

The Headlight.

THOS. H. PENN. : : Publisher.
Gray's Station, Saturday, January 21.

It is thought there will be several lively Congressional races in Georgia this year.

MAJOR J. F. HANSON will make a tariff speech in Macon in reply to Mr. Carlisle's remarks.

The democratic fight in Louisiana has been settled by the nomination of Nichols for Governor. Now let there be harmony.

It appears that Senator J. T. Morgan of Alabama is about to get himself in trouble in his state on account of his tariff views.

It is not forbidden to carry concealed weapons in Massachusetts, but the man who carries them may be compelled to give bond to keep the peace.

A NORTHERN LANDLORD is holding a babe in pawn until his mother can pay her board bill. These Northern landlords are getting to be as grasping as an English landlord.

THE St. Louis Republican refers to Senator Brown as a prohibitionist, and thinks that his internal revenue resolutions are in keeping with the policy of the prohibition party.

DIVISION of labor has been carried to such perfection in this country that it is now possible, so it is said, to make a complete sewing machine in a minute, or sixty in an hour, a reaper every fifteen minutes, a locomotive in a day, and three hundred watches in the same time.

POSTMASTER THOMAS HARDEMAN, of Macon, has celebrated his 63rd birthday, and on Jan. 23rd he will have enjoyed fifty years of life with the wife of his youth, who, like her husband, is still sound in body and mind, and does not find life a burden. They are a model couple and deserve all their happiness.

PRESIDENT and Mrs. Cleveland will not attend the Old Guard ball in New York, but Secretaries Edw. and Fairchild, with their wives, will represent the administration on that occasion. The president is not a dancer, but he does not object to the pastime. In fact, he frequently makes the Republicans dance.

A VERY LARGE PROPORTION of the so-called champagne that comes to this country from France is made by artificially pumping gas into cheap wines in order to prepare them more quickly for shipment and to get a large profit on a bogus article. A court in France has now decided that champagne is produced by natural fermentation, and that to put labels on bottles of wine declaring the contents to be champagne is unlawful and punishable. It is doubtful, however, if the ruling of the court will cause an improvement in the article sent to America.

John Speight, of America, says that during the last two or three months a very large hawk has been eating his chickens, and even grown hens. He made a trap to catch it, and, while in town Monday, the hawk caught a 3-year-old hen. It was seen when the swoop was made and scared off, by Mrs. Speight, but the long talons of the hawk had killed it. It was put in the trap and left. After awhile the hawk made another dash, got the hen and was caught in the trap. As Mrs. Speight was afraid of it, she boiled water and poured it on the bird. She tried this six or seven times before Judge Speight returned home, when he killed the hawk. After the bird had stiffened he tried to measure it, but could not straighten the wings, which measured 4 feet 4 inches from tip to tip. The claws were about an inch and a quarter in length and nearly as sharp as a razor.—Ex.

Covington and Macon.

MACON, Ga., January 18.—The reporter of the Constitutional hearing that the affairs of the Covington and Macon railroad has assumed a most novel position, hunted upon one who is familiar with all the affairs of the road. In reply to his question, "How is the winding up of matters of the Covington and Macon progressing?" the answer was: "The Covington and Macon matter took quite a new turn this morning. Three legal firms, Dession & Bartlett, Steel & Wimberly and Matt. R. Freeman went into court with a petition asking that the creditors and E. C. Machen be enjoined from making any settlement, except in the way suggested by them, the attorneys. So now it is not the question between debtor and creditor, because they have agreed, but it is whether the lawyer will control his client or the client his lawyer."

"This most remarkable and peculiar feature is entirely new. The proposition was made four months ago, in the beginning of the suit, and submitted to the attorneys of the road. This proposition was declined by the attorneys, and as stated by the creditors, without letting them see it. But when they did hear of it, it was so satisfactory that they determined to settle upon that basis, and accordingly brought a movement about among themselves, independent of their attorneys, and it resulted in a formal proposition being submitted to Machen, which was accepted by him and was ratified by the creditors unanimously in their individual capacity. "Machen presented himself here, in Macon, with the money to make the settlement in advance of the time stipulated, and the attorneys now come in with a petition asking that he be restrained from having any dealings that did not embrace them."

"The most novel feature of the whole case is this, that the same attorneys brought the case into court for a statement of insolvency, and claiming that they were acting in the capacity of protectors and defenders of the poor creditors. The company having demonstrated its ability to meet all its obligations, and it desires to do, the same attorneys now appear in court in direct antagonism to the wishes of the clients, who want nothing but the money that is due them."

From the able array of distinguished attorneys, it would seem that there was something more behind this movement than the simple desire to protect the poor creditors. Judge Tiffin has appointed the 30th day of January as the day on which the petition will be heard before him. An indignation meeting of the creditors will be held tonight at the Hotel Lanier. In the meantime, work on the road is progressing rapidly.—Cov. Constitution.

JACKSON can boast of a truly prohibition council. Not one of the city officers drink whisky or use tobacco in any shape whatever. What other town can say as much? Ar. gas.

It is said that there are two sisters living near Delta, whose ages are between fifty and sixty years, who have not seen each other in sixteen years. They live only 4 miles apart, and are on perfectly friendly terms. No cause, whatever is assigned for this seeming indifference.

MR. J. M. EDWARDS, of Milledgeville, was in town yesterday and says his barber will give five dollars to shave Woolfolk. He shaved Humphries, the man who was hanged for murdering two women near Milledgeville, and now he wants to run the same razor over the face of Woolfolk.—Telegraph.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A picture of Queen Victoria laughing has been taken by the instantaneous process. It was taken when she was unconscious of the proceeding, and the likeness is one of the best ever secured. When sitting for a picture the Queen generally has a severe expression.

Among the legacies of the late Gov. Bodwell, of Maine, is said to have been an insurance policy for $20,000, payable to sundry young men who have been connected with his business operations, the policy having been taken with the condition that it should remain a secret until his death.

William Kaufman, a young man living near Braddock, Md., while watering horses in a creek on his father's farm, discovered the edge of an iron pot sticking out of the bank. Digging the vessel out he discovered that it contained $575 in gold and silver coins. How the money came where it was found is not known.

Albany, N. Y., has originated the cruellest deception of the holiday season, and one calculated to evoke mild profanity on the part of the victim. A paper sack is filled with shavings, and a pair of turkey's legs are then tied in the mouth of the sack and the seductive fraud sent to the victim. It is funny, but exasperating.

A Maltese cat belonging to a farmer in Genesee county, Michigan, for some strange reason was led to share the nest of a hen which was trying to hatch out a half dozen eggs in an old shed. The hen resented the intrusion and had many a fight with the cat before she became reconciled to her. The two are now fast friends and have by their united efforts, despite the cold weather, succeeded in hatching two little chicks. The cat shares all her food with her feathered companions and seems to enjoy their company.

When the poet Schiller was staying in Italy for the benefit of his health he received a letter from a friend in Germany—a unfunked letter—containing nothing but the words: "I am well. With kind regards. Yours, etc." Annoyed at having to pay double postage for such an insignificant piece of news, the poet determined to serve his friend out. He procured a large stone of immense weight, packed it in a box, and sent it to his correspondent, "Carriage collect." The latter, believing the contents of the parcel were valuable, gladly paid the heavy charge for carriage, opened the box, and found, to his horror, nothing but an ordinary stone, bearing a label on which was written: "On receipt of the news that you were in good health, the accompanying load rolled off my heart."

How to Cure Corns.

Corns may be nipped in the bud by a prompt treatment with kerosene oil. Cut the corns down as much as possible without making them sore, then rub on the oil, night and morning. If the corns make their appearance between the toes, wet a piece of tissue paper with the kerosene and put this between the toes over the corns. Keep it there all day while the feet are dressed and renew it night and morning. If the corns are young they will speedily vanish. Those of long standing will finally succumb. Take the substance which sticks to the side of a soft soap barrel after the soap is used and mix with pulverized white chalk to the consistency of a salve. Apply every twelve hours in a rag until the corn is removed. It will cure every case of corns in six days.

Public School Teachers.

NOTICE is hereby given that I will be in Clinton on the 27th and 28th of January 1888, for the purpose of examining applicants for teachers licenses. Examination will be had on no other days. This notice is in compliance with instructions from the State School Commissioner. Govern yourselves accordingly. This the 7th of Jan. 1888. A. H. S. McKAY, County School Commissioner.

Golden Days.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

This admirable weekly for the youth of this great land is now well established, and has an increasingly large and well-deserved patronage.

It is well worthy the examination of parents who wish to provide their children with a large amount of carefully-prepared miscellany, at once entertaining, instructive and clean. It is edited with ability, and shows a quick sympathy with the pleasures of the young people, and a clear outlook for their welfare.

MR. CARLISLE'S GREAT SPEECH.

To be delivered in Atlanta on January 23d, will be published in full in The Weekly Journal of January 26. A copy of this paper can be had by sending your name on a postal card to The Journal. Mr. Carlisle is the great leader in the movement of Tariff reform, and his speech will be a clear and complete exposition of the arguments supporting the platform of the tariff reformers. In the question to cheap clothing and other necessities of life against cheap whisky and tobacco, the people have a deep and abiding interest, and those who cannot hear the speech should read it. The price of the Weekly Journal is 50 cents a year in clubs. Sample copies free. Address THE JOURNAL, Atlanta, Ga.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mrs. E. G. HARDEMAN, Local Editor.

The weather has been very inclement the past week.

We hear of about five men that are going to act as guano agents at Grays.

Miss Mulliken, of Bradleys, has been spending a few days in our mills.

Miss Sallie Stewart, of Putnam county, is on a visit to relatives and friends here.

The farmers are making preparations for another crop, and spring carts are being town.

Mr. H. A. Morgan has moved, and now occupies the new dwelling of Mr. W. H. Holsenbeck.

Louis Bray, living four miles from Athens, made last year fifty bales of cotton with only two plows.

The stock of groceries and general supply goods of Jones & Co., are arriving, preparatory to their opening.

Mr. Jim Morgan has given up farming, and now handles the yard stick behind the counters of W. H.
Holsenbeck and Bro.

Col. R. V. Hardeeman, J. H. Morgan, S. L. Chiles, of Clinton, Mr.
James Morton, of Pine Ridge, and Mr. D. D. Holsenbeck, of Grays, spent last Monday in Macon on business.

In another column will be seen the advertisement of Davis & Balkcom. These gentlemen propose to furnish the planters with fertilizers, guano, groceries and sugar. Give them a call when you visit the City.

Laying off iron on the C. & M. begins the 19th inst, where the force left will last summer. The road will be pushed right along now to Shady Dale.

The firm of Winters, Holsenbeck and Co. have dissolved partnership by mutual agreement. Mr. Winters once was one of Jones' best and most successful farmers. He expects to commence farming again.
Success to Mr. Winters.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Campbell & Jones in today's paper. They are prepared to accommodate the planters, and all who are in need of supplies will do well to call on them.

Most of the farmers around Gray's have killed hogs, and as a general thing they have enough meat to last until next Fall. Major Jones says he has more than enough meat, also has about one hundred and fifty pounds of fresh lard for sale. Resides he has old lard left from last year.

CLINTON LOCALS.

Oh, mist weather! Rain, rain, fog and mist.

It is rumored that Col. J. C. Barron has purchased the Kingman house and lot in Clinton.

The "small fry" of Clinton will enjoy a candy pulling at the home of Mrs. Steph Phillips to-night.
Mrs. Gresham, widow of Wilkins Gresham, (long time sheriff of this co.) died at her home in the county last week.

Mrs. Maggie James of Camak Ga. spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. M. A. Phillips at the Parsonage.

Miss Kate Morgan will open school near Grays next Monday 23d.
Mrs. Barron also begins in Clinton same day.

Col. R. V. Hardeeman says he will vote for repeal of revenue upon par-agoric, he is sitting up these nights with a "new girl." This is leap year and the girls are taking advantage of it.

Mr. H. A. Morgan who has recently moved from Smarr's to Grays has taken charge of Hardeeman's mill. Mr. M— is an experienced miller, and the public may depend upon getting good meal.

A novel sale of personal estate took place in Clinton last Saturday, between two prominent citizens of this county, gentlemen both of sense and experience. A horse for which the owner paid last spring $130.00 was given for a pointer dog! How is that for high?

While sweeping her house Monday, Ella Franks swept in the accidently, a piece of dynamite which exploding severely wounded her in the arm, and put out one eye entirely. Her husband, Tom Franks, had used some dynamite last summer in blasting a rock from his well and forgotten that he left the piece in the house.

The case of Macon Savings Bank vs. R. A. Hardeeman and others, is being tried in the Superior Court in Macon this week. The amount involved is between seven and eight thousand dollars, and an array of legal talent has been engaged to-wit: Lanier and Anderson, with Hill and Harris for Bank, Hardeman and Davis, Dessau & Bartlett, R. V. Hardeeman for defense. The case may consume several days.

The ignorant Editors of the JONES CO. HEADLIGHT takes this method of begging the pardon most humiliating of the Wrightsville Headlight. Really we had not been in the journalistic arena long enough to have formed the acquaintance of our worthy exchanges and confess that Bro. Huff's head is much older and wiser than ours of Jones that it can not possibly be light. "We take it all back," and "wont be caught napping again!" Bro. Penn had nothing whatever to do with this light-headed business, and we beg you Bro. Huff to exonerate him. He is too old in the "cause to make such a faux pas.
Clinton Jan. 17th 1888.

Items from Stevens Pottery.

Mr. Editor.—Will you allow me a short space in valuable journal?
Mrs. H. F. Newton is on a visit to relatives in Macon.

Steven Bro's are erecting a new Pottery in the Central City, and will be ready for business in a short while.

Our Military Delegation Volunteers company is coming to the front. We will have an election of officers the 25th inst., also a prize shooting for a medal cup. We would advise the boys to practice target shooting.

There is a saw mill in our vicinity owned by H. F. & L. C. Newton (wide awake business men) the noisiest affair we ever heard. In reply to complaints that have been made they say we shall have a rest when they catch up with orders.
The weather for the past week has been very unfavorable for farm work. We note with pleasure that our farmers are turning their attention more to the planting of small grain, and we hope soon to see the return of good cotton and hominy times" when cotton will cease to be king.

Send out sample copies of the Headlight, we are delighted with it.

and want it introduced all over the county. We heard a gentleman remark a few days ago that each number was worth the subscription price. Much success to the Proprietor and Local Editors.

REMINISCENCES OF JONES COUNTY

BY MRS. E. G. H.

CONVICTED AND HUNG UPON CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVI- DENCE.

It is a well known and lamentable fact that men have been tried and convicted upon merely circumstantial evidence. Evidence which at the time proved as "strong as holy writ," and justice as intelligent as ever sat in serious debate have rendered verdicts of "guilty" upon persons who in after years were innocent as the babe unborn.

Such a case, to the regret of many, once occurred in this county, although the party made to suffer was only a poor slave. "Before the law" a widow lady, Mrs. Harrison, lived in Jones county, and among the negroes in her possession was an honest, hardworking boy, Harry, with wife and children, who occupied a cabin near the misties' house and yard. Some time near by the home of Mrs. H. lived a poor white widow almost alone. This woman was awakened one night by finding in her bed room a stalwart negro man. Frightened almost to death, she gave the alarm, but under the fearful circumstances could remember nothing by which the fend could be identified except that he had on an old military coat that she knew was owned by Harry Harrison and was the only one of the kind in the neighborhood.

Soon after the alarm was given, a posse of men with sleuth hounds were put upon the trail of the negro, and he was soon tracked to Harry's house. There was Harry apparently asleep in his bed and near by on the floor lay the coat.
Heavy was thunderstruck when awakened and seemed paralyzed with amazement when confronted with the fearful accusation, and protested most piteously that he was innocent. However, as everything was proved against him, he was so plainly proved his guilt, he was arrested and brought to the jail in Clinton. The crime was a hanging offense, and the criminal could be tried by inferior Court in those days. This court was presided over by three judges, one of whom was James Gray, father of Hon.
James M. Gray (for whom our "Gray's" is named). Harry's trial came before this court. He was without hesitancy pronounced guilty and sentenced to be hung at an early day. The dauntless crime so incensed an outraged public, nothing else could appease them. Therefore, the scaffold was erected and the dishonorable task devolved upon Sheriff William Harrow, grandfather of our present efficient sheriff, Wm.
Barron. Just before the fatal trap was sprung, Mr. Barron, who was in much sympathy with Harry, whose demeanor throughout the incarceration had been praise worthy, asked him: "Harry are you guilty of this crime?" "Mr. Barron," he answered, "I am not guilty, I am as innocent as the angels in heaven." Yet he was hung, and consigned to an ignominious grave.

Some time afterwards, years perhaps, a negro boy, Charles Dumas, was arrested for some crime and brought to trial. On being sentenced to be confessed as to having been the perpetrator of the deed for which Harry had been hung.
He described most minutely the modus operandi of his proceedings.
After the afternoon, before the assault, having determined upon it, he thought of the old coat, and managed so as to abstract it from Harry's house, without its being missed.

Finding the hounds were upon his track with stamie cunning, he ran direct to Harry's house, found all the family quietly asleep, and the window ajar, threw the coat in, and climbed to the front of the house, and jumped to the back yard thereby prevented the hounds from further trail—thus was the crime settled conclusively upon Harry.
Although Charles was hung, Harry had paid with his life, a fearful debt.

The Angola goat seems to be raised in great perfection in Texas.
A skin of the most beautiful description came from the ranch of the Messrs. Arnold, in Uvalde county. The hair is brilliantly white, and very long and silky. They also possess the art down there of dressing these skins in a manner to make them as useful for rugs as they are agreeable to look at.

Planters Read.

We have this day contracted with Messrs. JOHN MERRYMAN & CO to sell, at all stations on the C. & M. Railroad, their —CELEBRATED BRANDS OF GUANO—

Merryman's A. D. Bones, Merryman's GEORGIA TEST.

We can say without any fear of contradiction that Merryman's Fertilizers are to-day, as they have been for 20 years, at the very top in excellence, and the perfect satisfaction they give to planters.

While most of the popular brands on the market in past years have changed the grade of their goods by lowering their grade, Merryman has continually improved. We do not make these statements at random.
We refer to any planter in Jones and Jasper counties who have used Merryman's Guano, and will stake our reputation on the result.

—WE ALSO HANDLE—

SOLUBLE BONE DUST

for composting, which is the highest grade acid on the market. We sell cheaper acid phosphates; also Kainit, and are agents for the Macon Oil & Fertilizer Company for the sale of their Cotton Seed Meal.

We can give low prices on these goods, and are ready to deliver now.
Our Agents will call on the good people of Jones and Jasper coun-
