Gray Georgia, Saturday, June 28rd

OUR TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT:
Grover Cleveland.
OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:
Allen G. Thurman,
OF OHIO.

THE Georgia School of Technology will begin its first term in October next.

FREDERICK, the Emperor-King, ended his earthly career the 15th inst. The people of Germany have been twice bereaved within a short while.

There will be a regular old style barbecue at this place on July 14th. Jones county people never do things by halves, and a nice "cure" with a nice crowd with good deportment will add largely to our county's future prospects.

Our Sister county, Bibb, has opened the campaign in local politics and there will be more interest taken than for years. Mr. M. C. Balkcom is a candidate for the Legislature, Hon. C. L. Bartlett for State Senator, and Col. C. M. Wiley for Ordinary. A lively campaign is expected.

Mr. Clark Grier the son of Col. E. C. Grier deceased has been elected temporary Secretary of the Georgia State Agricultural Society to succeed his father. The election held good until the annual meeting of the Convention, which takes place at Newman on August 14th. There were seven competitors and 43 votes. Mr. Grier receiving 29 votes, which was indeed a high compliment. One editor being in the race.

COL. J. H. ESTILL.

The special St. Louis correspondents of the Atlanta Constitution and the Augusta Chronicle, are particularly spiteful against this honorable gentleman. Their remarks reflect altogether upon themselves and not on Col. Estill, for the people of Georgia know him too well to have any regard for these slurs and slanders.

General Winfield Scott was once challenged to fight a duel by a man who might thus have been brought to the notice of the public, as he never was. The brave old general respectfully declined the challenge, when the would be belligerent in a rage said he would go over the counters and brand Gen. Scott as a coward. When informed of this remark the General, not taking his eyes from the paper he was reading, very quietly said "He will simply be branding himself a liar. The people of the United States know me."

These correspondents are simply showing up in their true light as slanders. They charge nothing at the state convention in Atlanta to the end that Col. Estill should be made the Georgia member of the National Democratic executive committee. There was no more trading than there was for any of the places filled by the honorable gentlemen who represented Georgia at St. Louis. All of these places were canvassed for the friends of each man doing what they could in an honorable way, for their favorite. It developed at the convention that Col. Estill was the most popular man in the state for the place to which he has been promoted; and there was no reason on earth why he should not be made committee-man from Georgia, except forsooth, that these slandersous correspondents object to a prohibitionist being put on the National Democratic executive committee. Now as two-thirds and very likely three-fourths of the democrats of Georgia are prohibitionists, it is very meet and proper that they should have a voice in choosing men who represent the state. Col. Estill nor any other good prohibitionist in Georgia, has been inimical to the democratic party.

This is the shibboleth of democracy in this state. If a man is a prohibitionist it is well known by that that he is a democrat. Some of the liquor men are democrats and some are not.

THE DISTRICT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Democratic executive committee of the Sixth Congressional district met this day, at the time and place, as indicated by the call of the chairman as published.

The chairman being absent and a quorum of the committee present, the Hon. M. H. Sandwich, of Upson county, was made chairman pro tem, and J. W. Lindsey, of Wilkinson county, secretary.

It was, on the motion of the Hon. Robert Smith, of Crawford, adopted that July 28th, at 11 o'clock a. m. be the time, and the court room of Bibb, in Macon Ga., be the place, to hold a convention of the Democratic party of the Sixth Congressional district to nominate a candidate for a Congressman for the Fifty first Congress of the United States, and to select a elector for President and Vice-President for the district.

It was, on the motion of J. W. Lindsey, adopted that each county in the district be entitled to votes for each Representative it had in the last General Assembly, and that the several counties be requested to select such delegates as they may choose to cast their votes in said convention.

The committee then adjourned, to meet at the parlors of the Hotel Lanier, in Macon, at 4 o'clock a. m. July 28, 1888. A full meeting of the committee is requested.

M. H. Sandwich, Ch'm.
J. W. Lindsey, Secretary.
[The papers of the district are requested to publish.]

It is estimated that the girl who dances eighteen waltzes travels about 14 miles.

It was very kind and thoughtful to give Sheridan the rank of General, but they didn't do it until he lay on his dying bed.

Out of 900 boiler-explosions in the New England States all but thirteen were traced directly back to the engineer's carelessness.

Gen. John M. Palmer, the democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois, is a native of Kentucky, and 71 years of age. He was originally a Douglass democrat, but was a Lincoln elector in 1860. During the war he was a major general and was elected governor of Illinois in 1886. He has acted with the Democratic party since 1872.

PERPETUAL MOTION.

Talking about perpetual motion why bless you, the country editor is the living embodiment of it. He is never absolutely at rest. From sun to sun he is pecking away at the paper, for in nine cases out of ten he is editor, business manager, canvasser, printer and pressman. And when the night falls, his labors are not ended; for copy must be had for tomorrow, exchanges skimmed and called from delinquents billed and contracts for cheap advertising attended to. And when at last sleep lays her balmy hand upon his brow, he lies down to dream of work and that load of wood which John Jones promised him and never brought and keeps up a lively perspiration chopping it in his sleep. Oh, yes; the country editor has got perpetual motion down to a fine point.

LAWS OF NEWSPAPERS.

1. Any person taking a newspaper regularly from a post-office, whether directed to his address or another, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until the payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or removing and leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Hotel rates at Long Branch are to be higher this year than three Lords are expected to spend in there.

California has been added to try nickels and pennies. Ten cents for a ginger ale leaves a bad taste in the mouth.

One of Forepaugh's elephants had to be covered with mustard the other day to ease his pains, and it took twenty-two pounds to do it.

Ice cream was responsible for the death of over 300 people last season, such of us as survive should not feel discouraged. Its awful good.

The "lathers" may mean men who put on lath or men who put on lather, in any event they are striking in the East for about the pay of a Congressman.

It is said that an Italian count is about to marry a New York shop girl. His stick on the way she yells "cash" and thinks there must be money in it.

Yankee genius should utilize the grasshoppers. There is no doubt they could be dried, pulverized and made into soap cakes for use of the army and navy.

There are now seventeen city officials, or ex-officials, doing time at Sing-Sing for crimes and misdemeanors. The number seems large, but at least 200 have got away.

Robeson and Crane are to dissolve partnership because they are too much alike to agree. One is Robeson and the other is Robeson, and poor Crane is left out in the cold.

Courier-Journal calls attention to the fact that the only Michigan man ever nominated for the Presidency was defeated. This will be a great year for calling up omens.

Amelia Rives, the novelist, sent her signature to fourteen editors on a wager that all could read it. The nearest that any one made it out was "American Rivers."

Paris has a "society for the protection of young men who have lost their latch-keys and can't get in to the house." What was the matter that the police couldn't take care of them?

Connecticut claims a parrot sixty years old, but as the average age of Puli is only thirty years it is evident that some one has started a campaign lie.

A Georgia woman claims to have been married for forty years without once asking her husband for money. She is a widow now and open to offers.

A five foot alligator was captured in Central Park, New York, by two policemen the other day. It had escaped from the menagerie.

ALLIANCE ADVOCATE.

The June number is before us and is the best issue yet, and that is saying a great deal. One page is illustrated with pictures of the most distinguished Alliance men of the country. The correspondence columns are full to overflowing. We don't see how Alliance men can get along without the Advocate. This is the last issue as a monthly. About the 25th inst it will appear as a weekly at $1.00 a year. We will send it to the Jones Co. Headlights for $1.00. Subscribe now. The Advocate is printed at Montezuma, Ga.

Golden Days.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

This admirable weekly for the young of this great land is now well established, and has an increasingly large and well-deserved patronage.

It is well worthy the examination of parents who wish to provide their children with a large amount of carefully-prepared miscellany, at once entertaining, instructive and clean. It is edited with ability, and shows a quick sympathy with the pleasures of the young people, and a clear outlook for their welfare.

A JONES COUNTY CYCLONE—Capt. Jake Viescher comes to the front with another good one this week. Hear him. He says many years ago when he was courting in Jones county, one of those cyclones so famous in that county, came up, and that a negro woman was returning from the spring, with a wash-pot on her head. The cyclone struck her fair and square, and turned the wash-pot wrong side out, and the woman was unhurt. The pot still answered all purposes, but on account of the legs being inside the clothes would have to be taken out to air them.—Fort Valley Enterprise.

Old Bob Bunkley, an eccentric and peculiar negro who has been rather a noted character around Clinton ever since "freedom come," died in the upper part of the county last Friday, and was buried at the Seabrooks farm. Bob was a real weather prophet, and his predictions scarcely ever failed. He was a mathematician also, but wholly uneducated, could calculate and multiply with great rapidity, lived all alone and spent his time when alone in "walking to himself" the children say.

The following from Telegraph of Sunday gives "praise where it is justly deserved." We Clinton folks are proud of Miss Sallie as we can be. She is a bright and charming girl.

"The impersonation of character was throughout exceptionally fine. But, perhaps, that which most pleased the audience was the Nancy Hart of Miss Sallie Barron. The tone, speech, manner, everything was striking—even the flop of the little old white cap as she made a bow, in answer to an encore, was characteristic, and "brought down the house."

Christianity means to the merchant that he should be honest; to the judge it means that he should be just; to the servant that he should be faithful; to the school-boy that he should be diligent; to the street sweeper that he should sweep clean; to every worker that his work should be well done.

An editor works 365 days getting out fifty-two issues of a paper; that is labor. Once in a while somebody pays him a years subscription; that is capital. And once in a while some ugly son of a gun of a dead-beat takes the paper for a year and without paying for it orders the postmaster to send it anarchy, or skips the country; that is anarchy, but justice later on will overtake the last mentioned creature, for there is a place where they will get their just deserts that—well, it's an uncomfortably hot location when the fire is kept well stirred up.—Ex.

A gentleman traveling in Texas met on the road a wagon drawn by a countryman, who, in addition to the skillful flourish and crack of his whip, was vociferously encouraging his horned horses after this fashion: "Haw Presbyterian!" "Gee Baptist!" "Whoa Episcopalian!" "Get up, Methodist!" The traveler stopped the driver, remarking to him that he had strange names for oxen, he would like to know why he thus called them. "I call this ox Presbyterian because he is true blue and never fails to hold out to the end, besides he knows more than the rest. I call this one Baptist because he is always after water, and seems as though he'd never get drunk once as and then he won't out with the others. I call this ox Episcopalian because he has a mighty way of holding his head up and if the yoke gets a little too tight, he tries to kick and draw clear out the track. I call this ox Methodist because he puffs and blows as he goes along, and you would think he was pulling all creation but not a pound unless you continually stir him up."

Speaking of home decoration, Good Housekeeping suggests that no one who enters many of the homes of the country can fail to notice what a marked progress has been made in beautifying them. Almost every young woman and many of the older ones are now capable of doing a large variety of things that go to make up home decoration, and these are found in the household in profusion. A few cents or dollars will go to a surprising length in the purchase of materials for this work of aestheticism, and these in the deft fingers of wife and daughter become choice attractions in beautifying the home.
