W. Mackay.

In a clause of a last will made by me I left my library to my son Francis H. Mackay with a certain reserve to my beloved wife C. Mackay. I now hereby make that reserve and in lieu of it leave to my wife all my common and religious books to my daughter Catharine and to my son Francis and to John Mackay brother of my son Francis.

profession of my individual books I hereby make that choice of form with which I agree it is according to my intention to purchase them. I have seen them full of power and discretion to receive their judgment in that matter as shall appear to them most advantageous to my own interest that is to say to purchase or lease whichever. I have lately ascertained that this book is such so valuable as I expected and in every respect not slight a portion as it first appeared probable when I first before me I discuss as my building of water for as it might be used in the the position as it is compared for.
