SUPERIOR COURT.

The Spring Term of Jones Superior court convened in Clinton on Monday. Judge Samuel Lumpkin, of the Northern circuit, presiding, and a fair attendance of attorneys, clients, jurors, witnesses, etc. The Grand Jury was organized with C. W. F. McKay as foreman. The charge of the Court was clear and pointed statement of the duties which devolve upon the Grand Jurors under the law, and an earnest appeal for the faithful and fearless discharge of the same. Until Wednesday night the court was engaged on the Civil docket, which contains quite a number of cases, several of which are of considerable importance. The criminal docket was taken up Thursday morning, and up to the hour of going to press, Friday, two cases have been disposed of. There is sufficient business upon this docket to consume the entire week, and it is hardly probable that court will adjourn before Saturday. We will give more of the proceedings next week.

The Covington & Macon Depot.

Macon, Ga., April 18.—At a meeting of the city council last night, a petition from the Covington and Macon railroad company asking for the privilege and right of way on Poplar street, was presented. The petition was referred to a committee consisting of Aldermen Huggins, Ware, O'Hara, Smith and Davis, who will consider the matter and examine the locality and report at the next meeting of council.

If the road is granted these privileges, it intends to build a depot, at the corner of Fourth and Poplar streets, that will be used by them and the Macon and Dublin road. The site chosen by them is the lot in the city for these lines, as they will come from their bridge over the Ocmulgee down the old road to the Georgia road, on a direct line to the depot.

The depot will be as near the heart of the business center as it is possible for it to come, and yet will not pass through any of the principal streets, and will have to connect with the citizens along the line, and the G. S. & F. is having to do.

A through schedule will begin Monday next, and the trains will run from Macon to Madison in about three hours, including all stops.

Mrs. Gould and Colonel Mendenhall are in Madison now and are paying off the hands, which work has been going on for two days, so large is the force.

Telegraph poles are being distributed along the line at the rate of several cars per day, and the wires will be up and the instrument talking between here and Madison within two weeks.—Constitution.

A Blind Man's Speech.

It is spring time again. Let every month hear its own pain, and listen to the birds singing on the trees singing again. How beautiful the weather are, Eli says spend your cash to-day and be thankful for what you have gained and pay your debts and get credit to morrow. O, the beautiful weather to work, and we should do it without a harm word, or a dirt, can you count them that will speak words and dirt, and will not work. Monkeys are useful, trifles are not. It is better to work than to play, and better to sing than to quarrel, and be happy and rejoicing all of your days.

A man that sits and wishes he had a tiny sine, he is just as well pushed against a wall, and will jump a half mile and never smile.

Smart men are early to bed and early to rise, makes boys and girls healthy and wise, and their mind never tell lies and let them be your disciples. Roses are red, violets are blue, boys are better and oak bark too.

girls are witty, monkeys are funny, and we all of us have not got any money.

Punkins grows on a vine and Whiskey when drank will intoxicate our minds. Some people are smart and some are lazy, and some have drank whiskey and gone crazy.

Engines are large and strong, and it when fired can pull a car along railroads made of iron and steel, and are made through open fields. Nights are dark, days are bright, and the moon and sun will rise in our sight, thunder are loud and lightning are keen, and the ground are hard, oak trees are green.

Neat and nice people, they are the ones that walk and talks high as a steeple, and some want tell their name, but the publishers and writers name are in here just the same.

THE EVID.

Madison, Ga., April 15th.—When the Covington & Macon passenger train arrived in our city Saturday, the person who received the most attention from our citizens was Mrs. Gould. This lady was driven over our city by Mr. W. A. Broughton, and was given a lunch at the hands of some of our citizens. Our people appreciate the efforts of this lady and also the efforts of Col. E. C. Machen in the rapid building of the C. & M.—Constitution.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Twenty-eight people over 80 years of age died in Philadelphia last week—sixteen men and twelve women. The oldest was 93 years of age.

A Louisville woman has been driven insane through the effects of poison contained in a preparation which she used for bleaching her hair.

A man named Titter, 70 years old, of Lexington, Mo., began singing "Old Folks at Home" while sitting at the table with friends, and suddenly fell back dead.

Louis Lewis of Southland, New Zealand, who attained his 104th year on Sept. 21st last, is still living and enjoys good health. He is of Jewish faith, and his father lived to the age of 107.

Miss Jennie Ford personally manages her snug fortune of $50,000.00. She does things successfully and enjoys it too, she is not likely soon to accept a partner in the responsibility.

A blind man died recently in Chichester Workhouse, England, who had been an inmate of that institution for seventy years. He entered at the age of nine, and passed his whole life there.

A New England constable, who has had great experience with traps, says that he has never yet seen one with a bald head. A firm of Albany clothiers have a novel way of drawing custom. They hire a brass band, clear their store of all stock and then give a public reception.

A gray wolf, which is believed to have destroyed over $1,000 worth of sheep and other stock the past winter, was killed near Tuerneville, O., the other day. It has been estimated by competent authority that 132,000 tons of fish are annually disposed of at Billingsgate, London, the largest fish market in the world.

The lumber export from Ottawa, Can., to the United States during January, February and March was valued at $206,902 an increase of 21 percent over the same months of 1887.

After a happy married life of fifty-four years an old couple living near Hickman, Ky., have separated because of incompatibility of temper. Husband and wife are each more than 70 years old. At Sebring, Tigua county, a flock of wild geese became bewildered by the fire at a sugar camp, and came tumbling down into the blaze. The boys who were at there succeeded in killing two of the birds.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mrs. E. G. HARDEMAN, Local Editor.

April showers.

Milledgeville is wet.

Preaching at Fortville to-day and to-morrow.

Mr. Ben Stewart, of Macon, paid Gray's "pop call" Monday.

Messrs. James Goddard and B.
S. Greaves spent Saturday in Macon.

Mr. Gus Small, of East Macon, spent Thursday with us on business.

Mrs. Andrew Stewart, of Putnam county visited relatives at Gray's last week.

Miss Lizzie Winters, of Bradley, visited relatives here last week.
Lizzie is a bright little girl.

Last Friday was a beautiful day, and quite a number of the children went fishing—caught a few minnows.

Col. R. J. Warren and Mr. J. H.
Kelly of Monticello passed through our town on Tuesday enroute to Clinton court.

The colored people of the Baptist denomination are cutting timber preparatory to build a church at Gray's for their use.

Jones county can boast of an industrious farmer, Mr. G. C. Smith, who has corn, meat and hard for sale.
Who can say as much?

Mr. J. R. Vanhooker of Griseville, visited Monticello this week.
He Y—has the contract for furnishing cross-ties for the C. & M.
R. R.

We call attention to the card of that popular jeweler J. E. Wells.
He is an honest dealer, a superb workman and one of the cleverest men in the world.

It is said that Mr. W. D. Winters of this place, has sold more tickets than any agent on the line of the C. & M. R. W— is the man to help build up a town.

Capt. Richard Bonner, of Macon, is visiting his son Mr. H. Bonner near here. Capt. Bonner has been in ill health for some months, hope his visit to the country will prove beneficial to him.

Mr. H. A. Morgan has finished his building, near the depot, and will kindly allow the use of the upper story for Sunday school and singing, until our new academy and church are built.

Mrs. Winters, grand-mother of our elder townsman Mr. W. D.
Winters is spending sometime with the latter's family. Mrs. Winters is quite an old lady, although she is actively as any person around.

Our correspondents will please send in their articles as early in the week as possible. We often receive communications at the hour of going to press and the consequences are they lie over until another week.

Notice in this issue the card of the dissolution of the firm Herring & Jahan 2nd Street Macon. Mr.
W. J. Jahan is sole owner of the establishment now, and he has the consent of the old friends in this city, who guarantee to him a liberal patronage. While it is announced that Mr. H. and we, like the good Scotch people "clan together." No better selection of beautiful goods can be found in Macon, than that of W. J. Jahan.

CLINTON LOCALS.

egraph" is taking in court week in the interest of that good daily.

Judge Lumpkin from Northern's circuit is presiding this week for Judge Jenkins, and is giving satisfaction.

Col. N. E. Harris called in to see us while attending court. He has been putting in some good work and words for the C. & M. R. R.

When visiting Macon be sure and call at the gallery of L. S. Hill, just over Rogers Drug Store after seeing his handsome Elton's, you will decide to have one taken of yourself.

Rev. Jesse Campbell well known to many people of the County died in Columbus Ga., on last Monday at the age of eighty. He was a consecrated Baptist Minister and the father of Rev. Abner and Charles Campbell.

to select delegates to the State convention to be held in Atlanta May 8th. Capt. H. B. Ridley was called to the chair and Col. J. C.
Barrow requested to act as Secretary. The delegates were chosen Richard Johnson, Adolphus Lewis, Alex. H. S. McKay and R. V. Har-deman, these are avowed Cleveland men and strong democrats.

We have several copies of the "Clinton Buzzer" sent to us for inspection by Judge David B. Blount.
The papers are written in very small type on foolscap paper, and were issued in the year 1825 by Peter Puzze & Co. They are possibly curiosities, and show that the people of sixty three years ago were not so ignorant of news paper lore as we would imagine. We suppose the "Buzzer" existed many years before the "Old Bulletin" made its appearance.

New Depot.

It is probable that the Corvinton & Macon and the Macon & Dalton railroads will build an elegant passenger depot, jointly, on the lot where Hollis' stables now stand.
That is the present programme.

It is probable that to-night the C.
& M. and M. & D. roads will petition council for a right of way of 20 feet on Poplar Street from Hollis' stable to a point near the cotton compress, where the C. & M. track will be extended from its terminus near the park, and this track will also be used by the M. & D. road.—Macon News.

While in Macon last Saturday we called in at the old reliable Empire Store and feasted our eyes on the mammoth stock of beautiful spring goods. We were surprised to find such goods as the following at the prices annexed. Good white lawn from 2 1/2 to 2 3/4. Checked muslin from 24 to 28. Indigo blue calico from 6 1/2 to 7 1/2. Beautiful line of dress goods from 10 to 25. Cottons and cashmeres at about any price.
Satin shirts for $1.00 and $1.50.
Their assortment of Parasols, Fans and Notions is complete. The taste and purse of the most fastidious and economical can be suited at the store of Burden, Smith and Ellis.
The many clerks connected with the establishment are courteous and the ladies all know they can be waited upon, and that what they need at the Empire Store. We have noted the above bargains, and have space to speak of the mannificent display of lovely silks, velvets, lace oversuits, ribbons, etc.
These occupy no small space.

FROM HADDOCKS.

The Singleton place, which by the way, is deemed a very attractive home, has been leased to Mr.
Sutherland of Milledgeville. This family will be an acquisition greatly desired.

Misses Sallie Woolfolk, Maude Hardeman, and Irene Stewart, sought pleasure and delight in the home of Dr. John Harden on a few days. If the Dr. and his most estimable lady, entertained, as is their wont, then indeed the young ladies cast their lines to a good purpose.

A couple of young larks, whose names we failed to get, endeavored to beat Joe Miller; the night Conductor, out of a ten mile ride, with the usual result, well boys, counting crosses even a dark night, serves to develop the mind, makes it active, so to speak. Where you failed to crystallize the little scheme, was not in the act, but in not knowing Joseph.

It is more than probable that Mr.
Charles Middlebrooks will try the mercantile with Dr. Glover. Possessed of so many of the requisite qualities essential to success, it comes easy to say that the matter rests solely with himself. An English poet's distich, but true, can be aptly applied.

Whilst our district has many excellent farmers, yet, when emergencies threaten, and something out of the usual routine, demands quick decision and determined action.
Commend us to Mr. Gus Pitts. It is simply intuition. No charge for either of the above.

Now, then, gentlemen of the Grand Jury, this is the opportunity of your lives. Embody in your General Presentments, or otherwise open up something feasible in regard to the county roads. You may be criticised, and told to let well enough alone. That you may expect, but all the same, give the matter consideration, and put in shape a scheme, even by taxation.
Make the effort, and you shall be rewarded with the freedom of the city of Haddock's, whenever you see fit to accept. God send-bbox, L'honne propose, femme dispaie, and thus we failed to see "the Laundry." Oh, no, we didn't, let the piping some days in advance, and didn't mutilate each and every notice pertaining to the Lily's appearance in Macon. With seeming fortitude, though a modicum of confidence, was the announcement made that imperative business required my presence in the city.

Jesse, that was all. The atmosphere here had enough to preclude any approach in the shape of argument, but my claim, who likewise called, had I woke himself tendering before the denouncement of briscobar. Also made selection of the Summer's location fashionable war-tering place. It goes without saying that his better-half couldn't get a cent called, until time smooths his wrinkled brow. Albert he is more of a merchant.

We learn with satisfaction, that the State Pension has been granted Mr. S. T. Whidly.

Mr. Anchors in Macon, Mr.
Kemp attending Wilkes court, left Mr. William Farrar solo. Although a host within himself, massage treatment was not necessary at the close of business hours.

ITEMS FROM STEVEN'S POTTERY.

Mr. Editor:—We are on hand again after a silence of a few weeks.
We have no excuse to render except scarcity of news, caused we suppose by the continuous rains, and not until the monotony was broken could we hope to entertain the dear readers of the HEADLIGHT.
And by the way that reminds us that its bright rays failed to illuminate our household for two weeks during those dark, dismal days, and rest assured Mr. Editor, its looked for visits were sadly missed.

We are trying to console a friend of ours, who says his shoe bill is forty dollars per annum, with the fact that this is 1894 year, and his gift will certainly propose, and the result will be a happy marriage, consequently doing away with the necessity of so much walking.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stevens were unfortunate in losing their bright little daughter a short time ago.
We tender our sympathy to the belaved parents.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. William Adams which occurred recently. He was afflicted with pneumonia and leaves a wife, several children and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Golden Days.

FO: BOYS AND GIRLS.

This admirable weekly for the youth of this great land is now well established, and has an increasingly large and well-deserved patronage.

It is well worthy the examination of parents who wish to provide their children with a large amount of carefully-prepared miscellany, at once entertaining, instructive and clean.
It is filled with ability, and shows a quick sympathy with the pleasures of the young people, and a clear outlook for their welfare.
