Will of Susan Stone Clarke

I Susan Stone Clarke, wife of Abraham F. Clarke, lately residing in New York in the State of New York do hereby make this my last will and testament, disposing all which by me may come heretofore made.

I testify

I do give, bequeath and devise to my children hereinafter appointed of all my estate both real and personal of which I am seized and all my property of whatsoever disposition and whatsoever interest to be held by my said executor or the survivor of them for the following uses and purposes, to-wit: I give the income thereof to my husband Abraham F. Clarke for his life and during the life of my said husband and after his death

[illegible]

Should my two dear children & the survivors of them together with my dear husband & children take my last farewell. I request I should be buried in the Burial place of the Lord in the Burial place of them so far over the amount of their property in any other manner that is known specified I desire that my dear husband & the survivors of them receive and follow such request and pay over the amount of said property for such time as such be desired. And to such persons as shall be designated in such request.
