I, Elbert W. Neel do give to my son, John Neel after my death, all the property I may own (except one cow and calf, known as the baby cow, which I give to my wife Jane Neel) all other property which I may die possessed of, both real and personal, I give to my son John Neel, all of which property I now put in his possession. He is to help me support myself and family now living with me which is understood as the consideration for this conveyance of property.

This 28th day April 1883.

Elbert W. Neel (L.S.)
