

THE FIELD AND FIRESIDE.

PUBLISHED BY

R. M. Goodman & Sons.

At One Dollar a Year in Advance
or One Dollar and Fifty Cents if not paid in advance.

IN THE OLD PRINTING OFFICE Building, Powder Springs Street, Marietta, Georgia.

JOHN O. GARTHELL, Attorney at Law, practices in Cobb and Adair counties. Office in Masonic Building, upstairs. Marietta, Oct. 19, 1878.

W. M. SESSIONS, Attorney at Law,
office north side of Public Square,
in Blackwell's Building, upstairs.
Marietta, October 1, 1877.

E. M. ALLEN, Resident Dentist, of more than twenty years. Charges Reasonable.
Office—North side of Public Square,
Marietta, March 13, 1877.

D. R. TENNETT, Practitioner
Physician. Office on Cassville St.
—Residence on Cherokee street.
Marietta, March 13, 1877.

D. R. J. SETTE, Physician and Surgeon, treats his professional services in the practice of Medicine and his branches to the citizens of Marietta and surrounding country. Office at the Drug Store of Wm. Bland, near 125-127.

J. O. GREEN,
DENTIST.
125-SOUTH SIDE OF THE PUBLIC SQUARE,
Marietta, . . . Georgia.

D. & T. B. IRWIN, Attorney at Law. Will practice in the Blue Ridge, Boone and Coweta Counties.
Marietta, March 13, 1878.

WILLIAM C. GREEN,
Watchmaker & Jewellers,
MARIETTA, GEORGIA.

A. S. O., dealer in Clocks of every description. Repairing of Watches, Clocks, etc., a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Sign of Big Watch, west side Public Square. oct 2

NEW CARRIAGES and Buggies,
Wagons and Cabs of all styles.
All kinds of Vehicles built or repaired.
Work guaranteed. Orders solicited.
—H. O. GRAMLIN, Jr.

"Apprentices are something with everyone—everything with some."
—Bishop Berkeley.

1877. . . . 1878.
John W. Metcalf, respectfully informs the citizens of Marietta and vicinity, that he is better prepared than ever to do anything in the Tailoring line, guaranteeing his patrons faithful work at moderate prices. sep 19

GENERAL REPAIR SHOP—
I am now prepared to do all kinds of repairs on Carriages, Buggies and Wagons; also, Blacksmithing in all its branches. Horse-shoeing and Farm work my special business. Plows always on hand for sale or hire. Respected. Orders solicited.
—J. F. MANNING.
Marietta, Jan. 16, 79. Decatur at

D. R. H. REYNOLDS Practising Physician.
When not engaged elsewhere may be found during the day at his office in McClatchey's Building, South West corner of Public Square, Marietta, or at the Residence of Dr. A. Reynolds near Roll Road Bridge.
Marietta, May 1, 1879.

M. T. GRIST,
CHEROKEE STREET,
Saddle and Harness Maker,
AND REPAIRER.
Marietta, Geo., March 15, 1877.

F. A. IRWIN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office South Side Public Square,
MARIETTA, GEORGIA.

PIANO PIANOS WITH TUNING AND REPAIRING.
Thiele's undersigned respectfully informs his services to the citizens of Marietta and vicinity as tuner and repairer of Pianos. His work is done in every respect, and will do so cheap
as any other. He has a large stock of Pianos on hand, and will accept of Pianos in the Post-office, will secure prompt attention. Will sell Pianos or Organs at the lowest prices, and upon easy accommodating terms, cash, or on time, to good and reliable parties.
July 11-17
—JOHN SALLS.

NATIONAL HOTEL.
THE ONLY FIRST-CLASS HOTEL IN Dalton, Ga. —Georgia.
Rates, per Day, $5.00.
Rates, per Week, $25.00.
Large Sample Rooms for Commercial Travelers.
J. Q. A. LEWIS, Proprietor.
W. M. LEWIS, Clerk.

LIVERPOOL & LONDON & GLOBE
INSURANCE COMPANY.
11, Broad Street
Liabilities $1,000,000
Surplus over all liabilities $1,708,131 51
Total Income of 1877 $2,713,000 22
—expenditures of 1877 $1,000,915 79
Surplus Income of 1877 $1,708,131 51
Aggregate of losses paid by the Company over $750,000.
Risks taken at retail rates of Premium. Apply to
—W. M. LEWIS, Agent.
MARIETTA, GA. Oct. 2, 1879.

CONTRACTOR
AND BUILDERS.
Thiele's undersigned continues his business of Brick Making, Stone, and Brick Building, and is prepared at all times to take contracts on the most reasonable terms, and guarantee them to the most satisfactory results.
—B. B. WALLIS.
Marietta, Ga. Mar. 13, 1877.

THE FIELD AND FIRESIDE.

"TO THINE OWN SELF BE TRUE—AND IT MUST FOLLOW AS THE NIGHT THE DAY—THOU CANST NOT THEN BE FALSE TO ANY ONE."

Vol. 2.]

Marietta, Ga., Thursday Morning, August 14, 1879.

[No.]

Money to Loan.

The United States

OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Capital . . . $100,000.
Paid Capital . . . 400,000.

Receives deposits for accumulations,
issues certificates of deposits for annuity, loans, and grants long term loans on city, town, farm and church property,
from eight to six per cent per annum.
Office Gulf Department, Atlanta, Ga.
Address Box 4, WHITEHALL BUILDING, stating that you saw advertisement in this paper.

Carriages! Buggies! Wagons!

Still at the Old Stand.

Marietta, Georgia.

THE subscribers offer Carriages
Buggies, Wagons and Harnesses of superior material and finish, at the most reasonable prices.

Work We want!

All kinds of Vehicles built or repaired to order. Encourage your home industry when you have every reason to expect good work at moderate prices.
We are well equipped with repairing all kinds of Vehicles, from a Plow to a Horseless Carriage. We intend that nothing shall leave our shop unless it is a first-class job. Having had 30 years experience in this line, we are well acquainted with the wants of the community in this section of Georgia. Special attention given to orders either in Carriages or Harness. Prices reduced to suit the times. We will give a better job for the money than can be done anywhere.
Thankful for past favors, we earnestly ask a continuance of the same.

REID & GRAMLIN.

Marietta, Jan. 9, 79.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

AT THE POST OFFICE MARIETTA, GA.

S. mail arrives 7.15 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.
L. mail arrives 8.30 a.m. and 4.30 p.m.
N. leaves 12.15 p.m. and 10.07 a.m.
N. leaves 12.15 p.m. and 3.30 a.m.

CANTON MAIL.

Arrives d'y (Sundays except) 11.45 a.m.
Leaves 1.00 p.m.

DALLAS MAIL.

Arrives d'y (Sundays except) 2.30 p.m.
Leaves 3.30 p.m.

ROSWELL MAIL.

Arrives d'y (Sundays except) 6.30 a.m.
Leaves 6.30 a.m.

OFFICE HOUR.

Week days from 7.30 a.m. to 3.30 p.m.
Sundays 7.30 a.m. to 8.30 a.m.
and from 3.45 p.m. to 4.00 p.m.

Great Reduction in Prices.

Knowing that many of the people of this city are in need of a Dental work, who owing to the high prices, cannot afford to have their teeth treated to what I can bring them to do. I have reduced my prices to such an extent that I can now bring them to do so. I have reduced my prices from 50 cents to 25 cents.
Full set of artificial teeth 25 cents.
Full set of artificial teeth 25 cents.
I will work on time when requested
to do so by responsible parties.
Having an office built and fitted up with first class instruments and apparatus on the teeth in the most manner possible. Reasonable. I guarantee my work. I use the best material.
Took trouble for cleaning and beauti-
fying the teeth. I use the best material.
Took trouble for cleaning and beauti-
fying the teeth. I use the best material.
Took trouble for cleaning and beauti-
fying the teeth. I use the best material.

W. C. McLellan.

WISHES TO INFORM HIS
friends and the friends of L. C.
McLellan, that, as successor of the latter, he has and will keep on hand, fully up to date, standards, all the leading brands of Imported WINES and BRANDIES. Also full line of old RYE and BOURBON Whiskies—with domestic GINS and WHISKIES,
and would call attention especially
to the OHIO VALLEY WINES, on draft and bottled, at reasonable prices.

The Medical Fraternity are invited to examine.

W. C. McLELLAN.
Marietta, Ga., March 18, 79.

Misplaced Jealousy.

ISAAC AND LITTLE TROT.

Little Trot was really named Georgiana Jones, but the name was too long for her. She was a little darning with blue eyes
and yellow hair, and round red cheeks; and little Isaac Jacobs,
who lived next door to her, admired her exceedingly.

Little Isaac had big black eyes
and a little like a toothy grin,
and a large round nose. He was ten and Trot was five; but Isaac had made up his mind that he was in love with Trot, and that what they were told enough they would be married.

One day he said to his sister
Rachel, who instantly shook her head and her black curls furiously and cried out—
"Oh, no, no, that could never be; your religions are different.
No one can marry a person of a different religion. I could not accept the hand of Mr. Smith, the baker over the street, but I am now engaged to a girl who, I know, is in the Jewelry business. You see it can never be; Isaac. But there is little Maria."

Then she laughed and told her mother of the good joke; but it was no joke to Isaac. He thought of Rachel's words and climbed up over the fence and called softly to Trot.

"Trot, come here."
Trot came. She held her big doll in one hand and a stick of peppermint in the other, and she was glad to see Isaac, for they were never apart.

"Come over and play," she said.
"I can't, he said. Father said I must go off on an errand; but I want to ask you have you any religion?"

Trot ran away and said "no" to him, and he went on the errand
with a heavy heart.

That night after he went to bed
he thought of it a good deal. His sister Rachel was reading, alone in the next room. The story was all about love and romance, and suddenly these words caught Isaac's ear.

"The child parents objected to the union and refused their consent."
Now—never will I suspect my father of such a thing. I will bear my Elvira away from them all, and we will dwell together
upon some lonely island where young-hearted age cannot vex us.
Come, my Elvira, our boat is ready. Away!"

Just what he should have done
said Rachel by way of comment.
Isaac sat up in bed—a new idea
had entered his mind.

He might, after all, elope with Trot. Down on the slope of the river many boats lay, and a steep stopping once a week, and a steam or often came in sight.

He knew there were islands not far away. Why should he wait to become a man? He would elope with Trot to-morrow.

If it was right for Theodora,
who was a public character, believing in a book, it was assuredly right for him; and he fell asleep,
thinking of it.

He awoke thinking of it too,
and at 9 o'clock, having carefully folded two pieces of paper and butter in paper, stuffed his pocket
with the contents.

He went to the door of his room, unlocked it, and stepped
out. He went to the door of his
room, unlocked it, and stepped
out. He went to the door of his room, unlocked it, and stepped out.

on a beautiful island
like Elvira's.

"What is Elvira?"
asked Trot.
"Look here, I
we've got cruel
enough to do."

Isaac went alone with
land?"
"Yes," said
and put one hand and tucked
under her arm.

Isaac went towards the point
at which the door of his house was visible.

The man noticed that he had mistaken a lady with a basket
and said—
"Ah right!"

And Isaac instantly dragged
Trot into the thick of the crowd,
and in five minutes more the boat had left the wharf, and Trot and Isaac were on their way to the romantic island of the boy's dreams.

The sail was delightful.
Trot was amused by the sight of the people, the sparkling water,
the dancing boat upon it.

Isaac was delighted.
About noon the Muskadee Island was reached.

The crowd that lay on shore and Trot was instantly conveyed by Isaac to a green spot, where the two sat down together, quite a happy family, with the doll between them.

"Isn't this fine?" asked Isaac.
"Yes," said Trot. "I want my dinner."

Isaac at once produced the bread and butter and the pears,
they feasted.

After this Trot fell asleep.
Isaac took off his jacket and put it under his head.

Then he threw stones into the water for a long while and finally lay down upon the grass and fell asleep also.

Isaac was alone with his Trot's doll, but he was not as satisfied as he had hoped. He would have liked to have had Trot with him.

Isaac was in despair, but he brought him of the picnic
ground, and there gathered up
the relics of the feast—bits of bread and butter, and a few cakes.

He went then to Trot's
dinner. He was hungry; the food
which he had brought with him
was all gone, and he was starving.

He went then to Trot's
dinner. He was hungry; the food
which he had brought with him
was all gone, and he was
starving.

visions were in the support of the

and shrieked
herd Trot
he was so
hair was her do
this
her pro

It grew perfectly dark and
thunder and lightning to flash—
Then the rain beat down.

"Trot, Trot!" he shrieked
in vain.

It grew perfectly dark and
thunder and lightning to flash—
Then the rain beat down.

"Trot, Trot!" he shrieked
in despair.

For hours he roamed about,
striking against trees in the dark,
tripping, stumbling, wet to the skin.

"At last," he cried in a horrible
voice.

He looked up. A tall, black thing stood before him. He felt sure that it was the ghost that
haunted the island and fell upon
his face in the mud.

Meanwhile Mrs. Jones had missed Trot. Mrs. Jacobs had begun to wonder where Isaac was.
The two mothers compared
notes. A search was begun. At sunset the respective members of
the two families and all their
friends and relations were scouring the country or having hyster-
ics at home.

Rumors of all sorts were afloat.
They were drowned—murdered—
carried away. It appeared to both
mothers most likely that people
who were envious of such characters had been lying in wait for
these offspring of days.

The inhabitants of the village
were rather pleased at the thought of a real tragedy. The guardians of the law advised the
straying mothers to keep cool,
and were evidently suspicious
that they had killed them to serve all parties.

The evening passed. Night
came. The rain beat upon the village.

Old Grandfather Foke mightily
interested in the news stood by
the tavern door and every now
and then said—
Finally at 10 o'clock he delivered
himself of these words:

"When I see you at the picnic
they were as safe and well as
any of us. Such life is."

"At the picnic!" shrieked a
female relative of the missing
Trot. "Where? What? Tell
me!"

Isaac and Little Trot were found, Pake. As I was coming away with my basket I
saw both asleep on the grass,
as well as any of us."

and shrieked
herd Trot
he was so
hair was
her do
this
her pro

It grew perfectly dark and
thunder and lightning to flash—
Then the rain beat down.

"Trot, Trot!" he shrieked
in vain.

It grew perfectly dark and
thunder and lightning to flash—
Then the rain beat down.

"Trot, Trot!" he shrieked
in despair.

For hours he roamed about,
striking against trees in the dark,
tripping, stumbling, wet to the
skin.

"At last," he cried in a horrible
voice.

He looked up. A tall, black thing stood before him. He felt
sure that it was the ghost that
haunted the island and fell upon
his face in the mud.

Meanwhile Mrs. Jones had missed Trot. Mrs. Jacobs had begun to wonder where Isaac was.
The two mothers compared
notes. A search was begun. At sunset the respective members of
the two families and all their
friends and relations were scour-
ing the country or having hyster-
ics at home.

Rumors of all sorts were afloat.
They were drowned—murdered—
carried away. It appeared to both
mothers most likely that people
who were envious of such characters had been lying in wait for
these offspring of days.

The inhabitants of the village
were rather pleased at the thought of a real tragedy. The
guardians of the law advised the
straying mothers to keep cool,
and were evidently suspicious
that they had killed them to
serve all parties.

The evening passed. Night
came. The rain beat upon the village.

Old Grandfather Foke mightily
interested in the news stood by
the tavern door and every now
and then said—
Finally at 10 o'clock he delivered
himself of these words:

"When I see you at the picnic
they were as safe and well as
any of us. Such life is."

"At the picnic!" shrieked a
female relative of the missing
Trot. "Where? What? Tell
me!"

Isaac and Little Trot were
found, Pake. As I was coming away with my basket I
saw both asleep on the grass,
as well as any of us."

Isaac and Little Trot were
found, Pake. As I was coming away with my basket I
saw both asleep on the grass,
as well as any of us."

and shrieked
herd Trot
he was so
hair was
her do
this
her pro

It grew perfectly dark and
thunder and lightning to flash—
Then the rain beat down.

"Trot, Trot!" he shrieked
in vain.

It grew perfectly dark and
thunder and lightning to flash—
Then the rain beat down.

"Trot, Trot!" he shrieked
in despair.

For hours he roamed about,
striking against trees in the dark,
tripping, stumbling, wet to the
skin.

"At last," he cried in a horrible
voice.

He looked up. A tall, black thing stood before him. He felt
sure that it was the ghost that
haunted the island and fell upon
his face in the mud.

Meanwhile Mrs. Jones had missed Trot. Mrs. Jacobs had begun to wonder where Isaac was.
The two mothers compared
notes. A search was begun. At sunset the respective members of
the two families and all their
friends and relations were scour-
ing the country or having hyster-
ics at home.

Rumors of all sorts were afloat.
They were drowned—murdered—
carried away. It appeared to both
mothers most likely that people
who were envious of such characters had been lying in wait for
these offspring of days.

The inhabitants of the village
were rather pleased at the thought of a real tragedy. The
guardians of the law advised the
straying mothers to keep cool,
and were evidently suspicious
that they had killed them to
serve all parties.

The evening passed. Night
came. The rain beat upon the village.

Old Grandfather Foke mightily
interested in the news stood by
the tavern door and every now
and then said—
Finally at 10 o'clock he delivered
himself of these words:

"When I see you at the picnic
they were as safe and well as
any of us. Such life is."

"At the picnic!" shrieked a
female relative of the missing
Trot. "Where? What? Tell
me!"

Isaac and Little Trot were
found, Pake. As I was coming away with my basket I
saw both asleep on the grass,
as well as any of us."

Isaac and Little Trot were
found, Pake. As I was coming away with my basket I
saw both asleep on the grass,
as well as any of us."

...the history of medical science in England has occurred in London the "blue ribbon" of the profession having been carried off by a Japanese student. At the distribution of prizes at St. Thomas's Hospital, the gold medal was an honor coveted and for every student who occupies a worthy position. The gold medal was given to a young man named Takaki, who had been studying in the United States for several years and was a member of the medical profession.

...they are all the time in the hands of the people. The people are the ones who are to be benefited by the adoption of the metric standard. It is expected that it will be at the convention of the National Cotton Exchange in this city Wednesday next is creating much interest among cotton dealers. A committee of prominent dealers is now engaged in making arrangements for the place and programme of meeting, and there is every reason to expect the convention will be very successful. It is expected that it will be attended by sixty to one hundred delegates, representing every important district interested in the production of cotton. Just what subjects as will be discussed at the convention have not yet been decided. President Phelps of New Orleans, is now in Boston on business connected with the convention, and will be on hand to preside next week.

To Those in Need.
Have your watch or a clock to repair, or needing any work on your sewing machine?
If you do, and want it done on the "square"
Just call on "your truly."
Wm. C. Green.
His shop is situated north of the square, in Lindley & Barnes' dry-goods store. His work first-class, charges fair. You can't see your money ask any more.
All I ask is one trial of my work and prices and I know you will be satisfied. I am prepared to do first-class work at very low figures. I mean business. Call and see for yourself.
Yours Truly,
Wm. C. Green.

Marietta LIVERY STABLE.
Opposite the Kennam House.
THE best of Vehicles, the safest of Drivers, and the fastest of Horses are always ready, night and day, for hire. No man or woman or child has given me a call in the past who has been nor shall any ever in the future, be dissatisfied with my team or the men in my employ. Everything and every body about me are a No. 1.
I have cheapened my charges proportionally to the stringency of the times. For reference to the truth of what I say as to the terms and charges, go to my friends. Parties hiring are strictly responsible for the safety of themselves, vehicles and horses.
J. A. G. ANDERSON.

W. K. ROOT.
Dealer in.
DRUGS
CHEMICALS,
Paints and Oils,
GLASS,
VARNISHES,
BOOKS & STATIONERY,
TOILET ARTICLES, Etc.
Prescriptions carefully prepared at all hours, day or night.
HAVE ALSO IN STOCK a fresh and genuine stock of TURNIP SEED for the crop of 1879.
W. K. ROOT.
Marietta, Ga. July 1st 1879.

...the Summerville Mills, Augusta, are preparing to go into operation some time in the next six months. The Mills says our secretary and treasurer states that $50,000 new bonds of the Summerville Mills are being prepared, and will be put on the market this fall as a gift of securities. They will be rapidly taken.

The farmers of Citronville district, Taylor county, propose soon to have a grand agricultural dinner, in which all the farmers and their families in the entire community will participate. A good idea. Such reunions bring neighbors together, cause pleasant acquaintances to be made among families, enable agriculturalists, whose interests are mutual, to exchange opinions and or friendship which must be redound to their general welfare.

Says the Lynchburg (Va.) News: "In a few years we will hear of many sheep ranches in Georgia, and many woolen mills and cotton factories. Georgia is, through her agriculturists and her capitalists, showing more sense than all the southern states together. She is pushing the manufacture of all her raw material of the forest, field and mine. She is investing every dollar of her capital in these and she is becoming independent and prosperous.

That business of exploding bombs in Spanish churches, we should think would have a great effect upon sinners. We know not whether the germs of sin may be destroyed by concussion, but brimstone is nature's own treatment for sin.

For the past six months there has been a great increase in the value of real estate in the vicinity of New York, and it now commands a better price than it has for years. Unimproved farm lands, for instance, at Bergen Point, on the lower bay, commanded twenty thousand dollars an acre.

There is a common notion that it takes a toll of cotton six weeks to mature after the bloom drops from the stalk, but an experienced planter thinks this is an error. He says that from the latter part of June to the 15th or 20th of July it takes a boll of cotton thirty days to become fully grown after the bloom drops from the stalk, and from then on the September it only takes

THE FIELD AND FIRESIDE.

DEVOTED TO AGRICULTURE, GENERAL NEWS, MISCELLANY,

Published every Thursday morning at the Old Printing Office Building Marietta, Georgia.

Subscription, One Dollar IN ADVANCE.

ADVERTISING At Reduced Rates.

JOB PRINTING

Of all kinds in the most approved style and at reduced prices.

WITH THE BEST

Of material and doing our own labor, we offer ourselves as candidates for a share of the public favor.

Respectfully,

R. M. Goodman & Sons.

C. P. CULFORD
PIANOS AND ORGANS,
25 Whitehall Street,
ATLANTA, GA.

J. F. Lindley. W. L. Barnes.

LINDLEY & BARNES

North Side of Square, next door to C. C. Cooke Corner.
Dealers In,
Dry Goods, Hats, Boots,
Shoes and Groceries.

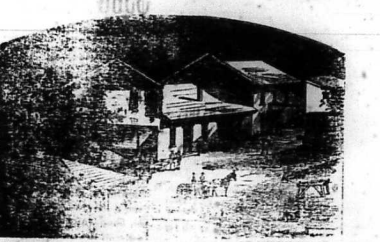

Marietta, Ga., Feb. 6, '79.
FURNITURE!
CHEAPER THAN THE CHEAPEST.
Black Walnut Dressing Case Suits, Full Marble, 10 pieces, $50. Cottage Suits $20. The Best Parlor Goods in the Market For the Money. Walnut Bureau With Glass, $10. Good Common Bedsteads, $2. And a Full Line of Other Furniture Cheaper Than Any House in the State. Terms Strictly Cash.
IVEN & THOMAS.
12 & 14 White Hall Street, Atlanta, Ga.
Aug. 22, '78.

Large and New Arrivals
AT
L. S. NORTHCUTT & SON,
South West Corner of the Public Square.

A LARGE and select Stock of Dry Goods, embracing everything usually found in a first class Dry Goods store. The Goods are direct from the Manufacturers and their Agents, and will be sold as low or lower FOR CASH than any similar Goods ever brought to this market. I mean what I say. Call and examine for yourselves. Our extensive stock of Boots and Shoes, Hats, Caps, &c.
Are made at the best Factories and never fail to give entire satisfaction.
Marietta, Jan. 9, '79.
L. S. NORTHCUTT.

HALEY BROTHERS,
—(DEALERS IN)—
GROCERIES,
HARDWARE,
AND GENERAL MERCHANDISE
NORTH-EAST CORNER PUBLIC SQUARE.
Marietta, Georgia.
October, 1, 1877.

Marietta Paper Manufacturing Company,

MANUFACTURERS OF
First-Class Book, News And Wrapping Paper.

Rags Wanted.
SAXON A. ANDERSON Agent,

THE FIELD AND FIRESIDE

MARIETTA, AUGUST 14, 1879.

Peck's Restaurant.

When you visit Atlanta go to DAVID G. PECK'S RESTAURANT, 108 S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga., where I am prepared to furnish you a No. 1 meal for 25 cts. My table will be supplied with the best of the market, when in season. I will exchange with you any of the following: Chicken, Eggs, Vegetables, or any other article that I use on my table. A family group attached to my Restaurant. A trial will be given. Give me a call, for I mean what I say. The following is the Bill of Fare: Regular Dinner, 25 cts. Oyster Soup, 10 cts. Vegetable Soup, 10 cts. Turkey Soup, 10 cts. Chicken Soup, 10 cts. Ham, Eggs, Coffee, Bread and Butter, 25 cts. Steak, Eggs, Coffee, Bread and Butter, 25 cts. Fish, Eggs, Coffee, Bread and Butter, 25 cts. Oyster Soup and Coffee, 25 cts. Oyster Fry and Coffee, 25 cts. Raw Oysters, 25 cts. Remember the place, DAVID G. PECK, No. 108, Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.

The Singing Tone of Piano.

To acquire a true legato touch is the most difficult of Piano Technique. The touch is necessary in order to bring out the singing quality of tone in a piano. A piano player must possess this tone and the most perfect mechanism, the most material and skilled workmanship are requisite to insure it. It is the verdict of all artists that the Grand Upright Piano excels all others in this quality both in singing and carrying qualities of tone, united with the greatest power. aug 13

The town was almost depopulated last Sunday. Everybody and his wife went out to camping.

Local news of interest is scarce. So scarce in fact, that we are satisfied that news from abroad will prove more acceptable to our readers than the ordinary gossip we might receive by writing.

We learn of the death on last Friday, at Clarksville, Habersham county, of Mr. Geo. D. Phillips, father of our countryman, citizens Gen. Wm. and Col. C. Phillips. He had lived to a ripe old age.

During a thunder storm near Lost Mountain last week, lightning struck in the center of a field of cotton on the farm of Dr. Alton. A circle of some thirty feet was completely cleared of every living cotton stalk.

SNAKE BITTEN.—Rev. J. J. Hunt, while removing some shingles on his premises last Thursday, was bitten on the finger by a ground rattlesnake. His arm and hand were soon covered with the venomous, and, but for the immediate application of antidotes results would have been serious.

The following is from a little boy residing in Davenport Iowa: Davenport, Iowa, Aug. 2d, 79. Editors Field and Fireside:

It is two years or more since my Grandfather subscribed for your nice weekly paper, and I think he must have paid for two years subscription, or you would not have sent it to me.

Until to-day I have not received a copy for four weeks, and I really missed it so much, I don't feel that I can do without it.

I am a boy twelve years old, and feel something more than a curiosity to have it continued. Enclosed I send one dollar for another year. B. B. S. *****

LOST MOUNTAIN. We have had a few more days of sunshine which we hope will stop our cotton from shedding. The excessive wet weather filled everything with sap and ruined our bunnies by making them grow to full size ears of corn. Hogs that are not fattened and killed this winter, will have to rot for their living next year for the reason that we have not seen any short corn to feed them on, and you know we never feed good corn to our hogs.

Great preparations are being made by the people of this neighborhood for the association at Shiloh: We met at the church last Monday and erected an arbor large enough to accommodate a thousand people. We are pleased to say that there were many who assisted in the work.

Other denominations, which shows that they believe in loving every one to worship under his own vine and fig tree. In addition to building the arbor we cleared off the grave yard and caused it to appear to better advantage.

What has become of all our correspondents? We would be glad to hear from them every week. Come "Wild Horses" wake up, and let us hear from you occasionally. We give no notice to an intelligent writer from Kennewas, and we have longed to hear from him again, and if we do not soon we will be in to think he has gone into ob-irgity.

The general health of this neighborhood is very good.

A WELL MERITED Compliment.

We note with pleasure and pride that the Trustees of the University of Georgia have, at their last high degree, conferred the high degree of Doctor of Divinity upon the Rev. Dr. L. L. Buttolph. It is a great distinction, and one most warmly bestowed by the University on one whose modesty is equal to his merits. Doctor Buttolph is a Theologian, a ripe scholar and one of the best preachers his denomination has given to the country to the century. The University, throughout its history, has ever been chary of conferring such honors.

WEST POINT CADETSHIP. To be Appointed from the Seventh Congressional District.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, June 21, 1879.

Hon. W. H. Felton, M. C., Cartersville, Ga.

Sir:—You are invited by the Secretary of War to nominate at your earliest convenience, a legally qualified candidate, for appointment as Cadet to the United States Military Academy, from the Seventh Congressional District of Georgia, who must be at least 16 years of age, and whose appointment is required by law to be made as nearly one year in advance of that date as is practicable.

Your immediate attention to the subject and to the terms of the accompanying circular is earnestly requested.

Very respectfully, your ob't servant, E. D. TOWSE, Adjutant General.

Vice Cadet Edgar Hubert to graduate June, 1880.

In obedience to the above request of the Secretary of War, I respectfully invite every young man who is a bona fide resident of the 7th Congressional District of Georgia, between the ages of 17 and 22 years, and who may wish to compete for this appointment, to appear before a board of examiners in Cartersville, the first Tuesday in October, 1879. I will nominate the applicant selected by this board, after a rigid and impartial examination. The studies in which thorough proficiency is required, are orography, reading, writing, geography, English grammar, history, and arithmetic. None admitted unless they are well versed in these branches, especially arithmetic.

They must be physically sound, and at least five feet in height.

I will furnish "regulations" to those applicants who desire them. Very respectfully, W. H. FELTON.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Bartow county—Messrs G. B. Ryals, E. D. Smith, Thos. H. Baker, Amos T. Akerman.

Catoosa county—Messrs A. I. Leet, A. Graham, T. A. Williams, F. C. Church.

Cherokee county—Messrs Mar. Field, H. Newman, W. N. Wilson, P. H. Brewster.

Dade county—Messrs J. W. Townsend, R. A. Morgan, R. M. Paris.

Gobb county—Messrs W. T. Wain, John O. Gartrell, Gilbert Tennent, Marion Phillips.

Chattooga county—Messrs W. Shropshire, Joseph T. Hamilton, John Starling, F. Cheney.

Floyd county—Messrs G. A. Pinnally, L. J. Jones, Daniel S. Prunty, R. D. Harvey.

Gordon county—Messrs David Ramsaur, H. B. Herrington, G. W. Walls, M. V. Watts.

Hardee county—Messrs Thos. Philpot, Walter Brock, John Tomlinson, Dr. Hutchinson.

Murray county—Messrs Jathan Gregory, Ross Bates, S. H. Henry, Dr. Stafford.

Paulding county—Messrs Geo. Lewis, John Glantz, J. B. Dean, H. J. Stial.

Polk county—Messrs Frey Thompson, M. Liddell, R. W. E. Erett, R. L. Poole.

Whitfield county—Messrs Dawson A. Walker, W. H. Tibbs, W. C. Richardson, W. L. Headrick.

Walker county—Messrs D. Far. Baker, Dougherty, Wm. A. Garmay, L. R. Decker.

Any five members of the above board shall constitute a quorum.

THE ICEVILLE MURDER.

ADDITIONAL LIGHT UPON THE NATURE OF THE SUSPECTED PARTIES AND THE MOOD.

From Tuesday's Constitution we take the following as pointing undeniably to the true perpetrators of the recent horrible murder of the Dehors.

One week after the crime the only valuable missed—the notes and money—were found in an old fashioned pitcher upon a table in the corner of the very room in which the deed had been done. Scouting parties scoured the country in every direction. Every point in the community was excited, and every eye was strained. Rewards were offered by relatives of the deceased and by the governor, the whole police, for a time, seemed to have dedicated themselves to the search for the perpetrator of this crime, without the shadow of a palliation or the semblance of a parallel in the history of Georgia. Many arrests were made, but the negroes, upon showing their whereabouts upon the night of the crime, were promptly and justly released. Theory ran wild, and fact seemed lost forever in the mists of mystery. Suspicion ran riot, and was just in the act of pointing its trembling finger at the kinsman of the deceased, when sympathy shielded him with her hallowed wing. And then Asa Gunn was brought with his wonderful confession, implicating a white man and another negro. Thorough search was made for these persons in the southern field of the profession, has been silently and industriously following a trail indicated to his mind as likely to bring him to the correct solution of the enigma. It is safe to say that out of the shade of the case has escaped his certainty, and that every feature for and against his theory has been weighed and considered. Still he is confident that he has made no mistake. If he has erred, it is an exceptional mishap to his usually correct judgment.

Yesterday he came into the capital to perfect his arrangements.

MANAGE THE MURDERER.

An affidavit was sworn out by Mr. James M. Moore, one of the relatives of the Dehors, charging to the best of his information and belief, that a certain negro was the murderer of the aged and unfortunate couple. Upon the basis of this affidavit, the governor issued a requisition upon the governor of Alabama for the negro in connection with the whole affair.

But a quiet, collected gentleman who went out with him said that Asa was again threatened and prompted and so intimidated by the crowd which was present, that he told a medley of lies which would have awakened the envy of Munchausen and kindled the admiration of Perkins. And the public said that Asa had been shamefully treated, and didn't believe in confession anyhow. And the men who took Asa out, that is some of them, said he is undoubtedly the man; and the on ly man, and shall surely die. They led him to jail where he is still confining and denying and lying, and re lying and lying yet again.

But the stern facts printed by The Constitution in its first elaborate review still remain.

The murderer was perfectly familiar with the habits of the old people and the premises.

The murder was not committed for the purpose of burglary. The money was left. The murder was not committed from a motive of revenge. The old people had no enemies. The murder was the result of a deep plan. An active brain laid it. The murder may have been done for hire and salary. Why not? The murderer may have been playing for futures. Why not?

The motive for the murder is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Yesterday Asa Gunn was carried before Justice Tanner for trial. He waived an examination and went back to jail. He says that he can prove an alibi, that an old negro man who lives six miles beyond the Chattahoochee will swear that he spent that terrible Friday night under his roof.

Bill Jones, detective left on the West Point train yesterday for Alabama. He took with him a requisition from Governor Colquitt upon the governor of Alabama for a man whom he is confident is the right one.

From the ordinary we learn that the Dehors property has been divided among the heirs.

The property amounted to about $6,000. There were four heirs:

Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Leonhardt, daughters of Mr. Dehors; and W. Moore, son of Mr. Tom Moore, and T. H. Jeffreys. The dwelling went to Mrs. Walker. We learn it was sold by her to Mr. Moore last week and has been torn down by that gentleman, who proposes to use the lumber in erecting a barn upon his place.

Each heir received about one-fourth of the property. The Dehors took as his share about that sum, with the standing that the notes which shall be made by other heirs for a relative of the deceased and by the governor, the whole police, for a time, seemed to have dedicated themselves to the search for the perpetrator of this crime, without the shadow of a palliation or the semblance of a parallel in the history of Georgia. Many arrests were made, but the negroes, upon showing their whereabouts upon the night of the crime, were promptly and justly released.

Since the commission of the dastardly crime, Detective Bill Jones, one of the very sharpest and most successful men in the southern field of the profession, has been silently and industriously following a trail indicated to his mind as likely to bring him to the correct solution of the enigma. It is safe to say that out of the shade of the case has escaped his certainty, and that every feature for and against his theory has been weighed and considered. Still he is confident that he has made no mistake. If he has erred, it is an exceptional mishap to his usually correct judgment.

Yesterday he came into the capital to perfect his arrangements.

MANAGE THE MURDERER.

An affidavit was sworn out by Mr. James M. Moore, one of the relatives of the Dehors, charging to the best of his information and belief, that a certain negro was the murderer of the aged and unfortunate couple. Upon the basis of this affidavit, the governor issued a requisition upon the governor of Alabama for the negro in connection with the whole affair.

But a quiet, collected gentleman who went out with him said that Asa was again threatened and prompted and so intimidated by the crowd which was present, that he told a medley of lies which would have awakened the envy of Munchausen and kindled the admiration of Perkins. And the public said that Asa had been shamefully treated, and didn't believe in confession anyhow. And the men who took Asa out, that is some of them, said he is undoubtedly the man; and the on ly man, and shall surely die. They led him to jail where he is still confining and denying and lying, and re lying and lying yet again.

But the stern facts printed by The Constitution in its first elaborate review still remain.

The murderer was perfectly familiar with the habits of the old people and the premises.

The murder was not committed for the purpose of burglary. The money was left. The murder was not committed from a motive of revenge. The old people had no enemies. The murder was the result of a deep plan. An active brain laid it. The murder may have been done for hire and salary. Why not? The murderer may have been playing for futures. Why not?

The motive for the murder is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Yesterday Asa Gunn was carried before Justice Tanner for trial. He waived an examination and went back to jail. He says that he can prove an alibi, that an old negro man who lives six miles beyond the Chattahoochee will swear that he spent that terrible Friday night under his roof.

Bill Jones, detective left on the West Point train yesterday for Alabama. He took with him a requisition from Governor Colquitt upon the governor of Alabama for a man whom he is confident is the right one.

From the ordinary we learn that the Dehors property has been divided among the heirs.

stopped after murdering persons to destroy the evidence of his crime upon the axe blade by rubbing it in ashes. It considered a very absurd and unusual action for a murderer. What he was to rub out the blood on the ax when there were horrible gashes left in the necks of the aged pair that no power on earth could rub out or obliterate? It is claimed was done with a heavy iron.

The cuts were made with a countryman's axe. He cut the ax with the Government ax.

He had a knife with a long heavy blade, a butcher's knife. He cut the ax with the Government ax.

He had a knife with a long heavy blade, a butcher's knife. He cut the ax with the Government ax.

He had a knife with a long heavy blade, a butcher's knife. He cut the ax with the Government ax.

MANAGE THE MURDERER.

An affidavit was sworn out by Mr. James M. Moore, one of the relatives of the Dehors, charging to the best of his information and belief, that a certain negro was the murderer of the aged and unfortunate couple. Upon the basis of this affidavit, the governor issued a requisition upon the governor of Alabama for the negro in connection with the whole affair.

But a quiet, collected gentleman who went out with him said that Asa was again threatened and prompted and so intimidated by the crowd which was present, that he told a medley of lies which would have awakened the envy of Munchausen and kindled the admiration of Perkins. And the public said that Asa had been shamefully treated, and didn't believe in confession anyhow. And the men who took Asa out, that is some of them, said he is undoubtedly the man; and the on ly man, and shall surely die. They led him to jail where he is still confining and denying and lying, and re lying and lying yet again.

But the stern facts printed by The Constitution in its first elaborate review still remain.

The murderer was perfectly familiar with the habits of the old people and the premises.

The murder was not committed for the purpose of burglary. The money was left. The murder was not committed from a motive of revenge. The old people had no enemies. The murder was the result of a deep plan. An active brain laid it. The murder may have been done for hire and salary. Why not? The murderer may have been playing for futures. Why not?

The motive for the murder is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Yesterday Asa Gunn was carried before Justice Tanner for trial. He waived an examination and went back to jail. He says that he can prove an alibi, that an old negro man who lives six miles beyond the Chattahoochee will swear that he spent that terrible Friday night under his roof.

Bill Jones, detective left on the West Point train yesterday for Alabama. He took with him a requisition from Governor Colquitt upon the governor of Alabama for a man whom he is confident is the right one.

From the ordinary we learn that the Dehors property has been divided among the heirs.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

MANAGE THE MURDERER.

An affidavit was sworn out by Mr. James M. Moore, one of the relatives of the Dehors, charging to the best of his information and belief, that a certain negro was the murderer of the aged and unfortunate couple. Upon the basis of this affidavit, the governor issued a requisition upon the governor of Alabama for the negro in connection with the whole affair.

But a quiet, collected gentleman who went out with him said that Asa was again threatened and prompted and so intimidated by the crowd which was present, that he told a medley of lies which would have awakened the envy of Munchausen and kindled the admiration of Perkins. And the public said that Asa had been shamefully treated, and didn't believe in confession anyhow. And the men who took Asa out, that is some of them, said he is undoubtedly the man; and the on ly man, and shall surely die. They led him to jail where he is still confining and denying and lying, and re lying and lying yet again.

But the stern facts printed by The Constitution in its first elaborate review still remain.

The murderer was perfectly familiar with the habits of the old people and the premises.

The murder was not committed for the purpose of burglary. The money was left. The murder was not committed from a motive of revenge. The old people had no enemies. The murder was the result of a deep plan. An active brain laid it. The murder may have been done for hire and salary. Why not? The murderer may have been playing for futures. Why not?

The motive for the murder is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Yesterday Asa Gunn was carried before Justice Tanner for trial. He waived an examination and went back to jail. He says that he can prove an alibi, that an old negro man who lives six miles beyond the Chattahoochee will swear that he spent that terrible Friday night under his roof.

Bill Jones, detective left on the West Point train yesterday for Alabama. He took with him a requisition from Governor Colquitt upon the governor of Alabama for a man whom he is confident is the right one.

From the ordinary we learn that the Dehors property has been divided among the heirs.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

MANAGE THE MURDERER.

An affidavit was sworn out by Mr. James M. Moore, one of the relatives of the Dehors, charging to the best of his information and belief, that a certain negro was the murderer of the aged and unfortunate couple. Upon the basis of this affidavit, the governor issued a requisition upon the governor of Alabama for the negro in connection with the whole affair.

But a quiet, collected gentleman who went out with him said that Asa was again threatened and prompted and so intimidated by the crowd which was present, that he told a medley of lies which would have awakened the envy of Munchausen and kindled the admiration of Perkins. And the public said that Asa had been shamefully treated, and didn't believe in confession anyhow. And the men who took Asa out, that is some of them, said he is undoubtedly the man; and the on ly man, and shall surely die. They led him to jail where he is still confining and denying and lying, and re lying and lying yet again.

But the stern facts printed by The Constitution in its first elaborate review still remain.

The murderer was perfectly familiar with the habits of the old people and the premises.

The murder was not committed for the purpose of burglary. The money was left. The murder was not committed from a motive of revenge. The old people had no enemies. The murder was the result of a deep plan. An active brain laid it. The murder may have been done for hire and salary. Why not? The murderer may have been playing for futures. Why not?

The motive for the murder is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Yesterday Asa Gunn was carried before Justice Tanner for trial. He waived an examination and went back to jail. He says that he can prove an alibi, that an old negro man who lives six miles beyond the Chattahoochee will swear that he spent that terrible Friday night under his roof.

Bill Jones, detective left on the West Point train yesterday for Alabama. He took with him a requisition from Governor Colquitt upon the governor of Alabama for a man whom he is confident is the right one.

From the ordinary we learn that the Dehors property has been divided among the heirs.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

any amount of duels, strange to say, although many of our bankers, shipping merchants, ex- and other plutocrats, dignitaries, in the have spoken warmly in favor of the plan of M. de Lesseps, so far from as it appears as yet not one dol- lar has been forthcoming from any American. It seems that the shares, amounting to a sum of $90,000,000, were allotted to the stockholders of the Suez Canal Company.

MANAGE THE MURDERER.

An affidavit was sworn out by Mr. James M. Moore, one of the relatives of the Dehors, charging to the best of his information and belief, that a certain negro was the murderer of the aged and unfortunate couple. Upon the basis of this affidavit, the governor issued a requisition upon the governor of Alabama for the negro in connection with the whole affair.

But a quiet, collected gentleman who went out with him said that Asa was again threatened and prompted and so intimidated by the crowd which was present, that he told a medley of lies which would have awakened the envy of Munchausen and kindled the admiration of Perkins. And the public said that Asa had been shamefully treated, and didn't believe in confession anyhow. And the men who took Asa out, that is some of them, said he is undoubtedly the man; and the on ly man, and shall surely die. They led him to jail where he is still confining and denying and lying, and re lying and lying yet again.

But the stern facts printed by The Constitution in its first elaborate review still remain.

The murderer was perfectly familiar with the habits of the old people and the premises.

The murder was not committed for the purpose of burglary. The money was left. The murder was not committed from a motive of revenge. The old people had no enemies. The murder was the result of a deep plan. An active brain laid it. The murder may have been done for hire and salary. Why not? The murderer may have been playing for futures. Why not?

The motive for the murder is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Yesterday Asa Gunn was carried before Justice Tanner for trial. He waived an examination and went back to jail. He says that he can prove an alibi, that an old negro man who lives six miles beyond the Chattahoochee will swear that he spent that terrible Friday night under his roof.

from the factory. We pay freight on all wool shipped to us. All tions* should be addressed to LAUREL MILLS MFG COMPANY, J. S. WOOD, President.