

THE MONTICELLO

"OUR AMBITION IS TO MAKE A VERACIOUS WORK, RELIABLE IN ITS STATEMENTS, CANDID IN ITS CONCLUSIONS, AND JUST IN ITS VIEWS."

VOL. II.

GRAY, GEORGIA, SATURDAY JUNE 15, 1890.

Nº. 50

Property has been purchased for the construction of an Alliance warehouse at Quitman.

The High Sheriff of the State of Georgia will hold a convention in the city of Atlanta on the 10th of July.

The Piedmont Chautauqua will open at Salt Springs July 10th. An interesting program is being arranged.

Rev. Samuel Scott has accepted the invitation to deliver an address before the Alumni of Davidson College in Charlotte N. C., on the 18th of the present month.—Eatonton Messenger.

There will be a live stock show in Madison the 31st of August in which Putnam, Green, Jasper, Walton, Oconee, Newton and Hancock Counties will be invited to enter the contest.

The probable number of lives lost at the Johnston flood has increased considerably within a week. The survivors are fast registering and at least accounts it is thought that 5,000 will cover the number of missing ones.

Rev. Sam Jones preached in Chattanooga the day the Georgia editors were in that city; but he did not take a shot at the editors. This may be because he has some discretion, or because the Georgia editors are very good.—Augusta News.

God bless the youngest child in the state. When she had to wait three months to become of age before she could be sworn into office. He is now confronted with the difficult problem of Lake Young, and how to arrest him.

Prof. B. C. Havenscraft, of West Virginia, has been elected Principal of the Eatonton High School at a salary of $1,000 per annum. Mrs. Annie Nisbet, of Eatonton, was elected 1st Asst. Teacher; Miss Julia Reid, also of Eatonton, 2nd Asst. Teacher and Miss Lena Gubtenberg, of Macon, Music Teacher.

Everybody knows how to edit a paper better than the person who is employed for that purpose. It is the same way about reciting wives; everybody knows how to cure them except the person who has one. Editing a newspaper is something like building a railroad with a pencil; it is easy enough to figure around and see how it should be done—but doing it, is where the rub comes in.—Jackson News.

Some of our friends called in yesterday's edition, while we were out, and left us a quart of the most elegant strawberries we ever set eyes on. Later—If the idiotic cuss who left the above mentioned berries will call again, he can have them. A person who has no more sense than to leave strawberries into an Editor's half empty paste pot, should not be allowed at large. We did not notice this fatal mistake until we began to partake of the fruit.—Ex.

The Macon reporter for the Constitution says: "Colonel John E. Jones, recently elected president of the Covington and Macon railroad, has thrown new life into the corporation, and is getting matters into tip top shape. Don't be surprised at any time to hear of a well known railroader taking a responsible position on the road. The bright days of the Covington and Macon are rapidly looming up in the future map to the delight of the people of Macon."

IF YOUR BACK ACHES Or you are suffering from any other ailment, try our "Backache Remedy." It will cure you, and give you a new feeling. Sold by all druggists in the South.

MONTICELLO ITEMS.

We are informed that there was a severe hail storm in Hillsboro last Tuesday.

The big excursion to Macon of the Jasper County Sunday School Association will come off July the 12th.

The Dramatics are rehearsing for an entertainment and Monticello may expect something grand in the near future.

Mr. Capers Goodman, of this County, a student of Mercer University, died a few days ago of brain fever. He was a promising young man and his death has cast a gloom over the County.

The new Masonic building will be dedicated the 24th of this month. It is expected that an able orator will be present on the occasion and the program promises to be an interesting one.

Mrs. Desan, of Macon, is spending sometime at the Thornton Hotel. By advice of Physicians she left the City for the benefit of a sick child and we trust that Monticello's pure air may prove beneficial.

Hon. Ben Terrell, of Texas, delivered quite an interesting address, to a large audience, at the Court House yesterday morning at eleven o'clock, on subjects of vital importance to the farmers. Owing to the lateness of the hour we were unable to give any of the details.

The Monticello Juvenile Literary Society held their regular meeting last Friday Evening at Capt. I. W. Roberts, at which time Mr. Willie Roberts and Mr. Charlie Jordan was elected to his stand.

J. W. Almond has on exhibition a stack of cotton measuring 13 inches and containing six squares. It was grown by Mr. Dupuy Rowe, from Winifred, who has eight acres that will average like sample, and shows the effects of Jackson High Grade Guano.

The June number of The "Old Homestead," published at Savannah, Ga., by Davis Bros, is before us. It contains "Cleopatra," by R. Rider Hagard, and "Bentley's Bride," by Wiegand, both of which are fascinating serials. "Two Women of Shakespeare," by Mamie Neyland, and "The History of the Common People of England," by Julia A. Witsch, are papers that would grace any magazine in Europe or America. "Anna Karenina," a criticism on Tolstoy's novel, by Perceval S. Menken, and "Confessions of a Treasure," by Megs Tolfair McFawns, are contributions that reflect credit on these gifted writers. Palmers exquisite ode to "Light," "The World from the Sidewalk," and "The Hermitage" furnish the lovers of poetry with choice thoughts. A serial, "Aftermath," by a brilliant young Georgia lady, concludes the literary portion of the magazine. The Old Homestead also contains editorials, farm notes, scientific articles, choice miscellaneous matter, puzzle department, and several pages of select vocal and instrumental music. It is the only magazine of a literary character in the South, and is one of the handsomest publications in the country. A prominent feature of the magazine is the childrens page, conducted by Mrs. Harriet A. Sawyer. The July number will be a superb one. The price of this handsome magazine is only fifty cents a year. Sample copy and premium list sent on application. Davis Bros, publishers and proprietors, Savannah, Ga.

FOR DYSPENSIA

The following clipped from the Eatonton Messenger is very appropriate just at this time, and perhaps will afford "food for reflection" for our good citizens: EDUCATION ON A BIG BOOM.

The educational wave is sweeping over the county, and the people everywhere, ripe for the move, are fast falling into line, and great things may be looked for in the future. Let the Board of Education put on their best thinking caps and get down to their knitting at once about this matter; let there be devising and planning and begin to draw things to a focus, for the people are almost to a man ready and willing to co-operate with them in containing in supplementing the public fund and putting into practical operation the best thing almost that has ever been done for the children of the county.

I ask below a few practical questions for each reader of the Messenger to ask him or herself and to ponder over.

"Do you know a child lays its foundation for all future success between the ages of 6 and 12?"

"Do you know the child is responsible for this neglect of duty on your part?"

"Do you know that he and not you pays the terrible price for what he can not help?"

"Do you know your neglect will tell for years to come on the women who are to take your places in the busy world of the future?"

"Do you know that a little self-sacrifice and spirit of co-operation will remove the trouble?"

"Men and women of Putnam, let us lay aside selfishness in all its aspects, come together with this spirit of co-operation and remove forever this evil which threatens to destroy that which is best among us!" Ex. Ptd.

"The Land of the Midnight Sun" must indeed be an interesting portion of the earth's surface to visit if we may judge from the extremely interesting and beautifully illustrated article about that region that appears in Demorest's Monthly Magazine for July; and that the modes of travel in that far-off country are ages behind the times is clearly shown by turning to another article in the same number of this valuable Family Magazine. In a most charming manner we are told of the "Comforts of Modern Railway Travel" in our country, and the illustrations give us a comprehensive idea of the luxury one may find in one of our palaces on wheels, from the kitchen to the boarder. "Birds In Our Homes," by Olive Thorne Miller, are handsomely illustrated, will please all lovers of our feathered friends. "Aids to Beauty," a series of articles commenced in this number, will certainly be of great benefit to those who wish to enhance their personal charms. The stories in the July number are particularly attractive and summing, and the beautiful "Rose" frontispiece is a study in colors well worthy of framing. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th Street, New York.

The Headlights.

Thos. R. Penn : Publisher.

She's fairer than a lily,
And she's sweeter than a rose,
And she knocks the neighbors silly
When she wields the garden hose.
She lifts her skirts from danger
With her left hand, while her right
Grays the nozzle and the stranger
Gets a very pleasing sight.
The neighbors' eyes all twinkled,
And their interest daily grows,
For they like to see her sprinkle,
And they like to see the hose.

—Fresh Barber (shaving customer)—Who is that old hen going along the other side of the street, with a bustle on her like a boxing glove?

Customer (rising deliberately and looking)—That? Oh, she's my wife.—BX.

"Where did you get that cake, Annie?"

"Mother gave it to me."

"She's always giving you more'n she does me."

"Never mind, Harry, she's going to put mustard plasters on us to-night, and I'll ask her to let you have the biggest."—Life.

Caution in the premises.—"Hladn't I better pray for rain to-day, Deacon?" said a minister, Sunday. "No, no-day, Dominie, I think" was the prudent reply, "the wind isn't right but you can advise the ladies of your congregation to buy the Light Running New Home Sewing Machine without fear of making a mistake."

To the Georgia Weekly Press. The third annual meeting of the Georgia Weekly Press association will be held in Cartersville, Ga., on Wednesday, July 3. The meeting will be called to order promptly at nine o'clock a. m. On Thursday the association will leave on an excursion of much interest to all who may attend. A full attendance is requested. For information regarding transportation, address S. W. Roberts corresponding secretary, Sparta, Ga. R. F. PENNY, President.

SHERIFFS' MEETING.

All the sheriffs of Georgia are requested to meet in convention at the court house in Atlanta at 12 o'clock a. m., July 10th, next. Every paper in state please copy.

NOT ONE, BUT MANY.

Among our exchanges we observe allusions to "the heroes of Johnston," and discover on reading them that they refer to different persons. Necessary so. Who was the hero of Johnston? A young man on horseback dashed down the valley, crying out to the people to fly to the hills and save themselves from the coming flood, and, forgetful of his own safety, rode on, carrying the warning until the raging waters overtook and overwhelmed him and his panting horse.

Another young man saved twenty-two human lives from the torrent when every life he pushed his frail boat out it seemed that he went to meet certain death.

A lone woman sat at her post of duty in the Johnston telegraph office and, though she knew that destruction was coming at fearful speed, instead of leaving herself beguiled to call the other operators down the valley. She succeeded in warning every one of them, and then sent the words: "This is my last message." It was indeed, her last, for the flood had come and she sank beneath its foaming waves. An humble negro porter on a railroad train, when the conductor and those superior to him in authority fled, would not desert and invalid lady passenger, but stood by and struggled manfully to save her until both went down beneath the raging torrent.

Which of these was noblest? Each of them did his or her highest duty in an hour of fearful trial, each forgot self and thought of the safety of others. And these are only a few of the many instances of self-sacrifice which shine out amid the horrors of that disaster and rekindle our faith in humanity. There was no hero of Johnston, nor heroine, either. There were many brave men and women who struggled and suffered and died there trying to save their fellow creatures. Many such heroic souls were, no doubt, unnoticed in the wild turmoil of the hour of death.

Let us honor all of those of whose self-sacrifice we know, but we may be sure that there are by no means all and that the others shall not be without their reward, though they may fail of our feeble praises.—Macon Telegraph.

TIMELY THOUGHTS.

Suppose all the women in the land should leave home to combat the errors of the world, what would become of the children, and the household affairs? Go slow, go slow. A good cause may be hurt by bad management.

Home is woman's throne, on which she sits as Queen. When she leaves it to enter the struggles of the outside world, she forsakes her God-ordained duty, and becomes one of the common crowd.

The reason why there are so many unmarried women in the land is, because the old spinsters have left home and gone to meddling with affairs that are in the line of men's special duty.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Do not fail to plant a good crop of peas.

Everybody is anxiously awaiting the result of the Woolfolk trial.

The commencement sermon at Wesleyan will be preached next Sunday.

Mr. Ed Morton has had his new residence at this place painted recently.

The Clinton Sabbath School had their annual picnic at this place last Friday.

The wheat threshers are having a big time eating black-berry and chicken pies.

Messrs. J. W. Turk and Henry Hunt, of Round Oak, attended the picnic here last Friday.

Mr. J. W. Jones has nearly finished his new residence and when completed will be an ornament to Grays.

The peach trees are loaded and a great many of them breaking down already with their heavy burden of fruit.

Send us the names of your neighbors who you think would like to see a copy of our paper and likely to subscribe.

Mr. Dick Hightower, of Covington, has moved his family to this place and is occupying the house owned by Mr. R. T. Ross.

Peaches and apples are ripening fast and together with black berries, affords the "good house-wife" ample material to furnish the good old fashioned dumpling.

For simplicity, durability, ease of management and capacity for work, the Light-Hunting New Home has no rival, and the happy possessor of one has the very best the world affords.

Mr. J. R. Hicks of the firm of Phillips & Hicks has charge of the Brilliant Saloon, formerly owned by Biscuit Smith, and would be glad that his patrons, who dealt with him in horses and mules would call and see him when visiting Macon.

Nearly everyone we meet wants to know of our Western trip, to tell them all we saw, would consume a little more time than we have to spare. Read the HEADLIGHT your heartiest support. Do what you can to aid your county paper and may it in other hands be a greater success.

A TRUE TONIC.

When you don't feel well and hardly know what ails you, give B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) a trial. It is a true tonic.

T. O. Callahan, Charlotte, N. C. writes: "B. B. B. is a fine tonic, and has done me good."

L. W. Thompson, Damascus, Ga. writes: "I believe B. B. B. is the best blood purifier made. It has greatly improved my general health."

An old gentleman writes: "B. B. B. gives me new life and new strength. If there is anything that will make an old man young, it is B. B. B."

P. A. Shepherd, Norfolk, Va. August 10th, 1898, writes: "I depend on B. B. B. for the preservation of my health. I have had it in my family now nearly two years, and in all that time have not had to have a doctor."

Thos. Paoli, Alapaha, Ga. writes: "I suffered terribly from dyspepsia. The use of B. B. B. has made me feel like a new man. I would not take a thousand dollars for the good it has done me."

W. M. Cheshire, Atlanta, Ga. writes: "I had a long spell of typhoid fever, which at last seemed to settle in my right leg, which swelled up enormously. An ulcer also appeared which discharged a cup full of matter a day. I then gave B. B. B. a trial and it cured me."

WHY IS IT?

That people linger along always complaining about that continual tired feeling? One bottle of BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER will entirely remove this feeling, give them a good appetite and regulate digestion. For sale by D. D. HOLSENBECK.

CLINTON LOCALS.

Big crowd in town Tuesday. Miss Maude Harman was at home from Lucy Cobb Institute.

Mr. R. L. Finney, of New Orleans, is on an extended visit to relatives and friends in Clinton.

Mr. J. R. Barron is spending a few days in Macon and will take in part of the week commencing.

Col. and Mrs. Ike Hardman, of Macon, attended the funeral of Mr. Willie Griswold in Clinton Wednesday.

Mr. Willie Griswold, who died in Millersville the 11th inst. was buried in Clinton, Wednesday evening.

Hon. B. F. Terrell of Texas addressed a large crowd of Alliance men at the Court house in Clinton on Tuesday.

Miss Lizzie Smith, of Ivey, Ga. who has been spending several weeks with her aunt, Mrs. E. G. Hardman, returned home last Saturday.

Mr. Comer Baldwin, of Talbot county, who is attending Mercer University, came out to the picnic Friday and was our guest till Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Gus Bragg lost a good mule on last Saturday. He was returning from Macon and finding the mule sick stopped over in Clinton, where, after a short while, the mule died.

Young McCarthy also lost his horse, a very valuable animal, a short while after Mr. Bragg's mule died. His horse had just been driven from Macon and died soon after getting to Clinton.

Mrs. Barfield, 75 years old, mother of Richard and Chas. Barfield, living on the lower edge of Jones county, committed suicide by hanging herself last evening. Mr. Christian, the coroner, was summoned on Sunday to hold the inquest. She crawled up a ladder, which was leaning against the house, tied a rope to the upper rounds and jumped off. She was found upon her knees dead. No cause except insanity can be assigned for the act.

A CARD.

With this issue of the HEADLIGHT I close my connection with the paper. My association with it has been very pleasant, and circumstances (uncontrollable) prevent my further work upon the paper. I bespeak for the HEADLIGHT your heartiest support. Do what you can to aid your county paper and may it in other hands be a greater success.

E. G. HARDMAN.

There are three big rocks in the Potomac just above Georgetown called the Three Sisters, after three mythical maidens who perished there in some romantic way centuries ago.

Strangely enough they mark the widest part of that beautiful stretch of river, for it is at that point that boats usually upset and swimmers usually drown. Bad strangers of all is the fact that on the night before such a death the people living on the shore hear the Three Sisters softly moaning—a sound distinct from every other, and never heard on such occasions. Wednesday night, for example, just as the Georgetown clock struck 12, the moaning sound came floating ashore from the Three Sisters, and on Thursday noon a shell expired as it passed them, and its owner was drowned. Strange, but true.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, restores color of face and cures malaria, etc.

IN THE SUMMER OF SUCCESS.

The June number of the Southern Cultivator is incomparably the handsomest and most interesting and valuable periodical ever published anywhere. Its table of contents covers the entire range of topics connected with every department of farm life, and the practical information imparted in a single number is invaluable. The Cultivator is preeminently practical, and its motto is: "We strive to make each issue better and more practical than its predecessor." We recommend it to our readers. Send on one dollar and get it for one year. Address The Cultivator Publishing Co., Drawer N, Atlanta, Ga.

FROM ROUND OAK.

DEAR HEADLIGHT:—The south bound passenger train that arrived here at 5 p. m. last Saturday, brought Misses Cora and Sue Lee Goolsby and Miss Bradley Ward, three of Jasper county's charming young ladies. As the three stepped from the train and were going through the usual ceremony of meeting the friends that were awaiting their arrival, the engineer hung himself out of his cab window, with a great big smile all over his face, riveted his gaze on the young ladies and seemed perfectly charmed with the appearance of the trio.

McKoy after the usual "all aboard" waved the engine around, but the poor fellow paid no attention to anything and saw nothing, except the young ladies on whom he kept up his devouring gaze. By this time all eyes were turned on the engineer and the conductor had to walk nearly up to the engine and yell "look at me instead of the young ladies." The engineer laughed heartily when he saw what a target he had made of himself, seized the throttle and was soon gone. A two horse wagon was near by, ready to transport the young ladies to the home of Mr. J. M. Hunt. Accompanying them were Miss Ilatie Hunt, Messrs. Henry Hunt and C. T. Turk. Sunday morning the visiting young ladies were out in full force to join a large neighborhood congregation, while they listened to Rev. E. B. Cook discuss the 50th and 60th verses of the 119th Psalm. He whacked his right and left on "our ways."

"I thought on my ways" was the main point discussed in the text and has often been quoted since the sermon, showing the impression made on the congregation. In the afternoon the young men of the neighborhood called on the young ladies at Mr. Hunt's and say they found them as charming as the engineer.

Miss Sue Lee Goolsby, Jasper county's "Jenny Lind," returned to Hillsboro Monday morning. Miss Cora Goolsby and Miss Ward will prolong their stay several days. Miss Cora is noted for "her style."

Miss Ward as a model young housekeeper.

On the night of the 4th inst. the land car belonging to the R. R. section embracing Round Oak was stolen at Hillsboro and found near Roberts Station on the 9th. About twenty five dollars worth of carpenter's tools belonging to Mr. Sias Middlebrooks were stolen and carried off with the car. They have not been recovered.

Mr. J. J. Barfield is going right ahead with the construction of his new residence at this place. Mrs. Maj. Barron has been quite sick for some time, suffering from severe cold and something like bronchitis. During the last few days she has not been confined all the time to her bed.

Mrs. Dr. Garland, of Hillsboro, has sufficiently recovered from her late illness to make a visit of two or three days to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hunt. It's hard that the hand of disease should be laid so heavily on such a little gem of a woman.

Col. E. P. Oatchings of Jackson is spending a few days with your correspondent. The ravages of the skin disease that attacked his face several years ago has been greatly checked by medical treatment and he is looking well and in good spirits.

Mr. S. A. Jackson had a mule to run away with his buggy a few days ago. He and his wife were thrown out and trained up severely. The buggy had an arm broken and the dash board tried to lay down on its foot.

Farmers are having fine weather to cultivate their crops, which are growing nicely, though small for the season.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

At this season of the year to be without a good reliable diarrhoea balsam in the house, for colic, diarrhoea and all inflammations of the stomach and bowels are exceedingly dangerous if not attended to at once. One bottle of BEGG'S DIARRHOEA BALSAM will do more good in cases of this kind than any other medicine on earth. We guarantee it. For sale by D. D. HOLSENBECK.

THE GEORGIA PRESS ASSOCIATIONS' TRIP TO THE FAR WEST.

Many Pleasures Enjoyed by Them.

THE ROYAL ENTERTAINMENT EXTENDED ON EVERY HAND—SIGHTS AND SCENES ON THE TRIP.

Reception at Birmingham—How They Were Entertained At Memphis—In Fact The Keys Turned Over To The Party For The Day.

The members of the Georgia Press Association, numbering sixty-five, rolled out of the depot at Macon on the evening of May 28th by a special train running on its own schedule, consisting of two sleepers, a day coach and a combination smoker and baggage car, through the invitation from Maj. M. S. Belknap the general manager of the Central railroad of Georgia to make an excursion over the new route, under the charge of Major W. L. Glesner, of the American Recorder, who is also immigration agent of the Central railroad of Georgia, and to his Superior management is largely due the pleasure of this memorable trip. Every detail had been arranged and as the sequel proved the arrangements were perfect.

And the members of the Association appreciate what Major Glesner did for them and presented to him an elegant gold headed cane as a token of their appreciation. Never was a presentation more worthily bestowed.

The sleepers were decorated on the sides with red, white and blue banding, with the inscription "Georgia Press Association" in large letters. This train made the entire round trip, passing through ten States, and was a handsome advertisement for Georgia.

The first stop was at the Magic City of Birmingham, in the heart of the famous iron section of Alabama. It will be impossible to more than touch briefly of what the Editors saw and how they were royally entertained. We were met at the depot by a special committee consisting of Messrs. Frank J. O'Brien, of the Age Herald, and Rufus H. Rhodes, of the Evening News and other leading citizens of Birmingham. They did everything in their power to make our visit one of pleasure.

After visiting places of interest in the city the party took the train to the Mineral Belt railroad, of the Louisville and Nashville R. R. and made the circuit of the wonderful region about which so much has been said. The excursions stopped at a coal mine where there was no mine. The ore is simply shoveled off the top and sides of the hill.

The line is one hundred and forty miles long, and every inch is in Jefferson county. Its tonnage, it is stated is more than the entire cotton crop of the United States. The trains of this road make a circuit, not only of the city but of the surrounding territory, covering the towns adjacent to Birmingham—which will be in time, no doubt, part of this great city.

The great iron furnaces at Besley were visited. They are said to be difficult to imagine any other that could be larger or more complete. Bessemer, the city that is a rival of Birmingham is near to these works. It has a handsome hotel, several magnificent blocks of building and world wide papers. "The Bessemer" and the Journal.

Bessemer is worthy of note. It was first laid out in 1837 and in two short years has attained the amazing population of five-thousands and people. Cities spring up in a night and day in the neighborhood of Birmingham; and Alland's leap is not to be wondered at when we view the busy streets which a few years ago were veritable wilderness. The draft coal mine attracted the attention of our party. These mines possess coal, iron and coke, and have, even at present and they are not yet fully developed, a daily output of fully five thousand tons. In connection with these mines are sawmills, rolling mills and car factories, steelworks and industries to tell of which would require columns of our space.

Birmingham claims a population of over 60,000. Its taxable property is eight million dollars. The taxable property of Jefferson county is twenty-one million dollars. The State of Alabama receives over one-third of her revenue from this one county. In this section there are twenty-four turnpikes; thirty iron mines; and an almost inexhaustible supply of coal; numbers of coke ovens, and other industries and manufacturing enterprises. Nearly one million dollars a month is paid out here for labor. Birmingham unquestionably is one of the coming cities of the South. The days only come and go to add to her wealth and importance. Forces have been made there in a single day. They will be made there again.

The one expression from the members of the Georgia press was that she is, indeed, the magic city! While the writer was in Birmingham he was placed under special obligations to Dr. Miller F. Brooks formerly of Jasper Co., more recently of Covington and Jackson Ga. He was entering in extending kindness, and not only the writer, but many others of the party are indebted to him for courtesies which enhanced the pleasures of their visit to this progressive city.

A visit to Lake View and East Lake, the beautiful suburban resorts of Birmingham, completed the day's pleasures, and about early in the afternoon the special train whirled out of the depot on its long run to Memphis.

The run from Birmingham to Memphis was made at night over Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham R. R. an extension of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis R. R. In reality, the route between Kansas City and New York is composed only of two roads—the Central of Georgia, and the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis R. R. that is, all save about fifty miles of it, which those who arose early had an opportunity to look at. What we saw of the country was planted in cotton, and the buildings in the appearance of having seen better days.

The reception committee of the Memphis press were at the depot to receive the visitors, and after the usual introductions, hosts and guests were driven in carriages to the Peabody house where a most tempting layout was awaiting them. That being disposed of the visitors were escorted to the steamer, C. B. Bryan and a run of about an hour was made on the river. On the return of the boat, carriages were in waiting and the party were driven through the city, the drive ending at the Memphis Cotton Exchange, where Acting Mayor Hadden welcomed them and replied to by Capt. M. M. Peoples, of Knoxville Ga.

This was followed by a superb dinner at the Peabody and in the afternoon we enjoyed a trip on the dummy line to Montgomery park, a beautiful and attractive place. At the Jockey Club house a sumptuous collation was spread and fully enjoyed by our party. We were placed under special obligations to Col. David A. Frayser, editor of the Memphis Public Ledger and to Mr. Sid Gray. They extended us many courtesies and added greatly to the pleasures of our stay in Memphis. Col. Frayser is one of the most prominent and best equipped young journalists in Tennessee.

From the time we reached Memphis until our special train steamed towards Kansas City, we were the recipients of overwhelming hospitality. Memphis carries her heart in her hand, and our stay was one continuous round of pleasure. Memphis captured the Georgia Press, and all we may say in her praise is far less than she deserves.

A. A. PENN.
Monticello, Ga.

The wide awake Jasper County News has done a great deal for Jasper county and its town—the News has no superior in the State. Monticello ought to be proud of it, and evidently is, it has this to say:

(Communicated.)

DEAR NEWS:—What has become of the Town government of Monticello? If it was not for the Town tax I have to pay, I would not know we had any Town government at all. The Rail Road has been here two years, added a little "cellucol" to the old town, is about all the improvement, value that the Town government has done. No streets have been opened even when tendered, free of charge. The streets are full of loose rocks, and the vacant lots on the public square are growing up in bushes and polk-stalks and everything which should be made attractive, neglected generally, except a little work here and there on the old streets. Now I have nothing to say against the capacity and worthiness of any one of the Town officials, but as a tax payer and citizen I think something ought to be done to remedy the situation. If we really want to see our Town build up, its officials ought to do something to make it appear inviting to those who come to look out for a location. No one wants to locate in a Town which shows no life, enterprise or tidiness. I do not know if it is true, but it is reported that the opinion of the present Town government is that a citizen gives a street that he ought to work it himself when the charter expressly makes it their duty to "lay off streets and keep them in good order, for the use of the public or of any of its citizens." This note is not written with any captions or facts finding spirit, but, I do feel that something ought to be done, or disbanded.

THE PRIDE OF WOMAN

A clear, healthy and transparent skin is always a sign of pure blood, and all persons troubled with dark, gray, yellow or blotched skin can rest assured that their blood is out of order. A few doses of BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER will remove the cause and the skin will become clear and transparent. Try it, and if satisfaction is not given it will cost you nothing. It is fully warranted. For sale by D. D. HOLSENBECK.

PIMPLES, SORES, ACHES AND PAINS.

When a hundred bottles of serrapilla or other pretentious specific fail to dislodge a born scurful contagion blood poison, remember that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) has gained many thousand victories in as many seemingly inscurable instances. Send to the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for Book of Wonders and be convinced. It is the only True Blood Purifier.

G. W. Messer, Howell's X Roads Ga., writes: "I was afflicted nine years with sores. All the medicines I could take did me no good. I then tried B. B. B. and 8 bottles cured me sound."

Mrs. S. M. Wilson, Round Mountain, Texas, writes: "A lady friend of mine was troubled with humps and pimples on her face and neck. She took three bottles of B. B. B. and her skin got soft and smooth, pimples disappeared, and her health improved greatly."

Jas. L. Roworth, Atlanta, Ga. writes: "Some years ago I contracted blood poison. I had no appetite, my digestion was ruined, rheumatism drew up my limbs so I could hardly walk, my throat was cuturized five times. Hot Springs gave me no benefit, and my life was one of torture until I gave B. B. B. a trial, and, surprising as it may seem, the use of five bottles cured me."
