

DEATH IN ST. MARYS.

Special to The Journal.

ST. MARYS, Ga., August 8.—Sunday afternoon, just before sunset, Mrs. Charles Sterling passed away. Her death was very sudden indeed. She was not sick at all. Her death was caused from apoplexy. She was or had been talking to her son, Mr. D. C. Sterling, only a few moments before she died.

She leaves her husband, who is afflicted with paralysis, and her two sons and sisters and brothers to mourn her loss. Mrs. Sterling was very much liked by everyone, and the family have the sympathy of their many friends.

MRS. M'CONNELL'S DEATH.

Special to The Journal.

MANOR, GA., August 8.—Mrs. William McConnell, Sr., of this place died Sunday morning with paralysis, after a continued illness of several weeks. She was a member the Methodist church, a true Christian lady and the aged mother of the McConnell boys, who have been with us seven years following turpentine operating and have done so much for the building up of our town and country.

She came to this state about two years ago and has left more friends in this town and community than she has ever made acquaintances.

Four sons and six daughters still survive her. They have a host of friends who sympathize with them in this hour of bereavement. Her remains were accompanied by near a hundred of her friends and relatives to the depot, whence they were transferred to her old home, Kingstree, S. C., for interment.
