

NEGROES LYNCH A NEGRO

BLACK SLAYER OF A BLACK MAN EXECUTED.

NOVEL OUTRAGE IN AN ARKANSAS TOWN.

The Victim Hanged, His Body Riddled With Bullets and Burned.

One Southern Lynching See in Which No Southern White Man Took a Part—Awful Cruelty.

By Southern Associated Press.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., November 14.—Tremendous excitement reigns at Varner, a station on the Irod Mountain Railway, 20 miles south of here, over the lynching, shooting and burning, early this morning, of a negro named Nelson, who, a week ago, murdered another negro.

A mob consisting exclusively of colored people, broke down the jail, hanged Nelson to a tree, riddled his body with bullets and then set fire to it.

This morning fragments of it were still found dangling from the limb.

It had been raining hard all night and moisture saved a part of the body, which was almost as unrecognizable mass of roasted flesh.

FATALITIES IN MEMPHIS FIRE.

Several Lives Believed to Have Been Lost in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

By Southern Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., November 14.—The report that a number of members of the Young Men's Christian Association were burned in last night's fire seems to be without foundation, except as to Thomas H. Bond, who cannot be found. It is thought that he perished in the flames. Joe Watkins, the colored porter, leaped from the third story and is probably fatally injured.

Secretary E. A. Perkins, who jumped from the building, fractured his skull and will die. Will Bardman jumped and fell across the telegraph wires, but when he struck the ground his ankle was fractured and his right arm broken in two places. Will Brandon and C. R. White was seriously injured.

The loss is $100,000, scattered among three firms and the Young Men's Christian Association.

All of those who escaped from the building unite in saying that there was an old grey haired man in the Y. M. C. A. room when the alarm of fire was given. No one has seen him since. Most saw him escape from the building and it is probable that he perished in the flames. It is thought to be some countryman that came to Memphis to attend the Sam Jones revival.

HE SWALLOWED LANDANUM

BEN MARSHALL ATTEMPTED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

He is Not Dead Yet and Expected to Recover—Will Probably Recover.

Ben Marshall, a young man living with his mother on Duval street, Atlanta, attempted to commit suicide in Decatur last night by taking morphine.

Marshall is quite well known in Atlanta. He is a former inmate of the penitentiary. His family is poor, but respectable. Marshall liked by those who knew him, he got to drinking, at which time he was given to melancholy and morbid reflections.

On a former occasion while on a spree, his mother caught him in the act of taking morphine from a bottle. She struck the bottle from his hand and killed the contents on the floor. She was of the present opportunity of committing suicide by grinding the white powder into the carpet with her heel.

If reports be true Marshall came from a family whose natural bent was towards fits of madness.

Marshall's father took his life away by an overdose of laudanum. The son has merely attempted to follow the fatal example set by his sire.

Marshall went to Decatur yesterday evening on some business. He was drinking heavily, and in consequence his mind meditated suicide. He had a bottle of laudanum in his pocket—a bottle of laudanum.

Where he got the bottle is unknown. He selected a lonely spot near railroad in North Decatur, where he sat down, and was found lying on the ground early this morning. He was still breathing when discovered and was taken to the hospital.

Doctors were called in and after working some time succeeded in restoring the weak man to his feet. The young man unto his body. He was brought this morning to his home on Duval, and at last reports was seeking quiet.

PAID HIM BINE

Jurors and Court Ordered Help Albert Crane Out of Jail.

In the criminal case against Albert Crane, charged with stealing from a business, supposed of Crane pleaded guilty to the crime in his statement to the court.

He had trumped up a story when he reached here he was very sorry. He broke into a war to get out of jail and filled his pockets with money.

As he made his statement he was in his eyes. He said he was old and came south to get work.

Judge Clark fined him $100. The boy's condition excited sympathy of everyone present.

The jury took up a collection and obtained enough money to pay the fine.

After the boy's release, one of the jurymen, who would give him a home for a while.
