The Alliance Picnic.

Last Fridny was the day selec-ted for an alliance pie nic, and peoples party rally in Cleveland. Of course there was a good turn-out; men, women and children out; men, women and children all came, and well laden baskets of country cheer were in almost every wagon. It is an easy matter to get together a good crowd in White countr—only let it be known that some body will speak, that there is going to be a circus, hear show, or a dog fight in town. and they do not fail to come.

The chief feature of Fridav's show, was a speech by a young 'Mr. Osborn, a people's party speaker, labor agitator, and 'such like," who harranged the crowd for two and a half hours. His speech, (as it was menorized,) speech, (as it was memorized,) consisted of a tirade of abuse of consisted of a tirade of abuse of the democratic and republican parties, and the usual array of figures and statistics, taken from purely populist authorities. But that was not all. He went on to 'the point that showed him an advention of the safe of the same principles—our at of principles—beld by the introduction of the same of the same that the same of the same of the same that the same of the same of the same and the same of the same of the same that the same of the same of the same that the same of the same of the same that the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same of the same same of the same of the same of the same of the same same of the same o and Now York. He 'is " and a have theorist of the ultra type, and says the right to land is as common as the right to air or sunshine. He made a ten-stroke among the small farmers, when he told them that the division of lends, which he would bring about, would give them more, soors, instead of taking away what they now have.

MORE, instead of taking away what they now have. He caught the crowd again when he explained in glib terms how he would run railroads, and everybody could ride free—without a cent. Many other of the principles he advocated were just as rotten as these two mention and smelled strongly of dynamite combs, socialism, and anarchy bombs, sociation, and anarchy throurhout.

Once we sympathised with Osborne allithe, when the police took bim down from the artesian well, in Atlanta; but since we have heard his speech, we see where they did the correct ting. One-han fille Osborne, with a glib tongue, can sow the scid. of diergard for the majesty of law, of sociation, and of anarchy, which will riper into a harvest of dynamite boat's, blt ody riots, and a reign of terror.

Bed Signs.

"I dand reedy to take my nusket any day, to help open up the hanke," are the words used a few days age by a certain disciple of marchy, who lives in the southeastern part of White county.
Such assertions and threats although they cous from an ignorant sames, are full of meaning and are frau bit with danger to the passes of crivil government.
There is no denying the fact that this sentiment is growing, and that it is lesing snoouraged, right here is our midst. It is all over the state, wherever gis burning seed throughout the state, that was harvested only recently a crop of gin lumings, gan posters, white caps and general law lessness.

This year, one J. B. Osborn is doing the sowing, and the seed he scatters broadqust is of a variety more dangerous than every yet been introduced into this section. Capt. McAfee, who has had a life long experience in the mines of this section, says that the Glover is proving itself one of thest unies he has ever yet had the pleasure of opening, and he occan number them by the score.

The nature of the ore renders it very clays to handle and mill.

The nature of the ore renders it very edsy to handle and mill, and situated as , it is, near fine water power, and where timber is plentiful, makes it offs of the must desireable properties in the whole country, and will doubtless yield the lucky owners a handsome income, as soon as they can put in the necessary machinery for working it.

Col. Kimsey, of Cleveland, Ga. Col. Kimsey, of Clevelaud, Ga. spent a day or two in Dahloueza last week. The Colonel is very prominently spoken of for Judge of this circuit next time. He is one of the leading attorneys of this spection and would fill the position, with honor and distinction.
