Georgia. The last Will and Testament of George M. Stovall is as follows. I commend my soul to God and hope I shall go to rest when I depart this life. First of all I desire to be buried in plain decent old fashioned style, in the manner I have directed as to my property I desire my son James Stovall to take possession of everything that I have and use the same as he may wish during the lifetime of his mother (my wife). I desire that he also take his mother and my negro woman Molly to his house and take care of them during their lifetime and at the death of my wife, it is my will that my son James Stovall shall satisfy himself out of my property for taking care of his mother and Molly and divide the balance equally with his brothers and sisters, or their representatives. This is my wish and will this 29 day of January 1847.
