Need we Wonder?

Georgia clamors loudly for im-nigration, boasts of every naturclaims herself the Empire state of the south, and with all these who did not use tobacco in one year gained over those who did 20 per cent, in weight, 29} she wonders why she is not recognized more readily by the engittalist and the emigrant. Wonders! The pity of it!

Did a merchant at this day and al advantage under the sun, pro-claims herself the Empire state Did a merchant at this day and time; go to some commercial center, and adopt as his business methods, those in vogue balf a century ago, would you wender that he did not succeed? This is the trouble with Georgia. She would keep in the very van overy progressive movement, and abreast with other states who are making long and fast strides in the desired direction, and yet she treads the pace of fifty years ago, and wonders, the pity of it? shy it is that capitalist rides in vestibuled cars right across her boundaries into neighboring states, to make his investments. When we shake off our lethergy, rouse our, showed by our people. The white work has one of the content of the ahake off our lethargy, rouse our cyshowed by our people. Solves to adopt measures of the preachers are afraid to tackle solves to adopt measures of the preachers are afraid to tackle sin day, advertise our state at every form for fear their salary place and opportunity that offers itself, we may then begin to have similar to make the for creatts. But not until then for other states, rustling and active, quick to take advantage, ed; the merchants are afraid to will pluck the berry, even before twe find out the location of "the fear that their circulation will be decreased; and the merchants are afraid to will pluck the berry, even before twe find out the location of "the fear their conviction be known for the fear their circulations."

This is local advice, purely, for all sections are, not so highly blessed in this respect. Here, in the gold belt of Georgia, if the chink runs low in the till, all that is necessary is to take moderate exercise with a pick and shovel in some gravel bed, and behold! the yellow metal is forthcoming to pladden the aven my hours. to gladden the eye and heart.
Pick and shovel exercise is not always necessary even, as was proven the other day, over in Towns county at Young Harris. A band of students being order.

The Income Tax in Europe.

The New York World calls attaction to the fact that the chancellor of the British exchequer, in the second to several million of dollars, has decided to increase the income tax.

This tax, any our contemporary, has proved the most facilities and easily calculated of any feature of the budget. So, we may go shead with per-fect confidence and reduce our So, we may go ahead with perfect confidence and reduce our tariff to practically a free trade basis. What ever deficit such a policy may cause in our revenues can easily be made up by taxing incomes. The prompt increase of the income tax in England when the government needs more money signally illustrates the value and convenience of this mode of taxation. Moreover, it is a fair and—a just tax hecause it makes people pay their proportionate share of the corpussors of the government, expenses of the government. expenses of the government, whereas, under our present system a rich man frequenty gets off with only a nominal tax if his property happens to be in the shape of certain bonds and securities while his programment. ities, while his poor neighbor owning a little real estate is taxed to the full extent of his po
