

I give devise and bequeath my library to my beloved Brother, John W.

Having heretofore as far as my ability extended provided for my sisters, and having advanced my step daughter Caroline and Buckle, afterwards Kingold & now Mattlers at the time of her first marriage, an equal share of my own and her mother's estate, I do now give devise and bequeath the residue of my Estate, Real and Personal Lands Tenements and Hereditaments Goods and Chattels and all and every other species of property whatsoever the same may be or wherever lying which I now have or at my death, I may be possessed of or entitled to including Lands acquired if any after the date of this Will To my sons William C. and John P. Wilde, to be equally divided between them share and share alike to them and each of them, and their heirs in fee simple forever.

I hereby nominate and appoint my Brother John W. Wilde Esq. and my said sons, William C. Wilde and John P. Wilde as soon as they respectively shall attain the age of Twenty One Years. Executors of this my last Will and Testament, Hereby Relieving my said Brother from all sums and dues of money heretofore paid by me as surety or indorsed for him or forance & Wilde & from all Notes, Bonds or Mortgages given in account thereof.

In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this first day of January, in the Year of our Lord Eighteen Hundred and Forty Two.

R. W. Wilde
