No widow is entitled unless she was the wife of the soldier during the war, and has never remarried.

The law does not provide for any one living out of the State of Georgia, or who did not live in the State at the date of the Act.

The facts to establish a claim must be substantiated by the testimony of three witnesses who personally knew of the enlistment of the husband and his death and the immediate cause of the death.

Widows who have married since the service of their husbands in the army are not entitled.

There is no need of employing a lawyer or other agent to attend to these claims. The Department will furnish full and specific instructions, and give ample opportunity to every claimant.

If witnesses live in another County from that wherein applicant resides, they must go before the Ordinary and testify. The attestation of a Justice of the Peace or Notary will not answer.

Fill out Power of Attorney authorizing some one who can call at Treasurer's office in Atlanta and receive the money, to receipt for same.

Fill out the "directions" below Power of Attorney, so that your Agent will know where and how to send the money.

By order of the Governor.

Col. J. S. Lindsey,
Pen. Commissioner,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:-

I herewith hand you an answer of J. M. McElreath sworn to on Dec. 26th, 1912 to the writ sent him by the Ordinary of Douglas County. Mr. McElreath went to Alabama on a visit to his daughter who has been very sick for sometime, and it was impossible to get this answer back to you before now. You will see it is properly attested and sworn to.

It seems to me, Col. Lindsey from this statement of Mr. McElreath and the free and frank manner with which he makes this statement, and knowing him to be a truthful man ever since his boyhood and this paper being in accordance with what has always been understood by members of his company that ~~was~~ is the truth. If it is the truth, then he is entitled to his pension, and you know how these Federal officers did the soldiers, when they had then under their control. I think that Mr. McElreath's statement is the whole one and should be credited, and the further fact that Mr. McElreath was never able for service, being on crutches, until long after the war, and was always been an honorable man and a brave soldier and a good citizen. I think that you should on ~~the~~ filing of this answer ~~restate~~ Mr. McElreath on the roll of pensions and I feel justified in saying that those who have been keeping themselves about this matter of pension of Mr. McElreath at Knoxville, have never smelled gun-powder since their outfit crossed them for the first.

Very truly, Your Friend,

J. S. James

W. J. Waldrup
Clerk of the Circuit Court for Jefferson County, Alabama.

GEORGIA, DOUGLAS COUNTY:

Personally came before me, the undersigned, J. M. McElreath, and on oath says that it is untrue that deponent deserted the Confederate army. Deponent was sent to the improvised hospital, by the physician, or army sergeant of his regiment, 1st, Georgia, on account of being unable to serve. This improvised hospital was some where near Marietta, Georgia, the deponent cannot now say, and the army kept falling back, and he was captured by the Federal troops, although he was a mere skeleton an unable to do any service, was sent back North with the intention of imprisoning him. His health was extremely bad and he was permitted to go out into the Country away from the prison, deponent supposed the authorities expected him to die, but he did not.

Deponent was never able to serve any more in the army, and was unable to get home, on account of his feeble condition, that he had no money, and no friends on whom he could rely. He was among strangers, and it would have been fruitless for him to have tried to come home. He remained several months after the war, and sent for means for him come home. It is positively untrue that he deserted his regiment or Company. He served his country faithfully, as long as he was able physically to do so.
The facts stated in his original application are true, as sworn to by himself and the witness thereto attached, and he hereby refers to said application and affidavit of the witness.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this the 1st day of January, 1910.

J. M. McElreath
J. A. Walden

I, do certify, that J. M. McElreath who makes the foregoing affidavit, is a good citizen, truthful, reliable, and his statement can be relied on as true and correct; and whatever he swears may be relied upon as the truth. Given under my hand, and seal of this office attached.

J. A. Walden
Ordinary

State of Alabama,

Jefferson County.

Personally came before me, J. M. McRae, who after being duly sworn says that he is on a visit to his daughter in Birmingham, Ala., having come to this place a few days ago. Deponent says that he is the same person who resides in Douglas County, Ga., and is drawing a pension as an Ex-Confederate soldier of that County. Deponent further says in answer to a certain charge made against him before the Hon. J. A. Lindsey, Pension Commissioner of Georgia about taking the oath of allegiance to the United States Government. Deponent says that he volunteered in the army, when he was a young boy. He fought for the cause of the South from the time he entered the service until he was wounded, and while on crutches from the effects of two wounds that he had received he was captured by the Federal troops, where he was trying to break out of the way, and was carried to Louisville, Ky. His wounds became much more inflamed and with a number of other wounded Confederate soldiers, he was informed by the Federal authorities of that place, that all the wounded soldiers who were disabled for service as soldiers, and who had looked like they were permanently injured, would be paroled and would have to take an oath that they would not take up arms against the United States, until they were notified about their exchange. There were quite a number of them, and they were marched in, most of them on crutches like deponent, and were told to sign a certain blank that was handed out at a window as they marched through, and each of them signed it. Deponent says that he thought that he was signing an affidavit to not take up arms against the United States unless he was exchanged and was notified. Deponent says that they were required at that time to go to Indiana across the river; that none of the exchanged soldiers were allowed to return south at that time. Deponent remained in that section on his crutches, unable to do anything anywhere. His wounds were severe and he went on crutches until the war was ended and has never been able to, from that time to render service as a soldier. Deponent has always been true to the Southern cause. He stood by it and fought for it to the end, and had he ever been able to rejoin the army again, he would have done so, and no person is more loyal to the cause of the Confederate army than deponent. He cannot be made to believe that he signed an oath to never take up arms against the United States, and it was his full intention all the time to do so, when he got able to, and was exchanged. There may be other cases, and doubtless were, if such was the affidavit he signed which he does not believe, in which Ex-Confederate soldiers were or wounded men, like deponent, and if they did, it was a fraud and deception on the part of those who were taking the oath. No explanation was made to deponent, or the others in his presence at the time, except that they were signing an oath to be paroled on account of their wounded condition. They were marched in by a set of ruffians who treated them worse than if they had been nigger slaves, and no explanation was made except to present them with a paper, sign it, and get away, and he stated that all who signed it at the same time, were informed that they were being paroled.

Sworn to and subscribed before me,

This December 26 1912.

In Re:

The matter of Pension of J. M. McIlwreath, and the rules of the Hon. John W. Lindsey, Pension Commissioner of Georgia, in reference to the same.

And now comes J. M. McIlwreath of Douglas County, Georgia and excepts to the ruling of the Pension Commissioner in striking his name from the roll of pensioners of Douglas County and prays for a review of said ruling of the Commissioner by the Hon. Joseph M. Brown, Governor of said State as provided by law, especially in section 1461 of Volume 2 of the Code of the State of Georgia of 1910.

APPELLANT sets forth the following facts in relation to the same as they appear before the Pension Commissioner:

That Appellant volunteered in Company K of the 41st Georgia Regiment Infantry in 1862, when he was a boy of about sixteen years of age and he fought in said Company until he was wounded severely and permanently and as stated in his application for pension: That he was sent home on a furlough and captured by the enemy and carried to Louisville, Ky., while he was hardly able ~~to~~ go without crutches on account of his wounds. He was held there in prison for some time hardly able to sit up on account of the severity of his wounds. Appellant and a number of others were held in a place in Louisville, Ky., that was hardly fit for a stable and one day a Yankee officer and a squad of men came to the little old hut in which they were kept and said to the men, who were all disabled and wounded, and could not get about, that they would be paroled on account of their wounded condition. They were carried to some officer's place and told to sign a paper that would parole them.
They each signed it and were sent across the river without a cent and among strangers and Appellant with running sores from the wounds inflicted. He was unable to get away from the place until long after the war. He did not know that it was claimed that he was making an affidavit of allegiance to the Government of the United States. Had he known that such was the case, he would have died before he signed it, if he did so sign it. The paper was not read to him nor any of the other men, and they were treated as if they were not human beings and told to sign the paper without asking any questions. The facts attending his signing the paper at Louisville, Ky., at the time specified is set out in an affidavit and statement made by Appellant which is in the hands of the Hon. John W. Lindsey, Commissioner of Pensions, on file with his application for pension.

APPELLANT says that there was some kind of a charge made once before against him since he has been drawing a pension and the charges dismissed, and he was placed on the pension roll by the Hon. John W.
Lindsey, Pension Commissioner.

WHEREFORE, APPELLANT presents this, his appeal from the ruling of the Pension Commissioner aforesaid and prays that the Governor will investigate the ruling of the said Pension Commissioner and reinstate Appellant.

He prays that the Commissioner will certify and send to the Governor all the papers connected with his pension, the application and proof of the same and his answer or affidavit to the alleged oath taken by Appellant at Louisville, Ky., and that said Pension Commissioner will transmit all of the papers of said appeal case to the Governor of the State under his hand and seal, and that such proceedings be had therein as will be according to law.

APPELLANT says that the Commissioner erred in striking his name from the list of pensioners in Douglas County.

Let:- Because he had once had the questions investigated on charges made against him, which charges had been dismissed and Appellant sustained and permitted to remain on the roll of pensioners as above stated, and this having been done, that no further charges could be made against him by any person or persons as to his eligibility as a pensioner.

Encl:- That it is known to the Pension Commissioner that Mr. J. T. Pilgrim who made the second charge against Appellant, is unworthy of belief, having been convicted in the United States Circuit Court of Atlanta, Ga., for the offense of counterfeiting the coin of the United States and is a bad man of bad character outside of this and is not worthy to be believed and any attack that he has made has been shown before the Commissioner to come from an unworthy source, by men of high standing in the churches of the country and officers of the state.

Encl:- That Appellant should not be stricken from the roll, under the evidence before the Commissioner but that Appellant should remain on the pension list as he has done heretofore.

Appellant further prays that he may be allowed, if the Government should see that other evidence is necessary, to produce evidence before the Governor, as to his loyalty as a soldier and citizen of the Confederacy.

Respectfully submitted,

In re appeal of James M.
McElmuth from decision of the Commission of Pensions - the matter of a pension.

After careful examination into the record and other papers in this case I am constrained to sustain the decision of the Commission of Pensions.

Taking the oath of allegiance to a hostile government, and not constituting desertion; and the official records show that the appellant in this case took the oath of allegiance to the United States.

I like the Commission of Pensions, and bound by the law in this case; but there is nothing in the way of an appeal to the legislation by appellant for pension, with such proof as he can adduce as to his intention, as will prove his fidelity to the cause of the South.

GEORGIA, COCS COUNTY:

Personally came before me J. B. Humphries, who after being duly sworn, says on oath, that he is personally acquainted with J. M. McKilreath, who lives at Douglasville, Georgia. That dependent and said McKilreath were in the same Company, Company "K" of the 41st, Georgia Regiment in the war, and was carried away to prison, and when he got up to the prison, he was so feeble, he was unable to be taken care of, and was sent out to a home some distance from the prison, and remained there. He did ^{not} take the oath of allegiance to the United States Government. He returned home some months after the war, but still in a very feeble condition, and of my knowledge of his condition and of his wounds, he was never able to serve any more during the war. I know positively that he did not desert and leave the army. I make this affidavit, because of justice to Mr. McKilreath, as I understand some person has stated that he deserted.. I positively know that he was examined by a physician, and was directed to go to the improvised hospital, and it was stated to him, that as soon as he got able that a furlough would be given him, so that he could go home. I know that he could not do any service, and was never able to make a soldier and perform the duties after the time aforesaid. He made a good and brave soldier as long as he was able, but after receiving the wounds, and being otherwise afflicted he could not serve any longer.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, and ^{was} "Not" entertained Personally appeared before me the undersigned, Hiram Bots, C. P. Bourn and St. S. Lefornish who each being sworn in the matter of the application of Mrs Elizabeth Mayonick for pension depose and say as follows:

Lefornish Hiram Bots says that he was well acquainted with the applicant's husband W. A. Mayonick from about the year 1863 and that prior to the time the said W. A. Mayonick entered the Confederate Army he was a strong able-bodied vigorous man in perfect health. Lefornish further says that at all times after the war until his death his health was bad and was during that time he had dropsy which disease finally caused his death. In Lefornish's judgment his death was the result of the disease (dropsy) which was contracted during his service in the army.

Lefornish C. P. Bourn say, he was well acquainted with the deceased W. A. Mayonick from about the year 1863 until his death. He further says that prior to the time the deceased entered the army, he was an able-bodied healthy man and apparently without any disease.

Lefornish further says that after the said W. A. Mayonick returned from the army he never appeared well.

of dropsy and that he had that disease, his hands and limbs being swollen and worn his body at times. He was never well of the disease after his discharge from the army until his death and deponent's opinion is that his disease was the result of the service, because he was a well man prior to his entering the army and was never free from the disease afterwards. Deponent's wife says in addition to the oath already taken in this matter that he knew the deceased since 1857 to the time of his death having nearly all the time within a mile or so of the deceased, that prior to his entering the army he was an able-bodied man without disease of any sort and that after his return from the army he was never well, but was afflicted with dropsy with which disease he suffered until his death. This disease deponent truly believes was contracted by him during his service in the Confederate army and he was never afterwards free from it and was apparently the direct cause of his death. Deponent has frequently during the time since he returned from the army heard him complain of the disease and his appearance indicated the disease his hands, limbs and body being swollen so as to be readily seen when in contact or casual contact with him. In the opinion of deponent this disease (dropsy) was the cause of his death.
