In the case of me, then, I, John J. T. Agriola, of the county of Dale and State of Georgia, being of sound mind and realizing the uncertainty of life and the desirability of death, and being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and desiring to designate how my worldly possessions shall be divided after my death, do make, publish, and declare this my last will and testament.

Item 1st. After my death it is my desire that my body be given to my wife, Caroline Bartel, and I bequeath my soul to God who gave it.

Item 2nd. In the event that I die during the life of my beloved wife, Julia Agriola, it is in my desire that my disburse of what personal effects I may possess, other than money, among my children as she may see fit.

Item 3rd. The money arising from the sale of my property on Sharon street, Marietta, Georgia, which we now have on hand, or any other land or property that may be purchased with said money, I desire to be disposed of as follows: If my wife, Julia Agriola, should survive me, I desire that my executor will allow my said wife in advance from time to time such amounts to any of my children as she thinks proper, so as not to disfigure herself, and at her death whatever amount of money or property remains undisposed of to be divided share and share alike among my children.

Item 4th. In the event that my wife should die before I do, I will that at my death all the property that I leave be divided, share and share alike, among my children. Should my child or child die before my estate is finally divided, then the children of said child, are in stand in the place of their deceased parent and receive the share of a child.

Item 5th. In the provisions that I have made in this will for my children, it is my will that any money that maybe furnished by my wife for the benefit of my daughter, Julia White, shall be given her personally, her husband, A. E. White is to have nothing out of my estate, and my desire that in case after my death and the death of my wife, that shall be going to her shall go to her in person for her sole and separate benefit, free from tax duties, liabilities, management and interference of her husband, A. E. White. In the event that my daughter Julia should be dead when my estate should be divided, in that event it is in my desire that the share that would be going to my daughter Julia be used by my executors for my said daughter's children.

Item 6th. I nominate and appoint my son John Agriola of Tadeus, Alabama, and my son in law V. A. B. Schilling of Marietta, Georgia, as my executors.

Witness, written, and published at the last will and testament of John J. T. Agriola in our presence we signing it as executors, he signing in our presence, and we in the presence of each other, this 6th day of June, 1901.
