[illegible] Term 1844

[illegible] Esqrs Judges

[illegible] of Liverpool Bankrupt and Certificate has been duly [illegible] by the Commissioners and [illegible] by the Lord Chancellor
[illegible] Last Term which was the Term in which the [illegible] was entered to set aside a Rule that [illegible] Requiring to produce and bring to the [illegible] of the Court it was conceded that the [illegible] had been Variant in this regard, as that [illegible] Cases applications were sustained after [illegible] first term and in others, that if the exceptions
[illegible] not stated and taken at the first term they [illegible] not afterwards be heard. (as it is considered
[illegible] be of the first consequence to ascertain that a [illegible] in this regard should be established) and [illegible] the appearance term is the most reasonable
[illegible] at which exceptions of this kind are to be [illegible] It is adjudged and determined that no
[illegible] objection to Writ will be sustained if the party
[illegible] living to avail himself of any defect which [illegible] never on the face of the Process shall omit
[illegible] this the Case at the appearance term.
[illegible] exception taken in this particular Case than [illegible] was Conceded by the Court Rule let the [illegible] proceed.—

R. v. Flinn the Court was asked for Bail Counsel moved to file affidavit Affidavit to the Court & the effect that at the time of the Decision of the Queen v Williams the Law was Known and it was urged on the ground of the Statute excluding Defendants alleging a Bond fide mistake of fact. The Court Counsel objected saying the Case was not analogous and that at most the admissions of Party to be evidence of the Law was Case.

The Court said that the Practice was not to compel the proof of Document but that prima facie if the state was sufficient evidence of it. it is not within the meaning of the Statute to admit a Party
