Owing to the very feeble and delicate state of my health at present, and believing that unless a very great change should take place for the better, I am fully satisfied that Death must be the inevitable result: looking forward to which event, I make this my last Will and Testament as follows.

I request my particular Friend J. W. Rightman to act as my Executor, and to ~~dispose of~~ all my effects of every nature whatever at private sale, (without applying to the Court of Ordinary for leave to sell) in the best manner he can, and at his discretion, and apply the proceeds to the satisfaction of all my debts as far as possible, satisfying himself legally for his trouble

In witness whereof, I, John Miller have hereunto set my hand and affixed my Seal this Twenty Fifth day of March Eighteen Hundred and Forty Six:
