In the matter of the petition of James B. Hayward for a pension as a Confederate Soldier:

Personally appeared William Jaycocks, who upon being sworn, says that in the Fall of the year 1864 the last call was made by the authorities of the Confederate Government for the enlistment of men for the army; which call included all males between the ages of sixteen and fifty years.

That this deponent And James B. Hayward, now a citizen of Bartow County, Georgia, joined the company being organized in Richland County South Carolina, the Captain of which was F. H.
Pooser. That said company, together with others from various other counties in said State, made up a regiment organized by Colonel A. D. Goodwyn and said regiment immediately went actively into the service of the Confederate Government.

That in the Fall of the year 1864 Goodwyn's regiment was ordered to the seacoast to serve as infantry support to a battery of light artillery stationed at a place called Honey Hill, south of a place called Grahamville, South Carolina.

That after said regiment reached Honey Hill and was doing active service there that said James B. Hayward was transferred to some other command, but that is all that this deponent knows.

Personally appears Julius H. Hayward, who upon being sworn, says that in the latter part of the summer of the year 1864, in response to a call by the Confederate Government, (as this Deponent was informed), for all males between the ages of sixteen and fifty years to join the Confederate army, this deponent and James B. Hayward, now a citizen of Bartow County, Ga, forthwith enlisted, becoming privates in a Company organized in Richland County, South Carolina. That said Company was commanded by one, Captain Pooser, and at once became one of those companies organized into a regiment by one Col. Artemas D. Goodwin. That said regiment immediately went into the active service of the Confederate Government and was later a part of the Confederate force which had fought the battle of Honey Hill in Beaufort County South Carolina. That this deponent and said James B. Hayward were transferred from the command of Col.
Artemas D. Goodwyn to the Citadel Corps of the South Caro-

Confederate States and stationed on James Island as a part of the Confederate States army engaged in the defense of the city of Charleston. That said corps of Cadets served as the Hon. D. W. Mc Laurin, Pension Commissioner of South Carolina,

My dear Sir:

Will you do this Office and the State of Georgia the special favor to look through the muster rolls, on file with you, of such troops as were enlisted by the State of South Carolina, during the War between the States, from 1861 to 1865, who were in the Confederate States Army, or of the State Troops, or the Militia, of South Carolina, for a Regiment commanded by Colonel A. D. Goodwin, that was made up under a call for the old men over fifty and boys over sixteen years of age and placed in the service in the Summer of 1864.

If you can find any record of such a Regiment, was it mustered into the service of the Confederate States, or was it mustered into the service of the State of South Carolina, as a part of the State Troops or Militia?

Also, ascertain if there was a Company in such Regiment, commanded by Captain Pooser, and see if there is such a name on that roll as James B. Heyward, and give dates of his enlistment and discharge, if shown, the letter of the Company, number of the Regiment, and, especially, state whether the Regiment was of the C. S. A., or the State Troops, or Militia, of South Carolina, and the name of the Colonel thereof.

It will be the pleasure of this Department to reciprocate this favor at any time. If there should be any charge for complying with this request, please advise, and the same will be paid.

Yours very respectfully,

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS.

Dear Sir:-

Replying to yours of recent date I will say that Col. A. D. Goodwin commanded a regiment of State Militia for a short while during the War between the States. The records of all State Troops were destroyed when Sherman burned the State House in 1865. The only way for Mr. Heyward to do will be to find witnesses of his service.

We know that W. J. Hicks and M. S. Hicks were married before the war and we are informed that the marriage record now of file in the Ordinary's Office does not show their marriage, same of which records having been destroyed. We often visited Mr. Hicks and Mrs. Hicks in his lifetime and M. S. Hicks since his death. Mrs. M. S. Hicks lives now at the same place where she and W. J. Hicks have lived ever since we can remember.
