, who resided at Meansville and Greene Hardaway who resided at Piedmont, Georgia. Williamson's family will be connected up a little later on.

XII- Robert, son of Vines, was born in Oglethorpe County, Georgia, November 13, 1783. He married Martha Marshall Booker of Putnam County, May 1, 1806. Robert moved early in life about 1820 to 24 to Upson County, Georgia, and settled three miles south of The Rock, and died in 1850 and is buried on the old Collier plantation which is still in the family has never been out of the family and is owned by the heirs of Robert Marshall Collier 2nd who died in Atlanta, Georgia, October 26, 1924. Martha Marshall Booker died 1876 and is buried by the side of her husband on the old plantation. He was a large planter and large slave owner and represented Upson County in the Georgia Legislature H. R. four terms, viz. 1826-27-33-36. In 1827 he was opposed by Joseph Sturgess and in some way Sturgess was declared elected byt his seat was contested and Sturgess was unseated on November 21st, and Robert Collier was seated November 22, 1827. He was also elected a State Senator from Upson in 1841. He raised a large family which will come out later. Robert's last words when he died were "I am done with the world" which appear in his family Bible now in possession of his great-grandson, Jena Cuthbert Collier of Barnesville, Georgia. Many of the descendants of his slaves are still residing in 1924 at the old Collier homestead in Upson County.

XIII- Cuthbert Collier, also son of Vines, born 1785 in Oglethorpe County, Georgia, removed to Monroe County, Georgia, and raised a large family, many of the descendants are still in Monroe living around Collier's Station. Colliers Station was named for Cuthbert Collier, or Cutty as he was called at that time. John Marlin Collier was his son but at this writing it has been impossible to connect up all of the branches of his family as there appears to have been possible two branches of the Collier family that came to Monroe County in the early eighteenth century.
