State of Georgia Personally appeared before me, the Clerk of the County, undersigned Ordinary of said County, C. W. Jones J. S. Everett and L. E. Glaser who and each of whom being severally sworn according to law, say under oath, that they are neighbors of and personally acquainted with M. L. Connor, whose application is known to presented for a pension, that a fair and just appraisement of all the property and effects of said M. L. Connor would not amount to more than $100.00 dollars, and that he has no income.

That we live so near to, and are so intimately acquainted with his property, effects and business, that we absolutely know these statements to be true. That the applicants occupation has always been farming, so long as he was able to work, but that his physical condition is such that he is unable to support himself by or at labor of any sort. That during the years 1895 & 1896 he was supported by disposing of part of his property, and the help of his neighbors, and not by his own labor to an extent worth considering so as to be appraised, and that his physical condition is worse now than then, so that now he is entirely unable to contribute any part to his support by any sort of labor. He is weak, nervous, emaciated and dyspeptic, but the worst of all is the condition of his legs, each of which is greatly inflamed, and swollen to twice the natural size. One of them has a running sore. And the veins in both are greatly enlarged, and knotted, and burst producing varicose veins, from which he suffers much pain, and the external appearance of which would indicate that he was not able to walk on his legs.
These knots are extending to the thighs, and his general condition grows worse. The knots in the veins are numerous on both legs, and as large as marbles. He is not able in justice to himself to do any thing whatever.

(1024)

We have no interest in the recovery of a pension by this applicant.
