THE FIELD AND FURNACE

MARIETTA, JUNE 18, 1878.

WILLIAM C. ORRIS,
AND EDITOR AND GENERAL AGENT.

THE FLOOD.—Last Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, the most severe storm witnessed here for years, passed over Marietta and its vicinity.

The wind blew in a perfect tornado, and the hail and rain fell with terrible force and swept vegetation wildly before it. In some localities the hail was banked up from twelve to eighteen inches high. Immense forest trees were snapped in twain as though they were brittle straw. The cotton and corn in several instances was devastated. Fruit is somewhat damaged. The wheat crop has been sheathed and is standing shocked in the fields a majority of it was blown down and somewhat injured. A house on Col. Robertson's farm, containing three persons, was taken up in the air and carried several yards, power of gravity taking the house to earth and on its arrival the timbers went in various directions, but the aerial occupants escaped unhurt.

An oxen on Judge Irwin's place, was carried by the tornado, from one field over a fence into another, without damage. This is good evidence, that in other instances are reported, showing the immense volume of the air current. Throughfares were blocked by the timbers blown across them. The loss of property will amount probably to six or eight thousand dollars. No lives lost.

We call attention to the advertisement in this issue of the Public Examination of the Marietta High School, conducted by Prof. V. E. Manger. This entertainment will be rendered quite attractive, and we bespeak for it a large attendance.

A SWEET OFFER.—R. A. Withers, the great machinery manufacturer of North Georgia, (see his card in the FIELD AND FURNACE) was in the city Tuesday and showed us a sample of some fine syrup made up of his syrup mills. He has two barrels of the syrup on hand and will sell it at 25 cents per gallon, which is extremely cheap. Address E. A. Withers, Marietta, Ga.

A GOOD SELECTION.—The North-Georgia Fair Association elected Col. R. W. Auman, the unanimous Kennesaw Route Agent, to the responsible position of secretary for the coming season. There is no man in Georgia possessing higher business qualities, energy and tact than Col. Auman; and his election will prove in every way valuable to the Association. By the way, the Association is an enterprising and profitable investment, should put themselves in immediate correspondence with Col. Auman. The Association is now and $75,000 of the stock (the proposed capital) has already been subscribed.

We have been shown some handsome heads of rice, of the Carolina Mammoth variety, raised on the farm of Mr. K. Hamby, who says that the yield on ordinary soil will average from 50 to 70 bushels per acre, and that in his opinion the four made from this rice would equal that from the best Tennessee white wheat. Seed can be procured upon application to either Mr. Hamby, or Judge T. H. Moore.

The Image of Her Mother.—A NOVEL BY RUTH RASTIN. Now appearing in the SAVANNAH WEEKLY NEWS, a serial story with the above title, written by a lady of Savannah. THE WEEKLY NEWS is the largest and best weekly in the South. It is a complete newspaper, and contains the latest Telegraphic and State News. Markets, etc., an Agricultural and Military Department. It is adapted for general circulation throughout the South. Subscription, one year $2.00; six months $1.00. Specimen copies sent free. Address J. H. ESTILL, Savannah, Ga.

Barlow County.—Superior Court in session. The Barlow Iron Works have suspended. We presume the iron business is over.

Five rains through the county and crops are flourishing.

The type, presses, books, etc., of the Cartwright Express, were attached last week. The result is full on all sides as doing the thing up Brown. We know Charlie is not a willing-hand to be deceived by such parties as foreclosed and attached his Express, and he will soon make it his Express purpose to lift Pelton's name high upon a new ship. Charlie is justly a little. The pretty sorrel horse ridden by Gen. W. T. Wolford, the brave and gallant general, of whom Barlow and the country is proud, is in his possession, and as the General is particularly careful about his horse, by the way, he has one of the best shadow pastures, and the country is looking well and is promising.

Some women were sentenced to the penitentiary, Monday.

MARIETTA.

WHERE are those lumps?
There will be a marriage in town soon! This is strictly confidential—please "don't mention it."

Waters is the mint that was petitioned for this place? Perhaps "Tues" was a joke.

The Female College commencement, and "Laila," are now leading the minds with happiest anticipations.

Waxes, oh, when, will the new horns begin to look?

Mrs. Shoenthal has the coolest, richest heart. Oh, beat me away in your snowy white foam.

Mr. Watty Wallack and family, who won many friends here last winter, will spend the summer in Marietta. They will make a warm welcome.

The report of crops for month of May, has arrived, and will be noticed in our next issue.

Haley Brothers, receive and have always on hand, a large lot of country produce.

R. M. Moore, of the Reading News (Augusta), is needed here.

The wheat in the neighborhood is all out and ready for the mill. The yield, we are informed, will be about three-fourths of the usual crop, owing to rust and late-hail storm.

THE MARIETTA REFUGES, are receiving many replies to their notifications to leave the city, and gentlemen of their election to honorary membership; but it is painful to note, that accidentally "Amalgam" accompanies the pretty nuptial repairs.

Look out for Press Butler, with his Lee Cream cake, he will supply you with the best made in town, in any quantity and at a low price. Do not pass him by.

Mr. Robert Harte, has gone to Paris, to witness the great Exposition, Marietta, as well as England, will have an Earl representing the city.

It is heard in the by-ways and by-lanes, that Mr. Elliot Howell, married but west a few days since.

Prof. J. S. Nichols, is enjoying peace at his orchard. These are the first peaches of the season here.

Prof. Fryer did not go to Davenport, Iowa.

The concert to-morrow night will be the best musical entertainment given in this town for years past.

Mr. Whitley, takes a good photograph, and prints in the best prices, call and see him. We guarantee abundance of pictures, if it is not supplied the looks.

Up to the time of this writing, there has not been a carload of corn shipped to this city, and the mill and grinders are good we do not expect to see any corn shipped here during the year.

The concert to-morrow night, is the leading topic of the day.

A full sketch of Cobb county and Marietta, will soon be found in this office.

One of the best breakfast houses in the South is that of Col. Lacy's at Big Shanty. Long may he wave.

Car Joyner, our popular young friend, has sent to school in his opinion the following associated himself with the Executive office of C. W. Brunner & Son, 35 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga. This firm is celebrated for their thorough selection of Goods. Furnishing Goods, they have made their business a complete success by employing the celebrated salesman Cap Joyner.

The concert to-morrow night, as seen by the programme, will be a huge affair, with only 20 cents admission.

Some folks' carcasses reminds us of an old toy, we once owned. It was far more dangerous to the party firing it, than to the object fired at.

Col. Wren is striving to build up this place and we hope his efforts will be co-operated with by all parties. He is in and around Marietta, with his family. He wants to hear from Powder Springs on this subject.

We forgot to mention that Mrs. Willie Foster, one of Marietta's charming young ladies is here visiting her relatives. We hope she may carry home with her most pleasing remembrance of her visit to Hancock—Sperry Tunes and Plauds.

We are pleased to note the return home of our enterprising young merchant, H. S. Anderson.

Joe. Clifton is the only unanimous man in town!

THE WAY THINGS ARE DONE IN ETOWNA. The following correspondence between two Marietta friends, somewhat full into our hands, and for the sake of the "Letter Writer Manual" compilers, we here present them. (NOTE.—I must be remembered that Sam Jack's has been a widower only three weeks, and Belle is a high string party and objects to Sam's audacity, and his attempt to use the modern lover's term of "trial.")

Very trouble yours, SAM JACKS.

Mrs. Belle replies on the back of his letter, as follows:

Dear Sam—Your letter of the 10th inst. was duly received, Monday.

MARIETTA as a resort is becoming almost world-wide. The days here are long and shady and the nights are not long and warm, although they are not always luscious. The society and climate is unsurpassed, Board reasonable, and amusements of all kinds. Mr. J. A. G. Anderson's palatial stables are well filled with all kinds of vehicles, from a saddle horse all the way up to a $2,000 phaeton. We advise all those who love cool and healthy places, good food and luscious evening frolics, and pure fresh water, to come at once. This place is like an omnibus or a "skit-snap" street car, there's always room for another.

WOODSTOCK MANUFACTURING COMPANY, J. T. Haley, manager.—This enterprising manufacturing establishment at Woodstock, Cherokee county, Ga., has long been noted for its beautiful yards, also for its mill, wheat and lumber. It was previously attached a few days since, by the fire, the damage to the buildings, the cotton baling press, estimated at about $300,000, partially insured. The damage has been repaired and the mills are turning out the threads as prettily as ever.

It matters not what your status in life may be, you can add something of interest to your local paper. If you can not run away with another man's wife or be a bank clerk defaulter, you can at least step on a peach peeling or stump your toe on the mill road iron, at night, and sprain your left ear.

COBBS.

Kennesaw.

The gloom and despondency that was gathering on the brow of the tiller of the ground because of the protracted drought in our neighborhood, has been dispelled by a bountiful supply of rain. Crops are in fine condition, and looking well, save a slight damage by the hail on Sunday.

Some sickness in our neighborhood, but nothing serious. The weather has been quite quiet, but is now able to attend to his railroad matters. Mrs. B. F. Hill is also back, but recovering.

Last Sabbath was the day set apart for the dedication of the new Baptist church at this place. Before the usual preaching hour, a vast concourse of people from the surrounding country had gathered in and about the church. The Rev. Dr. L. R. Branson preached the dedicatory sermon. We did not hear the sermon, but it is conceded by all who heard it as grand and beautiful. Certainly, Dr. Branson, without his learning and eloquence, could not say too high a eulogy upon G. W. Johnson, B. S. Elson, Mrs. G. M. Lacy, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Travis, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Yates, and many others, who put their energies into the grand enterprise until they cured its completion. Long may this edifice stand as a monument to their christian philanthropy.

It was announced that there would be some Sabbath school exercises in this town. By four o'clock the house was filled with the hoary-headed fathers and mothers of Israel and the youth and children of our surrounding country, including a fair representation from the cities and towns in the county. The Sabbath Schools, led by Prof. Clarke, of your city; and Mr. Booth, of our county, engaged in singing some excellent Sabbath school pieces. We pity the soul that is so debased as not to be drawn heavenward under the soul-inspiring influence of sacred music.

After several poems had been sung by the schools, Col. J. R. Brown being present, was urged upon by Rev. Mr. McMurtry to address the schools. Col. Brown modestly tried to excuse himself, but was not allowed to do so, and finally consented to make the first Sabbath school address of his life. When he arose and laid his hand upon the Holy Evangelist, and with christian earnestness bearing from his face, made that solemn declaration found in Holy Writ: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." we very soon came to the conclusion that Col. Brown did not spend all his boyhood days in digging Irish potatoes to earn money to pay tuition, but that he had either spent most of his youthful Sabbath days in making Sabbath school speeches or listening to others speak. We wish that every little boy in the land who thinks he is too poor and insignificant to ever attain to anything great or good, could have heard Col. Brown's speech, for they would have went away better prepared to meet and overcome the difficulties and disadvantages incident to a life of poverty and privation. OBSERVER.

Pencilings from Wild Horse.

Ever Welcome—Field and Fireside.

We are the recipients of refreshing showers, and our farmers are glad. The showers of rain are of considerable advantage to spring oats. Since Washington is close chopping out cotton, Uncle James Rice has some very fine cotton.

Some conjecturing as to who is Silas Frost, preaching at Powder Springs' Gaump Ground, on Sunday last by Rev. Mr. Gray, Prof. Clark, of Powder Springs, expelled one of his students, a young man in his teens, from school one day last week. The Professor should have used a different rod. Died at the residence of J. A. Hinder, on the 8th inst., Mrs. Vaughn, sister of Mrs. Hinder.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE First Scholastic Year OF THE MARIETTA HIGH SCHOOL.

THE Annual Examination will take place on THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, the 20th and 21st inst., at 8 o'clock, a. m. Patrons of the School are invited to attend. Exercises in Declaration at 8 o'clock, p. m. The public is respectfully invited, June 25-26. V. E. MANGER.

Our Marietians were carried to the city for interment. One, a little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bowers, of Atlanta, was buried at Powder Springs, Sunday, the 15th inst. A lady of Marietta and friends sympathized with the parents in their bereavement.

Base Ball has nothing of the past. Capt. W. H. Goodwin, who has served us so ably for a number of years, as Notary Public, has tendered his resignation. B. S. Forester aspires to that office.

The wheat crop having been harvested promises a greater yield than was expected. Chas. B. Holleman, of Powder Springs, has the finest piece of cotton we have seen this year, Charlie is at home in a cotton field.

The sermon, preached by Rev. S. P. Richardson, at the Methodist church of Powder Springs, on the 4th Sabbath last month, has been a subject of considerable conversation. Mr. R. made some broad assertions, but I suppose he knew what he said. The Methodist Sabbath school at Powder Springs is largely increased. We country people go to see and hear the organ.

The people living near Powder Springs, are proud of their district village. I expect that there is more and cheaper goods sold there than any place of the size within fifty miles of Atlanta.

Powder Springs district boasts of more pretty girls, according to its population, than any other place in North Georgia. There is Miss —, but we haven't the space to write all of their names, and to make nearly a portion of them would be gross injustice to the others. If you could what we say, come and see.

We came very near having a runaway scrape in Powder Springs last Saturday evening. Mr. A. B. Bingle rode out to the post-office, got off his horse, and tied him to the back part of Esq. Melton's buggy. The horse became frightened, and both ran backwards. Fortunately, Mr. H. H. Goodwin succeeded in pulling off the bridle.

Silas Frost.

Akworth.
GOLD FIELD CENTER.

Four gilt-edged miners, fresh from Boston, have arrived in town.

A new deposit is being washed out at seven dollars a pound.

Like gold worms, shining in the dust, The precious gems are found: Let your Yankee miners rust!

While fortunes can be found, On the House-Lemon property, Gold is about as plentiful as rain. The golden slanted rocks are new.

We have a man plating goods, and a king of medicine with his tongue—can plant his finger in any of a kind and cure a sick man in ten minutes.

Fulton is an old political stage-gaze—place him at the head of your columns, and he will sweep the field.

The city has gone back to Mr. Hayes, and have brought the Potter's field to bury republicans in.

The potter's field is now in view. The Sabbath School exercises in this town. By four o'clock the house was filled with the hoary-headed fathers and mothers of Israel and the youth and children of our surrounding country, including a fair representation from the cities and towns in the county.

The ship of state is sailing well. With Congress all on deck; The ship the found waves may swell.

The ship becomes a wreck. In Byron's "Age of Bronze" he wrote a splendid eulogy on Washington and a republican form of government, hoping as much for out-worn Europe.

Reverend W. A. Dubney, of Atlanta, preached the commencement sermon on Sabbath last, to the students of Akworth High School. The effort on education and the joy of heaven, were full of pure elevated thoughts.

Excite the human mind of earth. Like lofty mountains, sun the brain With educated thought.

Let the little hills receive the light And up to mountains grow.

On Heaven he towered up in the sublime.

Where all is life, light and beauty. The everlasting years of God Concentrated, beautified, Roll on in peace and endless love.

The school examination is going on with credit to the teachers and merit to the pupils. PEACEMAN.

Cotton blooms are reported in many parts of the State. This is about ten days earlier than usual in average years. There can be no doubt that the start off of the cotton crop the present season is exceedingly favorable, and the stand almost perfect.

A FINE PROSPECT.—The Fort Valley Mirror reports the finest crop of corn, cotton and grain ever known for many a year in Houston county. Some yields of wheat amounted to thirty bushels per acre.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE First Scholastic Year OF THE MARIETTA HIGH SCHOOL.
