Ca Sa from Justices Court

In Gwinnett Inferior Court June Term 1828 — In these cases a motion was made by Counsel for the Plaintiff to make the Constable Balam J Bridges who arrested the defendant on the 29th day of May last within twenty days of the sitting of this Court liable as Special Bail for not taking a Bond in pursuance & agreeable to an act entitled "an act for the relief of honest debtors" and the Court held & ordered that the said Constable be taken held & considered as special bail & it was further ordered that Judgment be entered up against the said defendant & against the said Constable for the amount of principal interest & cost of said Ca Sas although the said defendant was in Court but not delivered up & came voluntarily — Whereupon the said defendant & Balaam J Bridges Constable by their attorney Elisha H Chester excepts to the opinion & orders aforesaid of said Court & moves that the same be reversed as contrary to law because the said Constable as Constable is not liable to any rule or process from this Court and because no bond being given for the appearance of said defendant agreeably to said act all this Court the Court can have no cognizance of the matter and because the Ca Sas would not be returned to the present term but to the next term of the same & also because the said Ca Sa is illegal the same being issued from a Justices Court & made returnable to the Inferior Court instead of the Court from which it issued which exceptions being tendered to the Court are hereby overruled — It is admitted that the Ca Sas were returned to this Court and no notice was taken of the date of the arrest until the case had been argued but were urged before any decision was made by the Court which exceptions were overruled.
