"OUR AMBITION IS TO MAKE A VERACIOUS WORK, RELIABLE IN ITS STATEMENTS, CANDID IN ITS CONCLUSIONS, AND JUST IN ITS VIEWS."

VOL. II.

GRAY, GEORGIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1889.

NO. 18.

JASPER LETTER

The fire has been putting in some faithful work in our county. The landside of the square being consumed on the night of the 15th instant. There is not a vacant business house in town, and as the town authorities prohibit the erecting of any buildings unless of brick, business houses go up slowly. There is a strong probability that the boom will strike us with renewed force. Monticello ought to be one of the most thriving towns in Middle Georgia, and will in the not distant future, be a place of note. We are now looking for railroad from this place to Griffin, and then there opens up the coal beds of Alabama, and through the network of the East Tennessee R.R. a direct outlet will be at any point. Why say you to moving Easton now? Our people are orderly and social and will give you a warm welcome. We have one of the best school teachers in the State and the good part is, he is in love with our town he can't break the bonds. He has had repeated offers to take charge of colleges, but he stays with us, and we are glad and contented.

If you could see our jail you would know that we have no had people over here. It belongs to the days of "Auld Lang Syne" and it just stands there on its rock foundation in memory of Jasper's pioneer days. A man goes in there occasionally. The last one, a hungry negro that found forty or fifty jars of preserves and green fruits stored away in a storm pit, and as he had a key that fitted the lock he opened Christmas. You know these temptations are too much for a hungry negro especially about Christmas. I suppose you have seen the call for our road conference. We are bound to have good roads, better country, and good roads are a very important part of a prosperous people. The farmers are beginning their annual business of hanting guns, paying thirty or forty dollars per ton. Why will they do it? Cotton seed meal is but little over twenty dollars per ton, and about twelve, this gives a compound superior to many brands they pay so much for, at about eighteen or twenty dollars. But why not make it at home? There is a field about five miles of Easton that in the memory of men not very old was too poor for any vegetation, but to day is among the best uplands of Putnam. I find men occasionally who buy poor land, and by industry and economy soon get it to where it will produce a bale of cotton per acre.—Easton Messenger.

The lumber mill of John Achord, near Chaucney, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday night. Loss estimated at $1,500. There was no insurance.

The original map of Washington was made in 1805. The "old town," consisted of forty-eight lots. The remainder, which was afterwards divided into lots and sold, was known as the commons.

John A. Sibley, a wealthy gentleman of Marietta, passing through Cordele this week was so well pleased with the town that he purchased 38 lots. He has let the contract for a $1,500 house and will build others at once.

There is a negro living in Americus, who has nine children, four girls and five boys, eight of whom have directly over the forehead a patch of white hair about three inches wide. The remainder of their hair is the same as that of any other negro.

There is a gentleman in Clarke county who not only does his own washing, but makes his own soap, too. The soap that he makes, it is better than any soap made in this country for cleaning purposes. Last week he took a cake of this soap and his soiled clothing for the week previous found a spring in the woods, and did his own washing.

The President signed the bill admitting four new states with a pen made from a Dakota eagle's feather. He then sent the pen to Mr. Springer Illinois, chairman of the committee on territories. With his penmanship rose bud on his coat lapel, and this eagle pin on pen stuck behind his ear, Mr. Springer will take rank as the most gorgeous of our statesmen—Telegraph.

President and Mrs. Cleveland Mrs. Polson, Col. and Mrs. Lamont, expect to leave for New York immediately after the inauguration. President and Mrs. Cleveland will give President and Mrs. Harrison the customary luncheon inauguration day, will attend the ball inauguration night. Late Monday night or early Tuesday morning they will go over to New York to the Hotel Victoria, where they will all remain for a time.

The Jackson Canning Company has advertised for 10,000 bushels of tomatoes.

The important events that have transpired in this month surpasses all others. It was during February that the first President was elected the Southern Confederacy was formed. Jeff Davis was elected President, George Washington was born, Alice Lincoln was born and minkes first used in France. A great many other things too tedious to mention happened during this month.

HAPPY SOULS.

It was evening, and they sat on a bench in the park. She was a coqueting young girl, and he looked a weary.

"Anger," she said, as the wind playfully stirred the leafy branches overhead, "I have been figuring."

"Yes."

"On how cheaply we can live."

"Yes."

"I can make a whole of brown sugar last as a whole week."

"Can you?"

"Yes, dear."

There was a long silence, broken at last as he gave a sudden start and exclaimed:

"Yes but who's to earn it?"

She promised to take in sewing and support him, and happiness came stealing through the park like a gleam of silver light, and they clasped hands and were very quiet—and it was settled—and they will wed.—Ex.

(COMMUNICATED.)

We have had a three days rain and everything looks as wet as a drowned rat in a millpond. I reckon our oats will come up now. I am glad to see that more oats have been sown in our neighborhood this season than usual. We farmers want to get into this diversified crop business mighty bad. We talk about economy, overvaluing cotton and credit and guano business, this eternal male driving to town after supplies until we have the blues, damps, head and heart-ache. We want to advance backward to the good old days of yore when peace and plenty reigned supreme. Those good old log-rolling times when neighbors were not ashamed to visit each other and go to church in jeans and homespun clothes, and drink water out of a gourd raised at home. The greatest trouble with us is how to get back to the good old times. I will run this Alliance business has waked up a good many of the farmers from a mesmerized spell to realize that this from one hundred to five hundred percent for goods on a credit is the ruin of our country and that they had better let the credit business alone and pay cash as they go. When they once get down to a cash basis will be better off. The farmers will reap the benefit and the merchants too, for they had rather sell for cash any day, and the result will be peace and prosperity all over the land. Z.

Mrs. H. S. Graves and M. Pope, of Clinton, paid us a very pleasant call at the Headlight office on evening this week.

John L. Adams has been taken from the Bibb county jail to his father's home to die. He still keeps up his fast, having eaten nothing since Feb. 16th. It can be long ere the Bank will get the $1200.00 insurance on his life.

At Mr. W. G. Morgan's death there was found in his private coin which was given him by a young lady before he was married—more than 65 years ago. It was made in 1787 and on one side was written in large plain letters, "Mind your business," while the other side bore the inscription, "We are one."

Raines, made very touching and appropriate remarks upon his departure. Gen. Harrison is a member of the Presbyterian church and stands par excellence as a member.

Our town only needs a diversity of small industries to make her compare favorably with other towns of Middle Georgia. But unless there are more inducements held out for men of capital to settle among us we need not expect to secure these. If you have a surplus of real estate put it on the market, at reasonable figures, and not until then will you see our old town boom as she should.

CLINTON LOCALS.

Much needed work was put on the streets of Clinton this week:

No preaching in Clinton next Sabbath but at Pits Chapel instead. Mrs. Gertrude Freeman of Macon was in Clinton last Saturday on business.

Miss Maude Hardeman returned to Athens Monday after a two days visit home.

The well known warehouse of Campbell & Jones, of Macon, has discontinued, and has been leased to Messrs. Johnson & Estes.

Mrs. Smith, wife of the Empire Store's urbane "Judge" Peyton F. Smith, of Macon, is visiting her uncle, Judge Richard Johnson, on Clinton Avenue.

Misses Kate Morgan and Emma Chiles visited Miss Pearl Holmes last Monday. Miss Pearl was at prayer meeting Sunday afternoon looking as sweet as ever.

Mrs. Wm. Morgan was summoned to Charleston, Tenn., last Saturday to the bedside of Miss Hattie, who was severely burned a week or two since. We trust she finds Miss Hattie not so dangerously sick as she is feared.

The little baby, Annie Stocumb, who was left orphaned seven weeks ago and has since been tenderly cared for by her aunt, Mrs. Willie Barron, died in Clinton on Monday and was buried by its mother's side at the Frank's burial ground.

Active preparations are being made to celebrate the 100th anniversary of Washington's Inauguration. New York City on April 20th '39. Gov. Gordon is already engaged in selecting an escort and the occasion promises to be one of great magnificence.

Mr. Clark Grier of Macon was married in Augusta on Feb. 20th to Miss Georgia Murray. Mr. Grier is an old Jones County boy, and many wishes will go out to him for future happiness. The Hazzard personally wishes Mr. and Mrs. Clark Grier a pleasant journey a-down life's path way.

Major Jos. H. Stewart, a Texas ex-Confederate sat last week in the Fifth Avenue Hotel with Col. Jas. B. Kirk, whose prisoner of war he was in 1862. They are working together now for the Confederate Soldiers' Home at Austin, Texas, where the mained survivors of the Lost Cause can find a refuge.

President and Mrs. Cleveland are busy this week packing and preparing to vacate the White House. Their term has been a decided success politically, socially and domestically, and they have made a good record. We say "they" because Mrs. Cleveland has gained almost as much honor as the President.

Calvin McCarthy, son of our faithful cook, returned to Clinton from Nashville, Tenn., on Tuesday, having completed a full course at the Meharry Medical College. Calvin is a well behaved and intelligent boy and will endeavor to ornament the Medical profession. He expects to locate in Macon.

DEATH OF REV. G. E. BONNER

The many friends of this good man will regret to learn that he died on the night of Feb. 22d at his home, No. 329 North Hilliard St. in Atlanta. Mr. Bonner served the Clinton circuit in 1876-77-78 and won the hearts of the people with whom he labored. He was zealous, humble and endowed with a sweet social Christian disposition which made him welcome in every home. His lonely widow has the sympathy of many friends in her great loss. The remains of Mr. Bonner were carried to Harlem for burial. His labors are ended but he goes to sleep his reward and long will his memory and many good words and works remain in the heart of our people.

Never be ashamed to confess your ignorance, for the wisest man upon earth is ignorant of many things, inasmuch that what he knows is mere nothing in comparison with that he does not know. There can not be a great folly in the world to suppose we know everything.—Ex.

FROM LOWESVILLE, BIBB CO.

On Friday evening, the 22nd of Feb., the young people of Lowesville and the neighboring vicinity gathered at the hospitable abode of Mr. W. S. Lowe for the monthly meeting of the "Nickel Club."

The evening was one not soon to be forgotten! After listening to a most entertaining programme, the young gentlemen received partners and enjoyed a "Mardi Gras" show, which was over, all were marched into the spacious dining-hall, where Miss Lowe, a hostess with whom few can compare, had prepared a bountiful supper.

The proceeds of the meeting are to be used for the benefit of a church, which the good people of Lowesville are seeking to build.

The following was the program:

Welcoming Song—Club.

Recitation, "Done with a Hand-sawer Man"—Maggie Small.

Vocal Quartette, "The Lord is My Shepherd"—Messrs. Green and Williams, Misses Humphries and Dialogue, "Sandy MacDonald's Signal"—Gussie Lowe and Maggie Small.

FROM ROUND OAK.

DEAR HEADLIGHT:—On last Saturday the Round Oak Alliance Club met in their hall over the store of J. W. Turk & Co., where they talked over economy, diversified crops, improving labor and no gunno. Now the question is will they practice what they preach, if so, it will be a great big long step toward successful farming. Since our last letter a certain freight train on a certain Saturday not a thousand years ago, brought a ton of actual "sho-nuff" guano to this place, the first of the season. We are sorry it came and couldn't help but say to ourselves, let us prey, (on the vile stuff) On the next morning as we passed along the road the day boy of Jones county's unbleached domestic tugging away at this guano, trying to put it into a wagon. We yelled out, don't you know it is Sunday? Yes, boss, but his is der cow in der ditch, its gwine ter rain. We told them for the sake of suffering humanity, let the cow remain in the ditch; that she might die dead, erect a monument to her memory and let the epitaph be simply, Dead Sarah Tom and I 1899.

Mr. J. W. Turk has returned from a trip through the western part of Jones and Butts and reports good deal of building, clearing and plowing done. But little small grain planted and that little looking badly. Says he returned last Sunday evening, found Round Oak almost completely deserted and that his mind involuntarily drifted thusly:

"I feel like one who treads alone, Some bachelor had deserted."

Whose stomach growls for fish and fowls."

And bacon hams departed.

Messrs. Frank Hunt and Bob Marshall with Miss Hattie Hunt, passed up the road a few days ago en route for Jasper county, to see some fellow and his girl commit matrimony. None of them seemed very communicative, consequently we failed to get names of the parties about to commit the aforsaid act. Murder will out though, and we will get the names yet.

Mr. Henry Hunt has accepted a situation as Salesman under Mr. Ed Hunt at Sunny Side, six miles above Griffin on the Central R.R. Henry is a good fellow and all in this vicinity regret his leaving. Come to see us, Henry, when you can, if only for a short time and we will welcome you back with open arms. George, little son of Mr. Joe Barrow, is visiting the family of Capt.

Smith. George is a bright little fellow and we hope to see him around when we go to the Oak.

Mrs. Sam Harp has been spending several days at her country home and returned to Macon Saturday evening.

Nature crowded the season much last Thursday morning, came out in pure white; about 10 o'clock however she began to shed tears over the red Jones county real estate that soiled her wardrobe. We are inclined to think she will have to put on "some more" wardrobe before real spring sets in. The low days of warm weather not long ago deceived this old critter.

GORDON ITEMS.

We are glad to see Mr. Robert Nelson out on the streets again.

Mr. J. L. Baker and wife went to Macon last week to see Annie Pixley.

Mr. John Hooks engineer on the C. R. R. came down, and spent Sunday to see his best girl.

Prof. Jones, of Iveys station spent last Sunday here, from all appearances he will come again soon.

Miss Marie Branan of Macon after spending a few days with relatives, returned home yesterday accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Jones.

We can brag off our little town, we have one of the best schools, hotels, two carriage shops, and ten stores, of any small town in the State.

Services were held at both churches last Sunday. Rev. Cook of Eatonton delivered a splendid sermon at the Baptist church, also The Presiding Elder at the Methodist.

We regret very much to hear of the death of our friend and schoolmate Miss Fannie Smith formerly of this place who died at Nono Ga, last week. We sympathize very much with the bereaved Mother and Father.
