These poor creatures are hired to men whose interest it is to make all that is possible out of their labor, and anfortunately, benevolence or charity, are not apt to be control-ling emotions under such cir-cumstances. It seems to us a wise suggestion that each. County be given the control of its own convicts, where they will not be without a sympathetic desire for their improvement while they are rendering the best of service to the County and the State.

To The Field and Fireside. My cheeks tingle with shame since reading the penitentiary report prepared for the legislature by Col. R. A. Alston, chairman. The grand old State of Georgia is going through a fiery furnace, and the smell of the fire attaches to nearly all of her prominent po-

That investigation shows the defilement of many-and the pitch seems to have been handled by a considerable number of Georgia's "stronge" men. But the penifentiary report caps the climax. John B. Gordon United States Senator, is running a penitentiary, where the ill treats and neglect together with other terrible charges are so enormous that the whole State trembles with suppressed indignation. Why did not this investigation appear before he was again invested with the high office of Senator? By what right does he pretend to rep-resent Georgia while this tarrible stain attaches to his business, as a convict contracter in the State?
If Col. R. A. Alston could not excuse him, who can find an excuse for him? Murphy seems to be a general dabbler in these newly developed troubles. He is master of the situation in the Executive office, and now he drops the role of clerk in the Treasury and steps forth as a couvict manager.
