State of Georgia, Richmond County,

This is the last Will and Testament of the said deceased, Whereas my dear Children, my wife and by the providence of our Merciful Creator, blessed with health of subsistence in this transitory state, I do therefore give bequest to Thomas Cumming, John C. Henthridge, Edgar D. Henthridge of them the Executors and Administrators of such survivors, all of real and personal Estate, that I may be paid off for the benefit of my present Wife Margaret and the Children living born by her, either by retaining the same or disposing thereof in any part thereof, and after settling a solemn obligation upon my Wife not to expend any part of my property, but for the benefit of myself and Children by me, I have no objection to her with any part or even the whole of the property of my property in any situation to increase her income, as may be thought advisable to an annual, or any other investigation my Executor, the enclosed Letter, will contain the full and entire, and demanding the above of my estate. When I be dead, my friends instead of having my last property
