

NO VERDICT AS YET.

THE CORONER'S JURY MAKE NO DECISION IN THE CADLE CASE.

They Have Been in Session for Many Hours—The Remains in Jail.

Special to the Journal.
ATLANTA, Ga., January 21.—Up to this hour, 2 p. m., the coroner's jury inquiring into the death of W. H. Cadle, have come to no conclusion.

They were locked yesterday from 2 to 6 p. m., and today from 12 to 2, but one of them has just stated they were a long way from a decision.

It is reported that an experienced detective is now looking up the case for the G. C. and N. railroad. Allie and Henry Bousse and W. B. Briggs are now in jail.

The funeral in Atlanta.
The funeral of Mr. William H. Cadle, the Georgia, Central and Northern railroad, who was murdered at Athens, will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from his residence, 162 Luckie street. The interment will be at Oakland cemetery.

The members of the Order of Railway Conductors will attend the funeral in a body. They will meet in their hall at the corner of Alabama and Whitehall streets tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and will go from there to the home of the deceased.

THE SALE OF THE A. AND F.

COMMISSIONER LOWRY ENJOINED FROM SELLING IT.

The Petition for the Injunction Was Filed With Judge Clarke Yesterday.

Since the appointment of a receiver for the Atlanta and Florida railroad, all parties interested in the affairs of that line have expected a clash of authority between the United States and state courts.

Developments in the case yesterday indicate that this clash is likely to occur at any time. The facts about the appointment of two receivers for the Atlanta and Florida are familiar to the readers of THE JOURNAL. Under a petition filed in the United States court by the Central Trust company an order of sale was recently granted by Judge Newman and Mr. R. J. Lowry was appointed commissioner for the sale.

Yesterday afternoon a petition was filed in the superior court asking that Commissioner Lowry be enjoined from selling the road. Judge Clarke granted a temporary injunction and set next Saturday as the day for hearing the application for a permanent injunction.

The question to be decided now is whether Commissioner Lowry, being an officer of the United States court, will pay any attention to an order from the state courts.

AFTER THE UNDERTAKERS.

A CIRCULAR SENT OUT BY ATLANTA LAWYERS.

Is the Subject of a Newspaper Article in a Maceon—The Circular.

The Maceon Telegraph of Sunday printed under the caption, "He Don't Scare," the following article:

"A prominent member of this city has received a circular letter from Roscoe C. Carter, of Atlanta, attorneys at law, that is calculated to create a stir among those interested."

The same circular is addressed to each member of the Georgia Funeral Directors' association, and is calculated to bring forth the resignation of all the members of the order that do not care to be involved in a law suit.

The gentlemen to whom the circular is addressed, however, want that be content to ignore it altogether, as he has nothing whatever to do with preventing this J. H. Simmons from business in the funeral home.

The circular is addressed to each member of the Georgia Funeral Directors' association, and is calculated to bring forth the resignation of all the members of the order that do not care to be involved in a law suit.

The gentlemen to whom the circular is addressed, however, want that be content to ignore it altogether, as he has nothing whatever to do with preventing this J. H. Simmons from business in the funeral home.

The circular is addressed to each member of the Georgia Funeral Directors' association, and is calculated to bring forth the resignation of all the members of the order that do not care to be involved in a law suit.

The gentlemen to whom the circular is addressed, however, want that be content to ignore it altogether, as he has nothing whatever to do with preventing this J. H. Simmons from business in the funeral home.

The circular is addressed to each member of the Georgia Funeral Directors' association, and is calculated to bring forth the resignation of all the members of the order that do not care to be involved in a law suit.

The gentlemen to whom the circular is addressed, however, want that be content to ignore it altogether, as he has nothing whatever to do with preventing this J. H. Simmons from business in the funeral home.

The circular is addressed to each member of the Georgia Funeral Directors' association, and is calculated to bring forth the resignation of all the members of the order that do not care to be involved in a law suit.

THE STUDY OF HISTORY

WILL BE PURSUED IN GEORGIA'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

THIS IS THE EDICT OF THE COMMISSION.

A Question of General Interest to the People of Georgia.

Something About the Histories Which Will Probably Be Used—A Talk With School Commissioner Bradwell.

The young ideas shooting in the county schools of Georgia must study the history of their country and Georgia.

The state school commission has sent forth its edict to that effect, and according to Commissioner Bradwell that edict will be enforced, and hence or later the study of United States history will constitute a part of the regular curriculum of all Georgia state schools.

In the past many southern parents have objected to their children studying United States history on account of the partisan expressions used by those historians whose books were principally in vogue. Such expressions as "rebels" and "abandon policy" abounded in a majority of these books, and naturally southern people did not desire to have their children imbued with an erroneous idea of the causes that led to the civil war and its subsequent effects.

So, ever since 1865, the study of United States history has been deferred from the state schools of Georgia. Some time ago a series of very vigorous communications on the subject brought the matter up for general discussion, and as a result it was taken before the school commission.

Upon arriving at this conclusion the board instructed Commissioner Bradwell to issue an order to the teachers of all county schools to include United States history in the curriculum of the common schools. History under this order is placed upon the same basis as arithmetic, geography, or any of the branches heretofore recognized as the legal branches.

The study is limited to Elementary history of the United States and of the state of Georgia.

To the county board is left the duty of prescribing what histories shall be used in the respective counties.

BOOKS BY GEORGE.

United States history has been taught in the state schools for some time. The history is now written by Miss L. A. Field, at present an instructor in the Agnes Scott Institute, formerly a teacher in the Atlanta schools. This book Commissioner Bradwell says could be otherwise than acceptable to the parents of Georgia.

"This review of the incidents of the war are fair, and as a history of the country the book is very complete," said the commissioner this morning.

"This is also true," he continued, "in regard to the history written by Professor A. L. Berry of Wesleyan University. This book is now in use in the Maceon schools. Then there are a few northern publications that would not be objectionable for partisan reasons."

Commissioner Bradwell thinks that there is no question that the order will be obeyed and finally concurred in, yet he fears trouble in a number of counties and is of the opinion that some of them will be rather difficult to bring into the fold and to conform in the new order of things.

BOBBIE BURNS' BIRTHDAY.

The Scotchmen of Atlanta Will Celebrate the Birthday of Scotland's Sweetest Poet.

The Scotchmen of Atlanta will celebrate the birthday of Scotland's sweetest poet, Burns, tomorrow evening, with a banquet at Continental hall. It will be an elegant affair in every particular.

At a meeting of Scotchmen last night, each member present was presented with a sprig of heather sent all the way from Glasgow, Scotland, to be worn on Burns' anniversary.

Mr. W. D. Morrison presented the members of the committee on arrangements with royal Stuart banners as a token of friendship from the Scotchmen of Canada.

It was announced that the Scotchmen of Atlanta were planning a surprise for their Atlanta friends in the shape of a "hugely" great Scotch national dish, which will occupy the place of honor on the banquet table tomorrow night.

The following is the list of speakers: Fulton Calhoun, Rev. Saml. Smith, Thos. Douglas, R. H. Moore, Rev. Dr. Sheraton, Douglas, R. H. Moore, Colonel G. W. Adair, Captain J. F. Jones, and others.

After the banquet a ball will be given and a long dance program goes through with.

A. O. U. W.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of A. O. U. W. was held last night at the United Workmen, was held last night at their hall on Broad street.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

PHILLIPS BROOKS.

A Tribute to the Memory of a Great and Good Man Who Has Passed Away.

He is dead. Dead? No, such men never die. He will live forever. Not alone in his power and influence over men which was so magnetic when he was present in person, and now that he has passed into a higher state of existence, so forceful and lasting in their impressions; but his strong individuality, his resolute character, his brave yet gentle personality are undying.

These are imperishable marks stamped upon his life and his effective labors among men. His peculiar charm was a deep-toned spirituality, manifested without the slightest tincture of cant—a spirituality which was genuine, because it shrank from ostentation.

Combining a sensitive and delicate nature, always frank, always sincere, with a most powerful intellect and an unflinching courage, evidenced not merely in the captivity, but in the clarity of thought and speech, Phillips Brooks commanded the respect, the whole-souled admiration, the reverence of men.

How grandly he lived, with no self-consciousness of his greatness nor desire for fame, yet day by day aiming to elevate the individual Christian life to a higher plane of duty. Truly he magnified the office of priest and bishop by his gentleness and nobility, and his many character, and a courage unshaken by worldly ambitions.

In the eyes of this gifted and eloquent preacher of the gospel a child was as great as the highest magnate and potentate of earth. No work was too lowly or humble in the service of the Master for this lion-hearted, almost phallic man.

Culture, refinement and spirituality were his three crowning virtues; and now that he has passed from earthly vision to a realm of angels, his memory will be kept alive, his teachings will be a part of the daily life of those who have been blessed by his ministrations.

"May God give us grace, faith, courage and ambition always to be ready to go on and up to higher lands of life, to new kingdoms of heaven as He shall open them to us forever."

Good men die, but we cannot destroy their works, blot out their memories, smother the light which they kindled and which God in His infinite mercy has kept alive. Our hope is in the illustrations dead. We can trust them. They will never reverse on their record. Their influence will never die out.

"For years beyond our ken
The light of his life shone upon them
Upon the path of man."

THOMAS C. TITLER.

LAWYER ASHWORTH ARRESTED.

He is Charged With Larceny—Both Sides of the Case.

Monday morning Mr. John Hart secured from Judge Bloodworth a warrant against Mr. Thomas Ashworth, lawyer, who lives at No. 239 Courtland avenue.

The warrant charged Mr. Ashworth with larceny after theft. He will be given a hearing before Judge Bloodworth tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Hart claims that Mr. Ashworth collected money for him and failed to account for it. Mr. Ashworth says that he did collect a certain amount of money for Mr. Hart and deducted his fees from the amount and turned the balance over to him.

TONIGHT AND FREE.

South at the World's Fair—Georgian Exhibit.

A Free Illustrated Lecture Tonight by Prof. E. Warren Clark at Y. M. C. A.

There will be a free illustrated lecture at the Y. M. C. A. tonight on the "South at the World's Fair," by Professor E. Warren Clark.

The announcement elsewhere about a lecture on "India" is a error.

Professor Clark will exhibit one hundred pictures and deliver a lecture free.

Let everybody go who wishes to. It will cost them nothing.

AN ATLANTA MAN

Elected President of the Indian Spring and Florida Railroad—Mr. W. C. Hale.

Carlton W. E. Smith, ex-president of the Indian Springs and Florida railroad company, was in the city today in company with Mr. G. B. Elder, one of the large stockholders of the road.

"We have just paid Mr. W. C. Hale of Atlanta, ex-president of our company to see him the balance of power among the stockholders," said President Smith to a group of men this morning. "At our meeting yesterday the following officers were elected:

President, W. C. Hale; Vice-President, Mr. A. Landrey; General Passenger Agent, Mr. G. B. Elder; Assistant Passenger Agent, Mr. H. F. Williams of Atlanta, was added to the board of directors.

COUNCILMEN'S BIOGRAPHIES.

They Will Adorn the Pages of the Annual Report of the City Officers.

The annual reports of the city officers for 1912 will be a very voluminous affair, filling twice as many pages as the reports for 1910.

A new and special feature of the volume

BOTH FIGHTERS ARRESTED.

The Sequel to a Lively Christmas Week Fiasco—The Cause.

Ed Roe, the young man who shot Will Brooks during Christmas week, was arrested by Patrolmen Ivy and Langford yesterday afternoon.

Brooks was also arrested. Both are charged with disorderly conduct, and will be given a hearing before the recorder this afternoon.

Brooks engaged in a fight on Woodward avenue, near the country, about a young girl. Brooks was shot in the neck and for several days it was thought he would die.

Roe left the city and did not return until a few days ago, when he learned that Brooks would live.

TWO FINE LECTURES

To Be Delivered by Professor Clark To-Night and Tomorrow Night.

Tonight and tomorrow night, Professor Warren E. Clark will deliver illustrated lectures at the Y. M. C. A. music hall.

The subject for tonight is "Three Thousand Miles Through India." Tomorrow night "The South at the World's Fair" will be his topic. Professor Clark is also a lecturer of wide range and his subjects are especially timely and interesting. "Georgia's exhibit" will be alluded to in the lecture for tomorrow night.

DEATH OF MR. WAITS.

A Well Known and Aged Citizen Passed Away This Morning.

This morning at the residence, 1555 1/2 Trinity avenue, Mr. A. M. Waits passed away.

Mr. Waits was well known in Atlanta. He was 55 years of age at the time of his death. The immediate cause of his death was congestion of the heart.

The funeral will probably occur tomorrow. The remains will be carried to Hollywood cemetery for interment.

FOUGHT OVER THE CHILDREN.

A Story Of Family Troubles To Be Recited To The Recorder.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon P. M. and Julia French, who were man and wife, but who have been separated for about a year, met in his mother's house on Garnett street and had an altercation over the possession of their two children.

MARKET REPORT.

H. W. NICHOLSON, Manager.

Rooms 333-335 Equitable Building.

Orders executed for future delivery notwithstanding over private wire to Chicago and New York.

TELEPHONE 1255.

Atlanta Cotton.

ATLANTA, January 21.—Cotton, quiet at 9:15.

New York Cotton.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling, 9.00.

OPENING OF THE COTTON MARKET.

January 21, 1913. The advance on this side has had no effect on the Liverpool market.

On the contrary, the time was worse. The market was flat for the want of confidence. An advance in Liverpool cannot be looked for until Manchester gets better and the state is settled.

Estimated receipts at New Orleans tomorrow 1,000 to 1,200; at Port of Spain 1,200; at St. John 1,000.

I think cotton is a safe for a dollar a bale—J. H. Stevens.

NEW YORK COTTON FUTURE.

New York, January 21.—Cotton, steady. Sales, 19,000. Middling