 John Bilbo O. C. C.

W. L. Davis

Savannah Georgia United States,

July 26th. 1854.

I Henry Charles Mackenzie, believing in God, by whose mercy I am at this time in full possession of my mental faculties, hereby will and dispose of all effects, and property, of all and every kind in my possession, or due to me at the time of decease, as follows - to my dear brother Alexander George Mackenzie, in Trust to be disposed of faithfully as herein hereafter named,

First,
 Second,

all my just debts are to be paid.

all Household Furniture, Silver, Books, Clothes, Pictures and every article (except otherwise disposed of) in my Residence. I give to my dear wife Eliza Hastings Mackenzie.

Third

My Gold Watch and chain, and my Diamond Pin, I give to my dear Brother Alexander George Mackenzie.

Fourth.

I give one Hundred Dollars to Miss Charlotte Porter of Haldstead in the County of Essex in England, with my Love, and regret I did not see her as I always hoped and wished to do.

Fifth

I give to John Search Adams my old and kind friend, an Engraving Fox & Grapes. and the Encyclopedia of Domestic Economy.

Sixth

The amount Thirteen Hundred Dollars insurance on my life, and The amount of Cash left after payment of my Debts and one Hundred Dollars to Charlotte Pater, I will to be equally divided between my dear Mother Jane Brown, and my dear wife Eliza Hastings Mackenzie - and should it amount to me Thirteen or more Dollars each, I will

That each share shall be invested in a safe way in Georgia to produce seven per cent, and that the interest only shall be theirs during life, and it shall not be in either of their power to sell, or in any way dispose of their interest arising from it but it shall be received by themselves - or paid only on their own written receipt for the same. Should Jane Brown die first the interest for the whole to be paid to Eliza Hastings Mackenzie for her life, and if Eliza Hastings Mackenzie dies first the interest on the whole to be paid to Jane Brown for her life - the survivors of the two to have the power of disposing of one third of the amount by Will, and the remaining two thirds to be disposed of according to the Will of Alexander George Mackenzie.
