At a General Meeting of the Surtees Society, held in Durham Castle on Tuesday, June 5th, 1883, Mr. Booth in the chair— it was

RESOLVED, That a fifth volume of YORK WILLS should be edited for the Society by the Secretary.

PREFACE.

AFTER an interval of nineteen years, the Surtees Society issues a fifth volume of Wills and Inventories from the Registry at York. Four of these have been prepared by the Editor. There is ample room for others, and it is to be hoped that the series will be continued. No publications of the Society create a greater interest, and none are so widely and carefully studied.

In these five volumes more than a thousand Wills and Inventories have been printed, either in their entirety or to a very considerable extent. In the opinion of some, a large portion of each Will ought to be published. The resources of the Surtees Society are quite unable to satisfy this demand. Few persons have any idea of the vast number of Wills preserved at York, and it has been thought best to give a selection from these documents, which it would be impossible for any Society to print in extenso.

In addition to the Wills and Inventories printed by the Society, the Editor has made extracts from some thousands of similar documents from the same repository, containing matter which is more or less deserving of consideration. All matters of local or gentilitial history, all things illustrative of learning, religion, architecture, and commerce, have been carefully extracted, together with all the curious words which throw so much light upon the old Northern English. It may be thought desirable to publish these notes on some future occasion. They are well worthy of being brought out in this way.

A printed index of the Wills at York would be a great boon to literary enquirers, and of much service to the officers of the Registry. It is to be hoped that some means may be discovered of carrying at least a portion of this scheme into effect.

The Editor begs to thank his old friend, Mr. Hudson, for his kindness, as in by-past years. The mantle of Registrar, so long and worthily worn by Mr. Egerton Harcourt, has very properly been placed upon Mr. Hudson's shoulders. May he long wear it!

J. RAINE.

* A few notices of the family of Copley of Batley may be of value. In vol. iv. pp. 46-50 are the wills of the testator's grandfather and uncle.

Lionel Copley, the testator's father, according to the Visit<sup>n</sup> of 1584, married Joan dau. John Thwaites of Lofthouse; or, according to Mr. Hunter, Jane d. Thos. Thwaites of Denton (South Yorkshire, i. 51). On May 26, 1508, the will of Lionel Copley of Batley, esq., was proved (not copied) at York, and adm. was granted to Henry Copley, his ex<sup>r</sup>. (Reg. Test. vii. 37 a.)

The testator married Agnes, dau. of Sir Geoffrey Pigot of Clotherham near Ripon, and she and her children are mentioned in the wills of her mother (Test. Ebor. iv. 6) and of her brother (Ibid. 213). The testator made a feoffment of his estates on Dec. 20, 1st Hen. VIII., which is appended to his will. The feoffees were "Thomas Wortlay knyght, John Norton th'elder, knyght, John Norton the yonger, esquier, Herry Vavasar of Hesilwod, Thomas Lynlay of Lynlay, Thomas Sothill, Christofer Eltoftes of Rishworth & Herry Seyvell esquieres, & Richard Copley and Robert Herrison gentilmen." The directions are already specified in the will.

XII. THE WILL OF SIR JOHN GILLIOT, KNT., ALDERMAN OF YORK.

[Reg. Test. viii. 32 b et seqq.]

Dec. 28, 1509. John Gilliot,* knyght & alderman of the citie of York. I bequeth & commend my saule to Almyghty God my Saviour, and to the prayers of the glorious Virgyn Saynt Mary His modir, Sainct John Baptist, an all holy Seyntes, Apostylles, Martirs, Confessours, & Virgyns, to pray for me. And I bequeth my body to be buried in a chapell of * A will abounding with good and charitable gifts, which will be read with pleasure.

The testator was a most distinguished citizen of York. He was son and heir of John Gilliot, Lord Mayor in 1464 and 1474, and became Chamberlain of the city in 1482; Sheriff in 1484-5; on May 22, 1487, he was elected Alderman; M.P. for the city Oct. 1487, and Lord Mayor in 1490 and 1503. In 1500-1 he received the very high honor of being created a Knight of the Bath; and in July 1503 he took a conspicuous part in entertaining the Princess Margaret when she passed through York on her way to Scotland to join her royal husband, King James IV.

In 1485 and 1486 and in 1500-1 Sir John was Master of the Merchants' Company; on Jan. 15, 1488, he founded an obit in the church of St. Leonard's Hospital, and it is plain to see from his will and other evidences that he was the most conspicuous person in York of his time.

His first wife was a lady whose Christian name was Catherine; his second was Maude, dau. of Sir Henry Vavasour of Haslewood.

Sir John Gilliot does not lie beside his father in his own parish church, but in the neighbouring church of St. Saviour, to which he was a noble benefactor. His last will is given at full length, and is a striking picture of the man, his religious feelings and life.

The inquisition after his death was taken on October 2, 1510, from which it appears that he died on February 22 previous, seized of lands in Bishophthorpe, Fulford, Towthorpe, Yapham, Meltonby, and Kelfield, and that Wm. Gilliot was his son and heir, being of the age of twenty-one.

Sir John's father, John Gilliot, merchant, was free of the city in 1439; Chamberlain in 1446; Sheriff in 1452-3; Lord Mayor 1464 and 1474. In 1442 he was adm. into the Merchants' Guild on a payment of 30s., of which confraternity he became the Master in 1459-60, and 1476. On December 30, 1474, whilst he was Mayor, Archbishop Lawrence Booth allowed him to have a private oratory in his house. (Reg. L. Booth, 167.)

John Gilliot mar. Joan dau. of John Lancaster. Will d. 17th pr. 27th Sept. 1480. To be bur. in the high choir of his par. church of All Saints on the Pavement.

* There was a succession of organ-builders of York from early times.

'John Gyse, organe maker,' free of the city, 10th Hen. VI.

'Wm Nyvell, organ maker,' free, 1446-7.

In 1463-4 John Roos, frater Ordinis Prædicatorum, took up the freedom of the city of York as an 'organista.' Previous to this, in 1467-8, he is mentioned as repairing some organs in the Minster. (Fabric Rolls, 71.)

In the 17th of Edward IV. Wm. Hall 'orgen maker alias mercator,' & Edward Boyse 'orgen maker,' were free of the city.

The testator, as 'Moras Biran, organ,' was free in 1485-6; & John Hugh as 'organ-maker' 1488-9.

'Jacobus Demps, organ maker,' free 1526-7.

'Guillelmus Treasurer, organ maker,' free 1540-1.

John Heweson, parish-clerk, son of John H, organ maker, free 1545-6.

How many other cities can show, like York, a list of freemen from 1272 to the present day? In this list any person who practised within St. Peter's Liberty would not necessarily appear.

On August 18, 1494, he was coll. to the prebend of Norwell at Southwell, which he resigned in 1507, receiving a yearly pension of 40*l*. On August 25, 1499, he was coll. to a prebend at St. Andrew's altar, Beverley, which he resigned in 1502-3, receiving from it a similar pension.

In 1477 and 1478, etc., he was prebendary of Stow Longa and Leighton Manor at Lincoln. [Le Neve, ii. 177, 214.]

On February 27, 1481-2, Archbishop Rotherham granted an indulgence of 40 days "cunctis presbyteris qui Missas in capella ædificata in honorem Jhesu Salvatoris infra ecclesiam S. Andree de Wych, dioc. Worcester, celebraverint, et ceteris qui audierint, et ibidem Orationem Dominicam cum Salutatione Angelica pro animabus Henrici Carnebull ac Thomæ Warker ac parentum dicentibus, et conferentibus ad fabricam."

The adoration of the Sacred Name filled a conspicuous part in Carnbull's devotions and in those of his master. Carnbull was ordained deacon at York on May 20, 1486, and priest on June 13, 1489—late in life.

[Pr. 3 May, 1514.]

* A parish-clerk in Hull who had come from York. The mention of his music books and claricords is curious.

The wedding church porch or door is often mentioned in old Wills. The greater part of the marriage-ceremony took place near the western door. The Wife of Bath says:

“Husbondes at chirche dore have I had five.”

At York the parish-clerks constituted one of the guilds of the city.

And to sex pore men that can say our Lady's Psalter & holde a torche, and Dirige and Messe, every of theym ij d. and his dynner, & to the torches of was for vj lyghtes duryng the servyce that day, ijs.: and to every prest iiij d.: to the clarke iiij d.; the underclarke ij d.; to the bellman all his dewties of the kyrke, & to all other clarkes that kepes daly ther where ij d.: and, to all oder, pence, that do any servyce in the kyrk and can say the vij Psalmes and Latyne, and so to say it and have j d. And to every lymtyor of the iiij Orders of Freers for a Sall Messe in theyr places, to be done to theyr brederen, xx d. to every place. And to the gilde of Saynt Christofer in Yorke for a Messe xx d. And to the ancers at Saynt John's, for hir prayer, iij s. iiij d. And to our Lady's gyld at Boston all the arerege dewe therunto both for me and for my wyffe: our entre therto was in the yere off our Lorde God m<sup>l</sup>ccccc xij; and I to have a Salle Messe done at there Scala Cœli. And for pilgrameges nott done, I bequeth to pavement in Northgatte in Wakefelde vj s. viij d.; and iij s. iiij d. wher itt is moost nede, by the discrecion of Sir William Joys preste, to ament a fowll holle abowt the brige. And all thies parcelles above written, I desier my wyffe to be performed and delivered, as shortly after my buryall as canne be conveniently made, by the oversight of John Anne, supervisour of this my last will. Also I will that a stone be laid upon my grave within a yere; and, if they make an ymege of Saynt Nicolesse in the parish church, then I assigne therto iij s. iiij d., and requier them to gyve the old to Saynt John kyrke. Also I bequeth to the gildyng of Saynt John, now newe made in the kyrke of Saynt John in Wakefelde, vj s. viij d.

Also all such dewtyes as I, the said Richard Peke, gyves with my handes, or oppenly bydes gyve theym, to stand ferme and stabill, or ells nott but by the discrecion and mynde of my supervisour and Elesabeth my wyffe, whom I signe to pay to William Pallmer and Margarette his wyffe iiij markes in money, or elles in suche convenient pennyworth as they will taik for the said money, iff any theroff be owyng at the day of my buriall; which dewtie I agrede to give to them when I lay seke and att the mercy off God, att the instances and myndes of Master Thomas Knolles subdeane of the cath. church of Yorke, of John Anne of Frikeley esquier my fader in lawe, and John Peke my sone, Thomas Grene, & Sir Robert Skelton prest, whiche Sir Robert Skelton wrott the said agreement & will of me the said Richard Peke for my iij doghters, for Margaret Palmer liij s. iiij d. which hir husband & she wer fully agrede to for hir full parte . . . & they agreid to receyve the said liij s. iiij d. and to make aquytance generall to me & my executors for hir childe's parte for ever. And, in lyke maner, and afor the said subdeane, withall thies oder gentillmen, I, the said Richard Peke, agrede to gyve to Anne Bolles, my doghter, for hir parte, fyve markes in full contentacion theroff, and . . . to Henry Brodeley & Isabell his wiff, my doghter, vj li. xiiij s. iiij d: . . . moreover, the said Henry Brodeley is agrede to make a sure & sufficient surrender in the court of Wakefelde of and in the howses sam (sic) beldede wherin he now dwellethe, next adjoynyng to the kynge's bakhows, to Isabell his wyff for terme of hir lyff, and to the heyres betwixt theym begotten, for ever. And that my prest immediatly and furthwith after my decesse & buryall say a trental of Messes for me. And the prest, which by the grace of God shall happe to ministre to me the Sacrement with the suffrage, to have xij d. And, ferthermore, by good deliberacion and free mynde, I assigne and gyve to John Peke, my sone, all my cottes of fence of manse body which I have to doo the kynge's servyce withall; and, in lyke wysse, he to leyve them to hys heyres, with my bowes and arrowssse whiche I have as yett, except one cotte covered with chalkede fustian of Henry Brodley's, yt to be delivered to hym. Also I gyve to the said John Peke my best dublett with my long rydyng knyffe, with my booke, one borddede, and ij off Lawe, the Statutes, with the booke of my fermys. Also I gyve to myn unkell, Robert Peke, if he survyve me, a dublett of bukseyns, a jackett, hoos, shoos, and bonnett; and I desyer John Pek for hym. And I gyve to every one of my manecall servantes, that tyme dwellyng w<sup>t</sup> mie in howse, ther wages, trewly to be contentede, and every one of theym xij d. in rewarde: and every God childe that I have iiij d.; and to Briane Brounhede one of the iij jackettes. And as yett I, the said Richard Peke, cannott fynnshe this perfytely after my mynde, for by cawse of such persones as ar frome home, and of such dewties as is awyng to me, and allso that I owe; but yff awght shuld come to me, the said Richarde Peke, nowe in good mynd and free will, desyers and assignes Elesabeth my wyffe to be myn holl executrice of this my last Will, to content and pay all the parcelles above wrytten conteyned in this my last Will. And to the said Elesabeth, my wiffe, I gyve all my goodes, both w'in my howse and w'owt my howse, corne, hay, and pasture dewe to me by way of agrement, worde, or jugementt, or oder ways as det to me att this day, or herafter may growe or come to me by any means or ways of truthe. And I, the said Richard Peke, fynyshes this my last Will, and to have this wrytten and fynishede after the tenour and effecte of this written with myn own handes. And Elesabeth my wyffe I make my holle executrice of all my goodes, as ys above said, frely, without any accomptes. And, ferthermor, I specially and faithfully desyers Maister Thomas Knolles, our curate, and subdeane of the cath. church of Yorke, and John Anne, hir fader, to gyve to hir ther best mynde and counsell, and to se that she be nott wrongede. And to thos parcelles, gyven and assigned as heyrelomes afor them, and wrytten by Sir Robert Skelton to be as heyrlomes, and no moo, w'owt she gyve ytt on hir good will and mynd without vexacion or trowble of the said John Peke as he will have my perpetuall blyssyng, and no ferder to mell nor hurtt hir: and he to labour for my moder goodes, who hadd all the heyrlomes, and as yett I never hade none of theym. And, ferther, I charch hym nott to mell with any of my goodes. In witnes wheroffe, I, the said Richarde Peke, wrott and fynyshe the tenour and effect of this my last Will with myn owne handes, the day & yere above saide. Thies beyng witnesses John Peke gentillman, Sir Robert Skelton preste, and Thomas Bayly, with many oder moo.

LXXV. THE WILL OF SIR MARMADUKE CONSTABLE OF FLAMBRO<sup>s</sup>, KNIGHT.

In Dei nomine, Amen. I Marmaduce Constable, † off Flaynburgh, knyght, holle of body and mynde, the firste day of Maii, * i.e., Sowerby bridge.

† The head of the house of Constable of Flamborough. 'Little Sir Marmaduke' he was called in an old pedigree, but he was great in courage and martial achievements, and a trusted servant of several kings. He was twice married: first, to a daughter of Lord Fitzhugh; second, to Joyce, daughter of Sir Humphrey Stafford of Grafton, by whom he had many children.

In 1513, when 70 years old, Sir Marmaduke had the honour of being joined with Sir Edmund Howard in the command of the third division of the English army at the great battle of Flodden, or Brankston Field. Cf. Athenæ Cantabr. i. 22.

Sir Marmaduke's Will is in itself a very interesting document, but it bein the yere of our Lord God a thowsande five hunderth and xvijth, and of Kyng Henry the viijth the xth yere, makes my testament and last will in maner and forme as hereafter followeth. First I give my soull unto Allmyghty God, and to His blissede moder our Lady Saynt Mary, and to all the Sayntes in hevyn, and my body to be buriede wheresoever it may please God to dispossesse for me; and, for my corps presant, as custom requiers. Also I will that my executores fynd and give exhibicion to one poore preste vij yeres; and that he be chargede to syng and praye for my fader and moder soules, my ij wyffes' soules, and, also, generally, for all Christen sowles, and specyally for all thos soules that I have hurte in body or goodes in any maner wyse, in recompence; and for the wellfare of all my comes still more so if we read it in connection with his epitaph graven on brass and preserved on the north side of the altar in Flambro' church, from which I took it, although it is known from other sources. The letters in italics have been omitted in the original to meet the exigencies of the sculptor, and are indicated on the brass by a short line above the omitted letter. I grieve to say that the famous rood-screen at Flambro' has been removed, and the portions of it which are preserved are appended to the west wall of the church. A fragment of the ancient residence of the Constables is in a field contiguous to the church, and just under the sea-bank. In this a long succession of knights and gentlemen resided, with the roll of the waves of the sea continually in their ears. The very name of Constable is now scarcely known in the place.

I give the most interesting epitaph of the testator:—

Here lieth Marmaduke Cunstable of Flaynborght Knyght
Who made aduentour into France for the right of the same
Passed our with Kyng Edwarde the Fourthe y<sup>t</sup> noble Knight
And also with noble King Herre the Sevynth of that name
He was also at Barwik at the winnyng of the same
And by Kyng Edward chosyn Capteyn there first of any one
And rewlid & gouernid ther his tyme without blame
But for all that as ye se he lieth under this stone.

At Brankiston feld wher the Kyng of Scottys was slayne
He then beyng of the age of thre score and tene
With the gode Duke of Northefolke y<sup>t</sup> journey he hays tain
And coragely auancid hym self emong other ther & then
The King beyng in France with grete number of Ynglesh men
He nothyng hedyng his age ther but jeoperde hym as on
With his sonnes brother saruant and kynnismen
But now as ye se he lyeth under this stone.

But now all thes tryumphes ar passed & set on syde
For all worldly joyes they wull not long endure
They are sounne passed and away dothe glyde
And who that puttith his trust in them I call hym most unsure
For when deth strikith he sparith no creature
Nor geveth no warnyng but takith them by one & one
And now he abydyth Godis mercy & hath no other socure
For as ye se hym here he lieth under this stone.

I pray you my kynsmen louers and frendis all
To pray to oure Lord Jhesu to have marcy of my sowll.

childeren, kynne, and frend that be lyffying. And that he be resident and abydyng styll in Cambrige all the said vij yeres, there to attende his lernyng to be a clerke, and to have every yere viij merkes. Allso I will that if any man comne to my executors and shewe any wrong done to hym by me, or if I have takyn any goodes frome hym or them unlawfully or agaynst conscience, I will that they be recompensede as fere as my goodes will streche. Allso I will that my howse that I purchased in Wighton of one Cartwright, wherein I have enfeoffede my broder nowe deane of Lyncoln, John Walleys of Holme, and oder, bothe of Holme and Wighton, to th'entent to fulfyll my will in that behalfe, be guydede and orderede as I have maid my will afore tymes, and as appereth by indenturs maide and tripartytede; wherof one parte remeyns in the keypyng of the churchmasters of Wighton; anoder part w<sup>t</sup> the churchmasters of Holme; the thirde parte with the Prior of Wartre; and in lyke wyse as it is sett and ordeynede there, I will that it so continewe for ever. Allso I will that the person of Ergham have all his tithes of corne, wolle, and lambe, and allso of all maner catall that goeth upon the grounde there; and allso his closse of xx<sup>ti</sup> acrez, the whiche I assignede to hyme, in recompence of his gleibe londe belongyng to his personage when it was a towne, so that my heyres be not incombrede w<sup>t</sup> the same tithes and gleibe lande as my fader and I have bene. Allso I will that every servyngman in my howse have in rewarde, over and besydes his wages, for his trewe and diligent service done, that is to say, every preste and gentillman xx s., every yoman xiiij s. iiij d., every grome and oder servauntes in my howsholde vj s. viij d. And so I will that my howsholde be kepte still and all my servauntes togedere one yere full after my decesse in my place at Holme, to th'entente that they may have leysor to provyde and see for them selfe. And this to be at my costes and charg, and there wages to be content at ther quarters, lyke as they were in my daies. Allso I will that the churche of Yorke have to ther warkes x s.; the churche of Lincoln to there workes ther x s. Allso I give and bequeathe to my eldyest sone all my beddynges, hyngyng and napry, sheyttes & pillewes in the kytchin, larderhouse, bakehouse, brewhouse, both at Flaynburgh and Holme, the pottes, pannes, speyttes, fattes, leaddes, tubbes, banelles, and other utensylles belongyng the same howsez and the berehowse at Flaynburgh, with the coppre fattes, and all oder vessell belongyng to the same, he to have all this stuffe of my gifte. Allso I give to my sone William, of Hatefelde, xx li. in money or plaite, & all my fermeholdes at Crome, & all my sheipe there goyng. . . . To my broder, Doctor Constable, Deane of Lincoln, my powder box of silver, for a remembrance. To my broder, Sir William Turwhitt, my best gilt goblet w<sup>t</sup> the coveryng, & v<sup>li</sup>. of gold therin, for a remembrance. To my doghter Percy one basyn and eware of sylver, for a remembrance. To my broder, Sir William Constable, my best silver goblett with the coveryng. I make thies to be myn executors, my broder Doctor Constable, my broder William Turwhitt, my sonnes Marmaduce Constable of Everyngham, William Constable of Hatefelde, knyghtes, & my sone John Constable, esquier. To each of my said iij sonnes an hunderth merkes in plaite, & to my sonne John all my sheippe at Tibthorpe, that is to saye, iij hunderth sheipe as they goo upon the grounde; the which grounde I gave unto hym for terme of his lyff afore tyme. To William Hilton, stewerde of my howse, vj li. xiiij s. iij d. in money in rewarde, besyde his wages, for his diligent service done and to be done after my decesse. To Robyn Antony, for his diligent service, x ponde. Allso I will that all the residewe of all my goodes, my will and witt worde fullfyled, and my dettes paid, as corne, catall, sheippe, and nowte, at Flaynburgh, Holme, Erghom, & Bartondail, Somerby, or any oder place both in Yorke shyer and Lincoln shyer, my woolle, plaitt, jewelles, shippes and shyppyng, and all oder good by lande or by see, ungiffen and unbequethed, I will that myn executours and ministers dispossesse for me as I have appoyntede in the last ende of this will, by the syght & oversyght of my said broder. Allso I will that as sone as it shall please God to calle me owt of this transitorye lyffe, and my body colde, than, withowt calling of frendes, or any oder solemnytie, or any oder feast or cerymonie, my said body to be buriede, hadde to the churche, and pute into the erth, as sounne as it conveniently may. Allso I will that upon the day of my buryall, or upon the morne next after that, therbe kyllede of myn iiij beyffes, and allso takyn of my corne vj quarters, wheate or rye; and this foresaide beiffes and corne to be giffyn to the poorest folkes, that is to saye, in Flaynburgh to the nowmbre of iiij<sup>xx</sup> persons and xij, Sewardby xx, Bridlyngton xl persons, Bukton xx, and Benton xx<sup>ti</sup>, that is to say to every poore householder w<sup>t</sup>in the same townes on peise of beiffe, one peke of corne, and j d. in silver. And iff I be buriede at Holme or Sommerby, the foresaid beiffes and corne to be in lyke maner unto v or vj townes next adjoynyng, by the discrecion of myn executors. And for bycause I will ther noo daile be maide nor giffyn for me, callede penny dolle, nor enny almesse delte nor giffen under that maner and forme, I will that every towne and parochie within Dyckeryng, Herthill, and Bucrosse, Owse and Darwent, Howdenshyer, Holdernes, and parte of Lincolnshiere, have both almesse and releiffe as I have appoyntede in viij bylles to this my will and testament annexede; the whiche bylles I wilbe putt in execution as sone as is possible after my deceasse; that is to say to begynne upon the morne next after my deathe, and somme of my trusty servantes of my howsholde, or oder substanciall, trewe men, to ryde furth with the said billes, and to delyver to every towne, paroch church, or chappell, the money to theme so lymytt and assignide in the same billes, and the same billes also; to th'entente to pray for my sowlle, and all Christen sowlles, accordyng to th'entent which appereth in the same billes playnly expressede. And I will that the same intent be playnly shewede and declarede oppenly in every kirke and paroch accordyng. Also I will that one of my most trusty servauntes be sent to all the abbeys, prioris, & nonnreis, lymytete & appoyntede, as well wthin the Northridyng as in the Est, & he to aske theme forgiffnes in my name of all maner of trespase; that I have done to theme in hurtyng ther liberties & fraunchesses, there lyvelode, tennantes, churchez, & howses, as well when I was sheriffe of the shyre, as commissionere in assessyng of aides, benivolence; and oder impositcions by the kynge's commaundement, to the hurt of them, ther lyvelode & tennantes, & also, ther houses: and to give every place, to the convent ther, the money assignede and lymytete in the said billes, desyryng theme in the waye of charitie to forgive me & absolve me in their chapitour house; and also to pray for me, consideryng the sentence and censurs of the churche ar dredefull and many wise unadvisedly a man may fall and trespasse therein, as I fere me that I have done; provided allwais, as is aforesaide, that no dolle be maid nor allmes giffyn at the day of my beryall other wise than I have appoyntede in this my will and testament: and at the daye of making of this my last will and testament I stande furthe off dett, excepte fermes, when dayes commys; and, if any dett shall happen to be ine herafter, or dettes owyng to me, they shalbe annexede in a scedull to this my will & testament as case shall requier herafter. And, over this, I will that iff any of my servantes, or breder, or yet any oder person that I have bequeathed, givyn, or assignede any parcell of my goodes unto in this my will aforesaid, doo claym or demaunde any parte or parcell of my goodes by the waye of dewtie, or any oder cause, or any oder maner of cause contrarie to this my testament, or elles by any oder meane . . . or lett any parte of this my foresaid will to be fullfillede, than I will that he or they shall forfaitt all such thynges as is bequeathed to hym or theme afore in this my foresaid will and testament, and that same so forfaittede to be devydede emonges all myn executours, they to disposse it at ther pleasur. Allso I will that my lordeshipe off Holme in Spauldyngmore in the countie of Yorke, and allso my lordeshipe of Somerby in the countie of Lincoln, w<sup>t</sup> all the reveueus and profettes belongingyng the same, be orderde and receyvede by myn executours, accordyng and to th'ententes to fullfyll my wyll in that behalve, lyke as I have appoyntede by my dede indentede for certeyn yeres as more playnly is expressede in the same. Allso I will that the Whyt Freers and Grey Freers in Scarburghe, the Blak Freers in Beverley, & Austyn Freers of Grymesby, in the countie of Lincoln, thies iiij places, to have, every quarter in the yere, xxij s. ix d., that is to saye, iij d. by the day; for the which iij d. every day one preste, that day bounde to no oder charge, shall syng a Messe for me & all Christen sowlles; & specially, for thies soulles that I have done any hurte or wrong unto, and knawes not how to recompense them satisfactorie but only by prayers; and the said Freers and preste to have ij d. that day, & so to chaunge daly frome preste to preste that all the convent may fare the better therby; and, besydes, that every day the odde penny to go to the amendement of the pytaunce of the said Freers; and thus I will it continewe after my decesse iij yeres full, in suche maner lyke as I have putt it in execution in my days. And all the residewe of my goodes, this my last will and witworde fulfillede in every poynt and article, & allso the oder parte of my last will, which is indentyd betwixt myn executours and me, for fowndyng of certeyn scolers in Cambrige,* and oder thynges, fullfillede & done by myn executours in every poynt & article, in like maner as is afore, I will it be disposede emonges myn executours att there will & plaisur, & for there owne profectes, as them shall seme best. And thus I commytt my soull to the mercy of oure Lorde Gode, Amen. Datyde at Holme. Witnesse, Christofer Ormesby preste, William Hilton, & Robert Wiske.

LXXXVII. THE WILL OF BRIAN PALMES OF NABURNE, ESQ., SERJEANT-AT-THE-LAW.

[Reg. Test. ix. 90 l.]

Oct. 31, 1519. In the name of the Fader, the Sonne, and the Holy Goste, our Blissede Lady Saynt Mary, & all the holy company of hevyn, I Bryan Palmes, Sergeant at the lawe.† To

* The Summer-game was a mediæval pastime, popular and gay. Here and there a light in a church kept up its name and connected it with religion. By Will d. Jan., 3rd Edw. IV. Richard Askam of Kirk Deighton left "lumini vocato Somer-game light iij buj. brasei ordej." (Reg. Test. iii. 288.)

In 1438 John Belvas, clerk, of Wistow, left "Lumini Festivali in eadem ecclesia v s." (Id. iii. 398). There is a suit in the Ecclesiastical Court at York from Wistow, in 1469, which gives a novel and charming picture of this summer festival. A witness, named John Gafarer, æt. 26, says that "die Dominico articulato accessit cum Thoma Barker de Wistow et Margareta More, in regem et reginam ipsius villæ in ludo suo festivali, Anglice Somer-game, forte electis, cum nonnullis convicinis suis, mimo sive histrione cum sambuca præeunte, ad orreum cujusdam Johannis Dodman, prope et juxta cœmeterium eccl. par. de Wistow, ubi ludus ille per nonnullos annos retroactos teneri solebat. In quo quidem horreo, ut dicit, loco adtunc vulgariter dicto Somer-house, prædicta Margareta More, a dicta hora duodecima, viz. meridie diei Dominicæ, usque post solis occasum continue permansit, ludo ipsi auscultando, et jocundam se faciendo in eodem, honeste tamen, ut eidem conveniebat."

One man says that he was seneschal; another, butler; and two, knights to wait upon the queen. A hundred persons were present. On the Sunday after, Barker was married at Sherburne, "idcirco postea officium regale in ludo prædicto non exercuit."

We have here one glimpse of the entirely unknown treasures contained among these Ecclesiastical Proceedings, which begin in the thirteenth century. I have made a hand-list of the cases for the first 300 years and more.

† The head of the very ancient family of Palmes of Naburne. He was a wealthy and successful lawyer, like his brother Guy. He was thrice married. His first wife, Eustachia, was, I believe, a Heselerton. His second was Ellen Acclom of Moreby to whom he had a licence to be married in the chapel

* This must be the widow of John Dodsworth of Thornton Watlass, and an ancestress, therefore, of Roger Dodsworth, the antiquary. She seems to have been residing as a boarder in the little nunnery of Sinningthwaite near York, an abode which, it is evident, had not removed the old lady's liking for the rich dresses and ornaments of her earlier life.

remember well how joyfully the late Mr. H. A. Littledale, of Bolton Hall, the poetical chronicler of his family, welcomed this information, which it was in my power to give him.

About thirty years ago, during my residence in Newcastle-on-Tyne, I met with a small mediaeval Service-book which contained the births and deaths of various members of the family of Pudsay. It also contained what was of still greater interest, a hymn and some prayers addressed to Henry VI., whom the devoted Lancastrians turned into a saint. These notices formed the subject of a paper in one of the earlier volumes of the Archæologia Æliana, n.s.

CXXII. THE WILL OF WILLIAM ROKEBY, ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN, AND VICAR OF HALIFAX.

[Reg. Wolsey, 155.]

In Dei nomine, Amen. Ego Willelmus Rokeby,† Archiepiscopus Dublin, ac vicarius perpetuus ecclesiæ parochialis de

* i.e. Golden Legend.

† The will of a distinguished ecclesiastic, a scion of an old Yorkshire family. I find the following notices of Archbishop Rokeby's preferments in the Halifax, compos mentis, et sanæ memoriæ, vicesimo secundo die Novembris, anno Domini millesimo quingentesimo vicesimo primo, condo testamentum meum in hunc modum. In primis I bequeth my saule to God Almyghtie, our Blessed Lady, and all the Sayntes in heven. Item I will that aftir my deth my body be emboweld, and my bowelles and herte to be buried in the church of Halifax* w'yn the quere; and my body to be buried in the new chapell at Sandall, and there a tombe of stone to be made, aboute the same to be writen, Ego Willelmus, Dublin. Archiepiscopus, quondam rector istius ecclesiæ. Credo quod Redemptor meus vivit, etc., qui obiit, etc., cujus animæ propicietur Deus. Item I will that a chapell be made in all convenyent hast at Halifax, on the southside of the church, † aftir the discrecion of myne executours and church Registers at York. On Dec. 15, 1485, Wm. Rokeby of Kirk Sandal had letters dimissory. On Aug. 4th, 1487, he was inst. to the rectory of Little (or Kirk) Sandal. On June 18, 1498, being doctor of decrees, he was appointed warden of Sibthorpe hospital. On June 5, 1501, he was inst. to the rectory of Sproatley, which he resigned in Feb. 1502-3, receiving out of it a retiring pension of 4*l.* per ann. On June 13th in the same year he was coll. to the free chapel of Ferrybridge, which he gave up in 1512. On June 12, 1502, he was inst. to the rich vicarage of Halifax, which he held till his death. On Feb. 13, 1502-3, he was coll. to the stall of St. Andrew at Beverley.

In 1496 he was coll. to the rectory of Thorpland, Norfolk, which he held during his life. (Blomefield, vii. 99.)

In 1507 Rokeby became Bishop of Meath; from which see he was translated to Dublin in 1511-12.

Two chapels, at Sandal and Halifax, commemorate him. There is an interesting account of the former by Mr. Hunter in his History of South Yorkshire, and for the latter my readers must be referred to Watson's Halifax, pp. 338-9, 387, 502-3. See also Wood, Ath. Oxon. ii. 717-20; Cotton's Fasti Eccl. Hib. ii. 18, iii. 114; Cox's History of Ireland, i. 202, 208.

Rokeby was a generous, noble-minded Yorkshireman, one of a host who have loved their native county, and scattered tokens of their affection for it with a lavish hand. In the 'Œconomia Rokebeiorum' he is one of the most prominent figures.

The Archbishop's father and mother died in the month of October, 1506, probably victims to some epidemic. Their wills—both very short—were proved on the same day. The following abstracts give every bequest they contain:

5 Aug. 1506. Johannes Rokeby de Kirk Sandall, gen. Sep. in eccl. par. prædicta. Lego pro mortuario meo, ut mos est. Summo altari pro decimis meis oblitis, i*js.* Cuilibet filiarum mearum j ovem. Resid. Margaretæ uxori meæ et Radulpho Rokeby, filio meo—ex<sup>ra</sup>. Test. Dom. Will. Whapelott, Dom. Rob. Clerk capellanus, Tho. Ricarde de Haitfeld, et aliis. [Pr. 6 Oct. 1506.] (Reg. Test. vi. 158.)

13 Aug. 1506. Margareta Rokeby, nuper uxor Joh. R. de Sandal, vidua, ægrota corpore. Sep. in eccl. de S. Pro mortuario, ut mos est. Res. Magistro Willelmo R., filio meo, quem ordino exec. Test. Dom. Will. Whapelott de Sandall cap., Will Bekkett de eadem, et multis aliis. [Pr. 4 Oct. 1506.] (Reg. Test. vi. 159.)

* Watson, in his History of Halifax (p. 503), says 'once, if not oftener, the little lead box which contained his heart and bowels has been dug up.'

† This wish of the testator was carried out.

By Will d. 12 Oct. 1533, Wm. Brig of par. Halifax desired to be buried in maisters, and there a tombe to be made w<sup>t</sup> myne image, and therupon writen, *Hic jacet cor Willelmi Rokeby, nuper Dublin. CLXXIX. THE WILL OF SIR NINIAN MARKENFIELD, OF MARKENFIELD, KNT.

[Reg. Test. ix. 407.]

Oct. 1, 1527. In Dei nomine, Amen. I Ninean Markynfeld,* knyght, of hoole mynde and good memory, makes my testament and last will in maner and forme foloing. First I bequeath my sall to Almyghtie God, oure Ladie Sancte Marie, and to all the Holie Company of hevyn; my bodie to be beried afore the altar of Sancte Andre in the college churche of Sancte Petir and Sancte Wilfride of Ripon. Also I bequeath to the churche of Ripon my best horse, bridell, saddle, with other

* The son and heir of Sir Thomas Markenfield of Markenfield, near Ripon, and Anne his wife, dau. of Sir John Conyers of Hornby.

Sir Ninian was one of the commanders on the English side at the battle of Flodden. He was twice married, 1st to Dorothy d. Sir Wm. Gascoigne by Margaret d. Henry Earl of Northumberland; 2nd to Eleanor d. Henry Lord Clifford by Anne St. John, cousin-german to Henry VII.

Sir Ninian died on March 25, 1527-8, leaving Thomas his son and heir, then aged 14 years and more. This Thomas marr. Margaret dau. of John Norton of Norton, Esq., and, dying on Apr. 18, 1550, left another Thomas his son and heir, then aged 17 years and nine months, with other children.

This Thomas sought refuge abroad in the reign of Elizabeth, so strong were his wishes for a change in religion and politics. He came back to England and was one of the three planners and leaders of the rising in the North in 1569. In Thos. Norton's 'Address to the Quene's Majestie's poore deceived subjectes of the North' there is a passage relating to the three. 'The residue of your doctish Captaynes, what be they? Thinke you they be men able to beare you out against the power of a Prince, all his Nobilitie, Cities, Realme, Subjectes, Frenedes, and Allies? One with litle witte far set (Swynborne) another in his old age weary of his wealth (Norton); an other, a runneaway with a young wilde braine tickled to see fashions' (Markenfeld).

This extract is taken from the copy in the Minster Library, York, in which Archbishop Matthew has inserted the words within brackets.

Markenfield fled abroad, forfeiting all his estates. He was living in 1593 a pensioner on the bounty of the King of Spain. He marr. Isabel dau. of Sir Wm. Ingleby of Ripley.

John Markenfield, bro. of Thos., 'very young, under 20 in 1569, was attainted onely to bring his title to his brother's lands (if he have any) to the Queen, and it was not meant he shold dye, for that he hath no land.' What a pitiful confession to make! He was pardoned in 1574 at the request of the Earl of Leicester.

CXC. THE WILL OF MR. WILLIAM MELTON, CHANCELLOR OF YORK.

[Reg. Test. Dec. &amp; Capit. Ebor. ii. 166.]

In Dei nomine, Amen. Ultima voluntas hominis Cristiani et sacerdotis, Willelmi Melton,* anno Cristi millesimo quingentesimo vicesimo octavo, vicesimo die mensis Augusti, apud Acclum.

In gratiam et misericordiam Omnipotentis Dei, Creatoris omnium, et Redemptoris nostri, spiritu meo primum commendato, sub spe crucis et sanguinis Jhesu Christi, et per intercessionem Ejus genetricis Mariæ, Sanctorumque Omnium et Spirituum Cœlestium; corpore quoque meo commendato fidelium sepulturæ; hæc sit gerenda ratio rerum et facultatum mearum, ut primum ex hiis, quoad fieri possit, omni juri ecclesiastico et omni justiciæ mortalium satisfiat. Post funeralia, videlicet, mihi catholice exhibita, pro reputatione mea non sumptuosa sed mediocria, deinde post justa omnia debita mea secure soluta, si nulla videtur executori vel executoribus aut ministris instare molestia, quin sine suo detrimento bene fieri possit, tunc ex summa omnium vasorum argenteorum de le plate quæ reperientur, non designata scriptis, nec nuncupata verbo, detur exhibitio annua septem marcarum, quoad summa tota compleatur per annos vel menses, sacerdoti idoneo pro arbitrio ministrantium; qui quidem sacra celebraturus est ad altare Nominis Jhesu in ecclesia Ebor. pro anima mea, animabus parentum meorum, amicorum, et propinquorum, pro anima quoque Hugonis Trotter † et suorum, similiter animabus parentum, amicorum, atque simili modo pro anima Domini

* A learned and distinguished scholar.

He was ordained acolyte at York March 11, 1485-6; deacon, May 20, 1486, being then M.A., Roche Abbey giving him a title, and priest on Sept. 23 in the same year. Melton was M.A. of Cambridge in 1479, B.D. in 1490, and D.D. in 1496.

On May 18, 1489-90, he was inst. to the rectory of Clayworth, and on June 6, 1496, to that of Aston on the presentation of Sir John Melton. This he res. in Feb. 1516-17.

In York Minster he was prebendary of Tockerington, and afterwards, in 1495, Chancellor, in which position he had full field for the use of his learning. One of his sermons as Chancellor was printed, I think by Wynkyn de Worde.

Melton's will is his own composition and travels very far out of the usual groove. The list of his books and furniture, etc., is very suggestive. Except in his books there is no sign of any expenditure. Everything is of the most simple kind. The will was made at Acclam on the Wolds, a small living in his gift. The will of the Vicar of Acclam, his friend and protégé, Edmund Cook, will soon follow.

† Sometime Treasurer of York and a well-known man.

Thomæ Rotherham archiepiscopi, et animabus suorum, omniumque fidelium defunctorum. Cætera vero legata mea quædam in billis de papiro mea manu scripta patebunt; quædam, Deo propitio, viva voce annuntiabo. Exequantur autem plena mea auctoritate hii vel ille, unus vel plures, quem vel quos pro Dei clementia maturius nominabo ex tempore, residuo rerum mearum eis, vel ei, relicto; nec post funeralia facta, debita soluta, et impleta legata quæ vel scripto mandantur vel aperte nuncupantur, amplius pro meis rebus quisquam oneretur pro tali residuo quam sibi ipsi videatur ex sua erga me pietate. Amen.

Billa deposit' Prioris de Watton omnino servetur et perim-pleatur. Item pro capa necesse est solventur viginti marcæ, si non sint solutæ.

Item capellano meo et famulis solvetur omnino integrum stipendium quarterii in quo decedo ab hoc sæculo. Et ulterius lego cuilibet eorum vij s. vjd. Item do et lego Willelmo Baxster, servienti meo, unum ciphum argenteum et deauratum cum nubibus, post meum decessum. Item volo quod omnia ornamenta corpori meo pertinentia æqualiter dividantur inter servientes meos et bonorum meorum administratores. Item do et lego Nicholao Melton, nepoti meo, meum optimum plumare cum pertinentiis. Item do et lego Johanni Eyre, servienti meo, secundum optimum meum plumare. Item do et lego Antonio Mountenay plumare meum in quo jacere solebat. Hæc in omnibus serventur per Dominum Thomam Forne subthesaurarium ecclesiæ Ebor., Magistrum Nicholaum Melton, Johannem Eyre, Dominum Thomam Baite presbyterum, et Robertum Mountenay, quos facio executores, sive bonorum meorum administratores mobilium et immobilium mihi pertinentium, et præcipue eos, eo quod in vita mea ipsi omnino domum et res meas mobiles et immobiles rexerint et gubernaverint, igitur ea intentione volo eos post decessum meum prædicta ordinare et gubernare, et hæc est mea ultima voluntas. In cujus rei testimonium præsentibus sunt Magister Doctor Haill rector ecclesiæ de Skirpenbek, Dominus Edmundus Cook vicarius de Acclame, Dominus Robertus Gilis presbyter, et alii, ut Willelmus Backster, Galfridus Frankelande, Edwardus Darwentwater, et Thomas Wilson.

CCXVIII. THE WILL OF SIR WILLIAM BULMER THE ELDER, KNIGHT.

[Reg. Test. x. 105.]

In Dei nomine, Amen. The vjth day of Octobre, the yere of our Lord God a thousand fyve hundreth thirtie and one, I, Sir William Bulmer,* the elder, knyght, of hooll mynd and gud remembrance, ordenith and makith my last will in maner

* This is the first will of a Bulmer of Wilton that exists.

May 1, 1444. Adm. Sir Ralph Bulmer, knt., granted to Wm. Lambert, chaplain (Reg. Test. ii. 79 a).

Nov. 14, 1463. Adm. Sir Wm Bulmer, knt., to Eliz. Bulmer, his widow (Reg. Test. ii. 592 a).

Sept. 19, 1486. Adm. Sir Ralph Bulmer of Wilton, knt., to Wm. Bulmer of Wilton, his son (Reg. Test. v. 291 b).

It will be seen, therefore, that the father, grandfather, and great-grandfather of the testator left no wills behind them. The present will, therefore, is of unusual interest and throws a flood of light upon the history of the Bulmers and of the district in which they lived.

Sir William Bulmer was one of the commanders at the battle of Flodden and was a bold and skilful soldier. He married Margery Conyers of Hornby. The ancient castle of Wilton stood on one of the most picturesque sites in Cleveland and was pulled down, not so very long ago, to make place for a modern structure, erected by the Lowthers. Every trace of the Bulmers has long ago disappeared from the district, with the exception of two or three fine effigies which are now exposed to wind and weather in the churchyard.

Sir William's Will shows that he was a man of business, with a clear head; proud, and justly proud, of his family; pious also and considerate for his retainers and domestics. The little chapel of St. Ellen stood on the village green and had but a brief existence. Little did the testator imagine when he was devising almost every precaution to secure the permanence of his family and foundations, that, within six years, utter ruin would overwhelm his eldest son and his estate.

The Inq. p. m. of Sir William Bulmer was taken on June 11, 24th Hen. VIII., in which Sir John Bulmer was found to be his son and heir, then aged 40 and more. Sir John was twice married. His first wife was Anne dau. of Sir Ralph Bigod of Settrington. His second wife (if he was married at all) was Margaret, said to have been an illegitimate daughter of Edward Stafford, Duke of Buckingham, by whom he had several children, born before wedlock.

In 1537 Sir John and his wife were drawn into Aske's rebellion, influenced by Sir Francis Bigod, his nephew. Husband and wife paid the penalty for their offence. Sir John was hanged, drawn, and quartered at Tyburn, and his wife burnt at Smithfield. In the indictment she is styled 'Margaret wife of Wm Cheyne late of London Esq,' as if some doubt was thrown upon her mar-and forme folowing. Furst, I gyve and bequeith my soull unto Almyghty God, and to His blissid Moder, our Lady Sanct Marie, and to all the celestially compeny of hevyn, and my body to be beried in the church of Lethome, if I dye w<sup>in</sup> the parishe. Also I gyff and bequeith [blank]. Also I will yt my dettes be furst paid. Also I gyve and bequeith to the church of Lethome sex poundes. Also I gyff and bequeith to the church of Wilton ten poundes. Also I gyff and bequeith to the howse of Guysborn ten poundes, & to every of my brethern of Guysborn ij s., to pray for me; and to the Prior vj s. viij d. Also I gyff and bequeith to the iiij Orders of Freers, every of thame x s.; and to the Observandes x s. And to the Colledge of Standrop, to the priestes thare, x s. And to the Mowntgrace, to every brother thar, ij s. Also I gyff to the Freers of Hertilpool, Allerton, and Yarome, every of yame vj s. viij d. Also I will y<sup>t</sup> a preist be found to syng for me, and for the saullis of my father and mother, and for my wyff saull, and for all the saullis y<sup>t</sup> I am bound to pray for, and all Christen saullis, for the terme of vij yeres imediatly next after my deth, and the said preist to have every yere seven marces, and this to be taken of my guddes. Also I gyff unto my son, Sir John Bulmer, my best chyne of gold which is in weght one hundreth poundes, and desyrith hym to leiff it unto his son and heir. Also I gyff unto my son, Sir Rauff Bulmer, my secund chyne of gold, which is in weght a hundreth marces, and desyrith hym in lyek maner to leiff it unto his sone and heir, if he have ony; if he be not otherwise charged that he may not, then he to bestow it as he shall seyme gud. Also I will y<sup>t</sup> my son, Sir William Bulmer, have one chyne of gold worth one hundreth marces, or els a hundreth marces to make a chyne of; willing hym in lyek maner to leiff it unto Fraunces Bulmer, his son and heir, in lyek forme as I have willid his brother, Sir Rauff. Also I gyff unto my son, Sir John Bulmer, my best gowne and my best dublet. And I gyff unto his wyff twenty poundes, and hertilie desyreth hym to latt hir doo w<sup>t</sup> it what she will w<sup>t</sup> owt riage to Bulmer. Sir John's eldest son, Ralph Bulmer, was also tried for complicity in the same offence, but was acquitted. He was afterwards restored, as far as blood was concerned, but his estates seem to have been forfeited and lost.

Sir Ralph Bulmer, the second son, married Anne dau. and coheir of Roger Aske of Aske, near Richmond, but died without issue. This alliance explains Sir William's bequests to the Abbey of St. Agatha (Easby), near Richmond, in behalf of the Askes.

Sir William Bulmer, the third son, married the heiress of the Elmdens of Elmden, co. Durham. He steered clear of the conspiracy which wrecked the fortunes of his eldest brother, but misfortune came upon his own descendants in the third and fourth generation. Their history, if it were told, would almost appear too strange to be true.

any displeasour, of my blissing. Also I gyff unto my son, George Salvyn,* my best tawny velvet gowyn, and to his wyff twenty poundes, and desyreth hym to suffer hir to doo w<sup>t</sup> it what she will. Also I gyff unto my son, Sir Rauff Bulmer, my best blak velvet gowne, and to his wyff twenty poundes, and desyrith hym to suffer hir to doo w<sup>t</sup> it what she will. Also I gyff unto my son, Sir William Bulmer, one other of my velvet gownys, and to his wyff twenty poundes, and praith hym to doo as I have willid his brothers to doo. CCXIX. THE WILL OF SIR JOHN ROCLIFF OF COLTHORPE, KNT.

[Reg. Test. xi. 181.]

In the name of God, Amen. The sexte daye of Decembre, in the yeaere of our Lord God, m<sup>l</sup>ccccth xxxjth, and in the xxijth yeaere of the reigne of our soveraigne Lord, King Henry th<sup>e</sup>ight, I, John Roelyf,* of Colthorpe, knyght, beyng of hole mynd and perfyte remembrance, thankes bee to Almyghty God,

* A most interesting will, probably drawn up by one of the Grey Friars of York, who so largely benefited by it. Their hopes, however, were completely frustrated, as the will fell to the ground, probably through want of assets, and the executors refused to act.

The will of Sir Brian Rocliff of Cowthorpe has been printed already.

ordan and make thys my last will and testament in maner and forme folowing. That ys to saye, fyrst and principallie, I bequethe my saule unto Almyghtie God, and to our Blessed Ladye Hys modre, and to all the Holye Companye of heven, my bodey to bee buried in the Gray Frears churche w<sup>in</sup> the cytye of Yorke, as nyghe unto my fader's grave as may convenientlye, on hys lyfte syde, upon the northe syde of the said churche. And I will that my executors cause the iiij Orders of Frears in Yorke, yf it please God w<sup>in</sup> the cytye of Yorke to call me to Hys mercy, to bring my bodey to the Gray Frears churche within the said citie of Yorke; and, yf I decease in any odre place, than the said iiij Orders to mete my body at Holgaite, and bring it to the said Gray Frears, and that every of the said iiij Orders to have for there labours vj s. viij d., so that they syng Placebo and Dirige, and Messe of Requiem for my saull. Also I will that my executors orden sex wax candels, and every of theme bee of one pound weight at the leiste, and, also, vj torches, and xij poore men with gownes to bere the said candels and torches aboute my bodey at the Dirige, Messe, and buryall; and yche of the said poore men to have for there labors iiij d. # THE SURTEES SOCIETY.

REPORT FOR THE YEAR MD.CCC.LXXXIV.

THIS is the Jubilee Year of THE SURTEES SOCIETY, an honourable time-mark in the existence of any Institution. We may indeed congratulate ourselves as well on the work that has been done by us for northern history during so long a period, as on the prospect of longevity which the present success of the Society reasonably presages.

A Jubilee Year, although it is a subject of thankfulness and congratulation, is not unaccompanied by pain and regret. The longest and the staunchest friends of the Society are no longer to be found upon its List of Members, or upon the roll of any Society. We have lost in this way, during the present year, the highest and the most honoured name of all, that of our President, the Duke of Buccleuch and Queensberry. That distinguished nobleman was one of our original members. From 1834 to 1837 he was the first triennial President of the Society. In 1865 he was elected our permanent chief, and in that capacity he acted for the last twenty years. All this welcome and honourable service is now, alas! a matter for remembrance. In the life of Mr. Surtees the story is told how that great antiquary, revisiting Christ Church, his own College, met in the hall the late Duke, who was then in statu pupillari. Following the devout usage of the day, the young nobleman dropped upon his knee before the stranger and craved his blessing, which was given in the impromptu couplet :

Be to thy Scotland leal and true ;
My blessing on thee, young Buccleuch !

There was a propriety, therefore, in placing the Duke of Buccleuch at the head of THE SURTEES SOCIETY. It was an honour which he greatly prized, and to no safer and more willing hands could that privilege have been committed.

In our new President, the Bishop of Chester, we have the support of one of the greatest scholars of the day.

Two volumes have appeared since the last Report was issued, viz., the concluding part of the 'York Breviary' and a second volume of the 'Correspondence and Antiquarian Notes of William Stukeley.' A third part will conclude this work, which, although it may exhibit some vague theories, is still a faithful record of many interesting facts. Various other works are either in the press or in an advanced state of preparation. When the Society relies upon the help of Editors who are overburdened with engagements, it trusts that the members will not fail to exhibit their customary patience. The editorial remuneration is so small that we cannot reasonably be exacting.

THE SURTEES SOCIETY,

ESTABLISHED IN THE YEAR 1834,

In honour of the late Robert Surtees, of Mainsforth, Esquire, the author of the History of the County Palatine of Durham, and in accordance with his pursuits and plans ; having for its object the publication of inedited Manuscripts, illustrative of the intellectual, the moral, the religious, and the social condition of those parts of England and Scotland, included on the east between the Humber and the Frith of Forth, and on the west between the Mersey and the Clyde, a region which constituted the ancient Kingdom of Northumbria.

NEW RULES AGREED UPON IN 1849 ; REVISED 1863.

I.—The Society shall consist of not more than three hundred and fifty members.

II.—There shall be a Patron of the Society, who shall be President.

III.—There shall be twenty-four Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and two Treasurers.

IV.—The Patron, the Vice-Presidents, the Secretary, and the Treasurers shall form the Council, any five of whom, including the Secretary and a Treasurer, shall be a quorum competent to transact the business of the Society.

V.—The twenty-four Vice-Presidents, the Secretary, and the Treasurers shall be elected at a general meeting, to continue in office for three years, and be capable of re-election.

VI.—Any vacancies in the office of Secretary or Treasurers shall be provisionally filled up by the Council, subject to the approbation of the next general meeting.

VII.—Three meetings of the Council shall be held in every year, on the first Tuesday in the months of March, June, and December ; and the place and hour of meeting shall be fixed by the Council, and communicated by the Secretary to the members of the Council.

VIII.—The meeting in June shall be the anniversary, to which all the members of the Society shall be convened by the Secretary.

IX.—The Secretary shall convene extraordinary meetings of the Council, on a requisition to that effect, signed by not less than five members of the Council, being presented to him.

X.—Members may be elected by ballot at any of the ordinary meetings, according to priority of application, upon being proposed in writing by three existing members. One black ball in ten shall exclude.

XI.—Each member shall pay in advance to the Treasurer the annual sum of one guinea. If any member's subscription shall be in arrear for two years, and he shall neglect to pay his subscription after having been reminded by the Treasurer, he shall be regarded as having ceased to be a member of the Society.

XII.—The money raised by the Society shall be expended in publishing such compositions, in their original language, or in a translated form, as come within the scope of this Society, without limitation of time with reference to the period of their respective authors. All editorial and other expenses to be defrayed by the Society.

XIII.—One volume, at least, in a closely-printed octavo form, shall be supplied to each member of the Society every year, free of expense.

XIV.—If the funds of the Society in any year will permit, the Council shall be at liberty to print and furnish to the members, free of expense, any other volume or volumes of the same character, in the same or a different form.

XV.—The number of copies of each publication, and the selection of a printer and publisher, shall be left to the Council, who shall also fix the price at which the copies, not furnished to members, shall be sold to the public.

XVI.—The armorial bearings of Mr. Surtees, and some other characteristic decoration connecting the Society with his name, shall be used in each publication.

XVII.—A list of the officers and members, together with an account of the receipts and expenses of the Society, shall be made up every year to the time of the annual meeting, and shall be submitted to the Society to be printed and published with the next succeeding volume.

XVIII.—No alteration shall be made in these rules, except at an annual meeting. Notice of any such alteration shall be given, at least as early as the ordinary meeting of the Council immediately preceding, to be communicated to each member of the Society.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE SURTEES SOCIETY,

WITH THEIR RESPECTIVE SALE PRICES.
