State of Georgia
Early County } Last will of Sarah J. Jones of said County of Early } I, Sarah J. Jones, widow, resident of Early County, being of sound mind & memory, do hereby certify to the propriety of making a proper disposition of my estate, which with a kind Providence I hope while in the enjoyment of all my reasoning faculties do make and publish this will as a final disposition of my estate, hereby revoking all wills heretofore by me made.
I am now satisfied that my beloved children will see me properly buried & I make no request concerning this matter.
I am 3) I will and bequeath all of my property at my death to my Daughters Anna Emma and Rebecca Catherine Boniss to be enjoyed by them during their married state and should either of them above named Daughters marry then this property shall remain settled in the marriage to be enjoyed, controlled and disposed of by her as her sole separate estate in fee simple. Should they both marry then & in that event they may make such disposition of this property as they please and divide the same as they may desire. Should my beloved Daughters marry all agree, to sell the property or convey one of them marry before selling them the other or any married Daughter is hereby authorized to sell & enjoy the proceeds of such sale under the limitations herein before provided.
