The death of Dewitt Clinton, Governor of the State of New-York, is indeed a National loss. He was truly a great man—and few sinch are found in my age or, country. The powers of his gigantic mind. Sinch high close been exercised, had he lived a few years longer, on a more extensive theater; in om an Being better qualified to fill the highest offices with honor to hisself and profit to his country.

One of the more substantial marks of more clinton, it a bill before the Legislaure of New-York, giving to his four minor children a soun equal to the amount of the Governor's salary for the balance of the present year, and also a sum equal to the present year, and also a sum equal to the held that office. Nearly the whole of Gov. Clinton's life having been devoted to public business, it is probable that, like Alexander Hamilton, he died poor.
