that she is the legitimate Amanda Reuben

Exponent says that the confusion between the statements of Reuben and Jerry in application and Cunningham and Stoutman in Amended Application, arise from the fact, that the former testifies to the soldier service in the U.S.A at the close of the war and the latter testifies to his service in State Troops at the commencement of the war. And this varying accounts for Applicant's statement as to the time of her husband's discharge. She bears her application upon for Pension on both grounds. } Amanda <sup>her</sup> Mathis

NOTE FROM AN EX-CONFEDERATE

Hopewell, Ga., 1

August 9, 1902.

EDITOR COURIER:—To-day 40 years ago I participated in the Cedar Mountain battle. I notice in the pencilographs in this week's COURIER that only three or four men from Page who took part in that battle are now living. I was a member of Co. H, 33d Va. Regiment. After that battle Stonewall Jackson, with his army, marched around Pope's army, and we fought Pope the 28th, 29th and 30th of August at Manassas. I was wounded on the 30th in a charge to save our battery. I would like to know if there is a man living in Page by the name of Daniel Abbott? He was a member of my company, and helped me from the battlefield to the field hospital. I often think of Dan. Our ambulance corps were all killed or wounded, so I asked Mr. Abbott to help me to the rear. If any of the readers of THE COURIER can give me any information as to where Mr. Abbott is I will appreciate it. I thought this might be interesting to my old comrades of Page.

FROM AN OLD EX-CON. FED.

Hopewell, Ga., Sept. 1, 1902.

EDITOR PAGE COURIER:—I want to thank Mr. L. H. Printz for the list of members of Co. H, 33rd Va. Volunteers, and will add a few that he omitted:

A. C. Huffman,

R. Y. Coffman,

— Dawson,

Gideon Long, (who was probably killed at Gettysburg),

Jas. Bailey, (killed at Manassas)

Joe Decker, " 2nd

Thomas Decker,

James Presgrave.

As far as I can remember, this about completes the list. I appreciate seeing this list of old Co. H as I had forgotten many of their names. I would love to hear from all the Page 'boys,' especially the boys I fought with on so many battle fields. As I read over the list there were some amusing things I thought of, one of which I will mention here: Lieutenant Chadduck at night, some times, after roll call, would get Lewis Christman and Jas. Conner to quarrel in Dutch. Well, it was laughable to us who didn't know a word of Dutch.

Since seeing the list kindly furnished THE COURIER by Mr. Printz and finding that so many of the old 'boys' are still living in Page, it truly makes me glad. I am sorry to learn that Mr. Dan Abbott met such a death.

THE COURIER is looked for each week, and appreciated for the great amount of home news it contains every week.

NOTES.

In order to avoid unnecessary delay to applicants, and to enable all parties interested to understand the laws granting allowances to disabled soldiers, as well as the rules adopted by the Government regarding the payment, provided, the following suggestions are submitted:

1. The application should be made by the applicant, or by a person authorized by him to make the same, and the description of the wound should be carefully and fully set forth by affidavit and sworn to by the applicant, or by the person so authorized, and the certificate of the physician should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service, and the history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.

2. The application should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service, and the history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.

3. It will not answer to say that an arm is "substantially useless for ordinary purposes of life, etc." There is no qualification to the clause of the Act in reference to the arm or leg, but the limb must for all purposes be "substantially and essentially useless."

4. If the applicant is a soldier, he should state to be a fair construction of the Act, and the words above quoted, to say that unless the injury is such as to require the constant use of crutch or stick, that the leg is not "substantially and essentially useless."

5. All papers are returned for correction, and amendments are added to any of the affidavits, the amount being duly sworn to.

6. Every application must be certified by the Ordinary of the county of the residence of the applicant. The certificate of any other will not be received in any case.

7. The application should be made by the applicant, or by a person authorized by him to make the same, and the description of the wound should be carefully and fully set forth by affidavit and sworn to by the applicant, or by the person so authorized, and the certificate of the physician should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service, and the history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.

NOTES.

In order to avoid unnecessary delays to applicants, and to enable all parties interested to understand the laws granting allowances to disabled soldiers, as well as the rules adopted by the Governor touching the payments provided, the following suggestions are submitted:

1. If an applicant has been wounded, the description of the wound should be carefully and fully set forth by applicant and physician, and followed by a plain statement of facts showing the extent of the disability. If applicant claims disability from disease contracted in the service, a full and carefully stated history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.

2. The law makes no allowance for an arm or leg, unless the arm or leg has been rendered substantially and essentially useless.

3. It will not answer to say that an arm is "substantially useless for ordinary pursuits of life, etc." There is no qualification to the clause of the Act in reference to the arm or leg, but the limb must for all purposes be "substantially and essentially useless."

4. If the application is for a wounded leg, it would seem to be a fair construction of the Act, and the words above quoted, to say that unless the injury is such as to require the constant use of crutch or stick, that the leg is not "substantially and essentially useless."

5. If papers are returned for correction, and amendments are added to any of the affidavits, the amendments must be made under oath before an officer, and the proofs must show that the amendments have been duly sworn to.

6. Every application must be certified by the Ordinary of the county of the residence of the applicant. The certificate of any other will not be received in any case.

The Ordinaries of the several counties are specially requested to call the attention of the physicians and applicants to these points.

NOTES.

In order to avoid unnecessary delays to applicants, and to enable all parties interested to understand the laws granting allowances to disabled soldiers as well as a summary of the law, the following suggestions are submitted:

1. If an applicant has been wounded, the description of the wound should be carefully and fully set forth by applicant and physician, and followed by a plain statement of facts showing the extent of the disability. If applicant claims disability from disease contracted while in the service, a full and carefully stated history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability to its source.
2. The law makes no allowance for an arm or leg, unless the arm or leg has been rendered substantially and essentially useless.
3. It will not answer to say that an arm is "substantially useless for ordinary pursuits of life, etc." There is no qualification to the clause of the Act in reference to the arm or leg, but the limb must for all purposes be "substantially and essentially useless."
4. If the papers are returned for correction and amendments are added to any of the statements, the applicant must appear in person before an officer, and the proofs must show that the amendments have been duly made.
5. Every application must be certified by the Ordinary of the county of the residence of the applicant. The certificate of any other will not be received in any case.
6. The Ordinaries of the several counties are specially requested to call the attention of the physicians and applicants to these points.
7. No payments can be made for any past year.

Clerk Ex. Dep't.

NOTES

In order to avoid unnecessary delays to applicants, and to enable all parties interested to understand the laws granting allowances to disabled soldiers, as well as the rules adopted by the Governor touching the payments provided, the following suggestions are submitted:

1. If an applicant has been paid for the service, the following suggestions are submitted:
a. The certificate of disability should be given only if the applicant is substantially and essentially disabled and fully set forth by applicant and physician, and followed by a plain statement of facts showing the extent of the disability. If applicant claims disability from disease contracted in the service, a full and carefully stated history of the disease should be given, tracing the disability by positive proofs to the service.
2. The law makes no allowance for an arm or leg, unless the arm or leg has been rendered substantially and essentially useless.
3. It will not answer to say that an arm is "substantially useless for ordinary pursuits of life, etc." There is no qualification to the clause of the Act in reference to the arm or leg, but the limb must for all purposes be "substantially and essentially" useless.
4. If the papers are returned for correction and amendments are added to any of the affidavits, the amendments must be made under oath before an officer, and the proofs must show that the amendments have been duly sworn to.
5. Every application must be certified by the Ordinary of the county of the residence of the applicant. The certificate of the Ordinary will not be received in any case.
6. The Ordinaries of the several counties are specially requested to call the attention of the physicians and applicants to these points.
7. No payments can be made for any past year.
