Joseph Pike undoubtedly had two brothers, William Pike and Thomas Pike. William Pike, b. ca 1745 N. H., lived in Beaufort Co. S. C., near the Broad River. He was owner of 136 slaves and must have owned large tracts of land. He may have m. Susannah Winborn, dau. of Susannah and Thomas Winborn who lived just south of Charleston, on Wadmalow Island, between Charleston and the Broad River. The LWT of Mrs. Susannah Winborn of Wadmalow Island, St. John's Parish, Colleton Co., widow, w. of Thomas Winborn, names her dau, Susannah Pike in her LWT dtd 1/1778, pvd 12/23/1780.

During the war, Thomas Pike joined his brother, William Pike, on his plantation, assisting him in running a ferry at Port Royal, across the Broad River. Stub Indents dated 1786 reveal that William Pike was paid for public service rendered soldiers as ferryman at Port Royal Ferry. The 1790 Beaufort Co. S. C. Census lists William Pike with 136 slaves, a son and three daus. He was found on 1810 Orangeburg dist. Census. 3/7/1803 he was granted 460 acres by State of S. C. in Colleton Co.

Thomas Pike, b. 1744, N. H., Dancing Instructor and Fencing Master, who lived at Charleston, S. C. until the war began, and fighting taking place within the city; then he removed to his brothers plantation, above, for a time, before returning to N. H. He must have been married, for there is a mention of him in Journal of Mrs. Ann Manigault, P. 209, V. 22, S. C. Historical Magazine, in which she mentioned "Mr. Pike's Ball", and 8/19/1765.....Pike's child died." Thomas Pike provided much of the entertainment of the day in Charleston, giving balls and parties, having orchestras, etc., in conjunction with his dancing school. There are Charleston deeds of him in St. Phillips Parish, Berkeley Co., conveying lands in 1768, 1771. His studio was on Church Street, mentioned in S. C. Historical Magazine, V. 70, P. 149-150, 151-152, V. 35, P. 102, 72, 64, the details of which are elaborated upon and are most interesting. One article tells how, at the onset of the war, he was selling his goods, preparing to leave the city. S. C. Stub Indents also mention Thomas Pike, running the ferry at Port Royal in 1782. After the war, he apparently returned to Charleston for a while, for we find DS D-4, P. 131-2, Charleston, Jacob Bates to Thomas Pike, Dancing and Fencing Master, P/A to handle his affairs, Bates bound for Philadelphia, 4/3/1793. He purchased lands in Edgefield Co. S. C., from ref: DS 2, P. 161-4, 1/3/1788, Wm. Anderson and Rachel, his w. to John Pool, 90 acres on Halfway Swamp, bounded by Thomas Pike, et al. Halfway Swamp Creek runs off the Saluda River, near Newberry Co. S. C. at Ninety Six, now Greenwood Co. Therefore, this could possibly be the land which Joseph Pike owned in Orangeburgh District, later Edgefield Co. Thomas Pike was not listed on 1790 or 1800 Census of S. C., and we find the following from the City Gazette, Charleston, S. C. 1/16/1824: "Died at New London, N. H., Mr. Thomas Pike, age 84, a soldier in the French War, an Officer of the Revolution." New London is in Merrimack Co., N. H.
