

Daniel McCorquodale, b. ca 1774 near Loch Awe, Scotland, appears to have migrated to Sampson Co., N. C. about 1795. Listed on 1800 Sampson Co. N. C. Census and 1810 Cumberland Co. N. C. Census...these counties where Scottish emigrants settled in that State. Daniel was later found on 1820 Washington Co. Ga. Census, as well as 1825 Washington Co. Ga. tax digest, declaring 202 1/2 acres in Dooly Co., Ga. 14th dist, Lot No. 29. Also listed on same tax digest were: John R. McCorquodale, Daniel's son, and Malcolm McCorquodale, the latter owning 250 acres on C. Creek in Washington Co., also Daniel's son. Daniel also listed on 1830 Washington Co. Ga. census, however, with a deed in Dooly Co. in 1832, along with John McCorquodale, of John Blake to Duncan McCorquodale. From all indications, Daniel left Washington Co., taking up his Dooly Co. land for a time, probably dying there or in Early Co. No further information on him in said counties, however. Issue:
