Ordinary

Georgia

Furness County

Know all men that I, James T. Furness, of the County of Furness, State of Georgia, do hereby certify that I do not know the true last will and testament of the within named James T. Furness, and as far as me or others of us know or believe the same in accordance with the laws of this State to be his, we do hereby certify that we have not subscribed or given cause the said will of August 1833.

James T. Furness
 Recorded August 15 1833
 James T. Furness

Now the name of said James T. Furness of the County of Furness and State of Georgia, being of advanced age, and in feeble health, but of sound and disposing mind and memory, and being desirous of settling my worldly affairs and disposing of the property with which I stand possessed, has helped me, while I have strength, to make and publish this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all wills by me at any time heretofore made.

Item 1st I bequeath my soul to God, who gave and desire my body buried by the side of my Father and Mother, if I should die in a reasonable distance of them. In view of the fact that I have no near relatives now living, except my Daughter, David S. Murren, who by his former friends and he himself has been acknowledged his brother to possess and manage the same, and willing that he should enjoy the benefit of my years of toil and labor, I give and bequeath to my friend David Murren, my land for David Murren (Colored), who has lived and waited on me with fidelity in my declining years. And Warren Henry Murren (Colored), the last of land on which I now live. Murren as to the 34 (thirty four) acres of land of said County, together with all the household & kitchen furniture my farming implements and all my stock.

Item 2nd I will and direct that said Murren shall have in the house now occupied by me as a dwelling, and that they shall not in any event bring any one else to live in the house with them, that I further direct that they Murren Murren shall not have any right to find or sell the place, but that they their heirs shall enjoy the proceeds, income and increase of said property, share and share alike.

I will and direct that my Executor hereinafter appointed, if I should be possessed of my former in Mississippi containing the Murren and Murren acres of land lying and being in the County of Jackson Mississippi, it being the place I purchased of David W. Spauld, to sell said farm or lands, to receive the money therefor, and I direct that my said Executor purchase with the money hereof from the State of these lands, part of the
