Note to the Reader.

THE sixth volume of the Registers of Lichfield diocese is now completed, and, as may be seen, is confined entirely to the long register of Conover.

Readers of this volume may be interested in a few facts connected with the history of parish registers in England.

The first order for keeping parish registers was issued by Thomas Cromwell, under Henry VIII, on 29th September, 1538, as is noted on the flyleaf of the first volume of those of Conover (vide p. 198). Cromwell's injunctions were repeated in 1552 and 1558, and in this latter year were generally obeyed. Cardinal Pole, in 1555, required the names of sponsors to be given in the register of baptisms, but this order was only occasionally complied with. The register of Frodesley, which begins in 1547, does not contain a single instance of the addition during the sixteenth century, and Conover has only one or two in the seventeenth (v. p. 60). Selattyn obeyed the injunction, as did a few other Shropshire parishes.

On 25th October, 1597, copies on parchment were ordered to be made from the original paper-books, and the copies, known as "Bishops' Transcripts," to be sent to the bishops. These regulations were embodied in the 70th canon in 1603. The order was acted on at Conover apparently in 1613 (v. p. 198).

The Commonwealth introduced several changes with regard to registers. In 1644 births as well as baptisms were ordered to be entered, and in 1653 a "parish register" (or "registrar" as we should call him) was to be appointed to keep the registers. Conover seems to have quietly disregarded both these injunctions, as there is no trace in the registers of either. From 1656 to 1670 the entries are made by various hands, several decidedly illiterate, which seems to show that the vicar was non-resident (v. p. 110). In 1654 marriages were ordered to take place before a magistrate, and the banns not necessarily given out in church, but except on p. 111 there is no trace of this at Condover, unless it may account for the very few marriage entries at that period.

In 1667 an Act was passed in the interest of the woollen trade, ordering all bodies to be buried in woollen under a penalty of 50s., and in 1678 an affidavit that such had been the case was ordered to be given within seven days of a burial.

Between 1694 and 1698 a duty was imposed on the registration of births, marriages, and burials, and again between 1783 and 1794 (v. p. 301). In connection with this, it is well to note that the word "pauper" added to an entry simply means exemption from this tax.

In 1754 a new regulation came in with regard to marriage registers, which were ordered to be kept in a separate book, and more fully entered than had formerly been the case (v. p. 350).

In 1751 the civil year, which had been dated from the 25th of March, was ordered to be calculated from the 1st of January, the beginning of the historical year. Before 1751 it is not unusual to find two dates given for the period between January 1 and March 25, as according to the one reckoning they were the last three months of the year, and according to the other the first three. This double date is not often given in the Condover Registers, but it occurs on p. 228, in 1743, after which date the year is given by Mr. Podmore as beginning on January 1st.

New regulations as to the form of keeping registers came in force in 1813, and hence 1812 has been chosen as the conclusion of the volumes of printed registers issued by the Shropshire Parish Register Society. Civil registration dates from 1837, so before that date parish registers supply many items of information not to be found elsewhere.

The cost of printing this volume with its index has amounted to about £75, half of which has been borne by the Society, the other half being the generous gift of the Rev. Prebendary Auden, the present vicar of Condover.

Since the register was issued in February, 1904, the rural deanery of Condover has been transferred from the Diocese of Lichfield to that of Hereford, a change which was to be deprecated on historical grounds, as severing a link that had existed for more than 1,000 years.

The Register of Condover is one of considerable interest, as the parish is of wide extent, and was the home of several prosperous families. The first book begins in 1570, when Thomas Fletcher had just been appointed vicar. The extant book is a copy on parchment, made at the beginning of the seventeenth century from the original paper-book. The copyist seems to have been anxious to save himself trouble as much as possible, and the early entries are painfully bald. It is not improbable that the first book was irregularly kept by John Hamblett, the vicar in 1550, and the transcriber thought it sufficient to begin with the entries made by Thomas Fletcher, who held the living from 1569 till 1612. The copy was made during the incumbency of Timothy Price (or Preeze), his successor, who was at Condovery from 1613 to 1615. The paper-book has now, like those of almost every parish, vanished, and its loss is to be regretted, as in the rare cases in which both the paper and the parchment copy are extant the copy is shown to be occasionally inaccurate.

The parish of Condovery also possesses a very perfect series of Churchwardens' accounts, beginning in 1577 and almost continuous to the present day, which contain many items of interest relating to the fabric of the church and the management of parochial affairs. The nave of the present church was rebuilt in 1661 at an estimated cost of £2,750, a very large sum at that date. The estimate was given by John Dallowe, Thomas Wright, and Francis Reynolds, of whom Thomas Wright seems to have been responsible for the stonework of the building, and Francis Reynolds for the woodwork.

In 1635 the register mentions (p. 87) the visitation of Archbishop Laud, as if it had taken place at Condovery, and in 1685 is the note of a visitation of Archbishop Sancroft in the place of Thomas Wood, the suspended Bishop of Lichfield. In 1626 the visitation was held at Shrewsbury by Dr. Tisdale, the Chancellor of Bishop Morton, and in 1701 Bishop John Hough also held his at Salop.

Although registers are somewhat dry reading, there is an element of interest in them all, and a debt of gratitude is due to those, whether societies or individuals, who are endeavouring to place such documents beyond the risk of loss through decay or neglect.

INDEX.

The Register of Condover.

Condovery Registers.

CONDOVER is a village and wide parish lying south of Shrewsbury. It formerly took in Bayston Hill, where it joined the Shrewsbury parish of St. Julian, and Annscroft and Great Lyth, where it met that of St. Chad, and the township of Dorrington, which was formed into a separate parish in 1845. The parish still extends from the Old Paper Mill near Longnor to the base of the Sharpstones Hill, and from the outskirts of Exford's Green almost to Cantlop. It takes in the whole of the manor of Condovery (which includes Norton, Bomere, Allfield, Wheathall, Ryton, Gonsall, Chatford and Dorrington); Little Lyth and Westley in the manor of Pulverbatch; Bayston (which as part of the ancient possessions of the See of Hereford, is accounted a member of the manor of Bishop's Castle), and Boreton, which was an independent manor in mediæval times. The early parish was of still wider extent. A payment for two "home closes" at Stapleton seems to show that there was once a parochial connection between that village and Condovery, as there may have been also with Smethcote. Leebotwood and Longnor were both part of the early parish, and Longnor was regarded as a chapelry of Condovery, with right of burial at the mother Church till comparatively modern times. Frodesley also retained the right of burial at Condovery till 1782, and the south transept of Condovery Church was known as the Frodesley aisle.

The manor of Condovery belonged in Saxon times to the King, and was the head of the Hundred. Earl Roger de Montgomery became its possessor after the Norman Conquest, and held half the manor in demesne. In 1086, there were 4 ox-teams employed on seven hides of demesne land, and twelve villeins and a priest employed seven teams on the remaining six hides of the thirteen that had paid Danegeld. Earl Roger had three important tenants holding 6 hides of his manor. Roger Venator, lord of Pulverbatch, held one hide, Osbern (possibly the then baron of Richard's Castle) one, and Elward (perhaps the contemporary tenant of half Stapleton) 4 hides. The Earl gave the tithes of Condovery to his new Abbey of Shrewsbury and the monks acquired the manor of Boreton, which had belonged to the Saxon Church of St. Peter at Shrewsbury. The glebe of Condovery lay within the parish of Berrington, probably not far from Boreton. The Church in early days had 3 portioners, who made way in time for a rector and a vicar, till in 1324, the Abbey appropriated the rectorial income and left the vicar to work singlehanded on the lesser stipend.

The manor of Condovery passed into the hands of the King, probably by the rebellion and forfeiture of Earl Robert de Belesme, and Henry I. visited the place more than once. It continued a manor of Royal demesne for a century, till Henry III. in 1226 granted it to his half-sister, Joan, the wife of Llewellyn of Wales. During the next 50 years it passed through various hands till 1284, when John de Hastings, then lord of Condovery, exchanged the manor, and that of Wolverhampton, with Bishop Burnel for the manor of Wooton, near Northampton. There was then a "capital messuage" at Condovery, but apparently not of very great size. In 1546, Thomas Whitefoote, the "lord's fermer," held the site of the manor farm, or "capital messuage of old time, which adjoyneth to the west syde of the Churchyarde theare and in the south syde of the twoo Chauntery howsys theare." The manor continued with the Burnels and their heirs till the time of Henry VII., when on the attainder of Francis, Lord Lovel, it passed to the King. In 1544 it was granted to Sir Henry Knyvett, who sold it to Robert Longe, merchant, of London, whose daughter and co-heiress, Mary, took it to her husband, Henry Vyner. Henry Vyner lived at Condovery and bought land there, including the property of the dissolved Abbey of Shrewsbury in Condovery and Boreton, and the tithes and advowson of the Church, and also land at Norton, which Thomas Acton of Longnor, in 1514, had left to provide endowment for a priest to pray for his soul. Henry's son, a second Henry Vyner, sold the estate his father had so carefully built up, and a portion was bought by Thomas Owen, Judge of the Common Pleas, who already possessed an interest in the parish by virtue of land on Berrywood, called Houghton fields, which had been left him by his grandmother, the widow of Thomas Oteley and Thomas Berington, and heiress of the family of Walker of Condovery, who had owned the fulling mill of the village. Judge Owen also became the lessee of Norton, and the purchaser of the advowson of Condovery. In 1586, he began the stately Hall, and it was finished before his death in 1598, the builder being Walter Hancock, who did a good deal of work in the county. The judge does not seem to have lived in his new mansion, but to have built it as a home for his son, Roger. Sir Roger died in 1617, as is shown by a long entry in the Register. He was succeeded by his brother, Sir William, and the estate passed from father to son till the middle of the 18th century, when the male line of the elder branch of the Owens failed, and it passed by heiresses to the Smythes of North Nibley, co. Gloucester, and then, again in the female line, to the Cholmondeley family, from whom it passed by purchase to E. B. Fielden, Esq., the present possessor. The Owens by degrees bought up the lesser estates around them till they became the chief land-owners in the parish, and possessors of almost the whole village. From early mediæval times Condovery included a number of well-to-do inhabitants, who were tenants in "free socage," that is, they were free from any personal service to the lord of the manor. A trace of this is shewn by the fact that the parish affairs were managed by the vicar and churchwardens and the "eight men," who were apparently chosen from among the chief inhabitants of the parish. Among the old families of Condober were the Dagers, who held land of "old enfeoffment" in 1363, the Harries' of Wheathall and Condober, the Hodges' and Hicks' of Ryton, the Balls of Chatford, the Woods of Boreton, the Sandfords of Bayston, the Garbetts and Gosnells of Condober.

There was also a connection with the Heynes' of Netley, the Scrivens of Frodesley, and the Hunts and Corbetts of Longnor, and members of each of these families were buried in the Church.

The site of the "capital messuage" of 1284, seems from the Court rolls to have been known as the "manor place" and to have been occupied by the family of Whitefoot. Whether it was the site of the present Hall, or of the slightly earlier house near it, is now impossible to say. The village in old days was nearer the brook than at present and the manor mill stood near the west-end of the Church, where the road then crossed the brook by a ford. The court rolls speak of at least three mills at Condober; the "walk-mill" (for cloth), the "grist-mill," and the "skin mills," and it is probable from the registers that the population in the 16th and 17th centuries was fully as large as in the present day. The registers mention houses in several places where none now exist, as Radmore(near the modern Condober Grove), and Cosibrooke, and other places difficult to identify.

The possession of the manor brought with it only nominal control over the land-owners of the parish, but the lord of the manor had the ownership of its waste land, and subject to certain rights of the villagers to pasture and dead-wood, he could use it for himself. In the 17th century this power was exercised, and Berrywood, formerly a bosc of the Long Forest, was enclosed and let as farm land; as apparently was also by degrees all the once common land of the neighbourhood.

In the 18th century, the village was by degrees moved farther from the Hall, and the roads altered to their present lines. Anciently the Church had but little churchyard on the north side or at the west end, as the roads passed almost under its walls. The ancient vicarage house stood to the north-east of the Church. Tradition describes it as a long, thatched building. George Lluellyn, the vicar from 1705 to 1739, was an ardent Jacobite, and an enthusiastic musician and gardener, and is said to have often entertained influential guests in his "thatched vicarage." The site was exchanged for that of the present vicarage in 1788, and the old house which stood there was replaced in 1844 by the present one.

The Court Rolls of the manor are extant from 1376 to the 17th century, and contain many interesting details of the succession of the various properties, and there are many deeds in existence of the land that now forms the Condovery estate. The parish books also form a nearly complete series from 1577 to modern times.

There has been a church dedicated to St. Andrew at Condovery since before the Conquest. The oldest part of the present building dates from the early 12th century. The chancel is a re-building in 1868 of an original Early English one, and the body of the church is a fine specimen of 17th century work, replacing the nave and north aisle which fell in November, 1660. The tower was added a few years later, before 1685. The whole building was carefully restored in 1878. The advowson was held by the Abbey of Shrewsbury till the Dissolution of the Monasteries when it was purchased by the then lord of the manor, and it has remained with the owners of Condovery Hall ever since.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, gives the following brief account of the Condovery Registers:—"Condovery V. Bap., Bur., Mar., 1578—1812."

Vol. I. consists of 99 leaves of parchment 16½ inches by 8. It has been rebound and is in excellent condition. It contains some notices relating to the parish as well as register entries.

Vol. II., also of parchment, is in its original calf binding. It consists of 96 leaves, 16½ by 7 inches, 16 leaves of which are blank.

The marriage registers from 1753 to 1812 are in Vols. III. and IV., on the ordinary printed paper forms.

The registers contain entries of many families whose pedigrees are given in the Heralds' Visitation of 1623, as Gabbett, Kendrick, Vyner, Hunt, Crompton, Fletcher, Sandford, Scriven, Corbett and Owen, and of several other families of good standing.

The families of Owen, Scriven and Corbett are generally styled Esquire. Others who are given this title are George Norton, 1653, John Jenkins, 1760, Edward Atkis, Alderman of Shrewsbury, 1780, Edward Burton, 1789, Corbet Howard (of Ryton Grove), 1807, Thomas Parr (of Lythwood), 1808, Richard Edensor Heathcote, 1810.

Several entries occur of the Sandford family of the Isle. They owned Bayston, and several members lived there. Richard Sandford, 1637, married Frances, daughter of Sir William Owen. One of Judge Owen's daughters, Sara, was married at Condover, 1604, to John Newton of Heightley, near Chirbury. Another was wife of Edward Kynaston of Hordley, whose daughter, Ursula, was baptized in 1609, and another was Elizabeth, wife of Henry Smith, whose son, Chamberlaine, seems to have been baptized in 1621. Jane, wife of Bonham Norton, who caused a monument to her father and brother, with her husband and herself, to be placed in Condover Church, is entered in the register, June 19, 1640, simply as "Jane Norton." Lady Anne Haughton, 1578, and Madam Mary Edwards, 1737, are treated with apparently more respect.

Lord Clive, whose daughters, Margaretta and Elizabeth, were baptized in 1763 and 1764, was member for Shrewsbury in 1761 and apparently became tenant of Condover Hall. He went out to India for the last time at the close of 1764.

John, Lord Lisburne, 1696 (created so in 1695) was brother of Jane Vaughan, first wife of Roger Owen, whose second wife, Catherine Booth, placed the monument by Roubiliac to the memory of her husband and their only child, Catherine.

Among those entitled Mr. or Mrs., or gentleman, are members of the family of Daker of Condover and Wheathall, Atkis of Little Ryton and Longnor, Hodges of Little Ryton, Easthope of Great Ryton, Heynes of Dorrington and Netley, Gittoes of Norton, Thornes of Wheathall.

In the 16th century occur Mrs. Joyce More, 1579, a daughter of Thomas Scriven of Frodesley; Mr. John Blunt, 1581; Mrs. Margaret Blunt of Netley widow, 1590; Mrs. Elynor Leighton, 1582. A little later, we find Mr. George Peers of Shrewsbury, 1602; Mr. Richard Higgons of Little Lyth, 1603; Mr. Richard Ireland of Lithwood, 1604; Robert Hennage, gent., 1620; Mr. Nicols of Shrewsbury, 1631; Lingen Top, gentleman, of Chatford, 1633 (Sheriff of Shropshire, 1679); Samuel Spicer, gent., 1637; Thomas Studley, gent., of Salop, 1648; Thomas Matthews, gent., 1650; Mr. Isaac Giles, 1674; Mr. Vincent Edwards, 1680; Mr. Robert Betton of Salop, 1687; John Booth, gent., 1690; Mrs. Ales Booth, 1726; Edward Brooks, gent., 1694; Mrs. Mary Brooks, 1724; Mr. Benjamin Stubs and Mrs. Dorothy Hollier, 1695; Mrs. Sarah Gough, 1698.

In the 18th century come Mr. Morris Floyd, 1726; Mr. Richard Gittins, 1729; Mr. Simon Edwards, 1734; Mr. Richard Harris, 1746; Mrs. Elizabeth Mantle, 1760; Thomas Gosnell of Salop, gent., 1753; Mr. Thomas Kilvert, 1753—1782; Mr. James Thomas of Chatford, 1753—1770; Humphrey Johnson, gent., of Bayston, 1754; Mr. Richard Flint, 1759; Mr. John Davies and Mrs. Anne Bowen, 1773; Mr. Thomas Weeks of Boreton, 1774; Mr. John Wilde of Ryton Parva, 1770; Mr. Wm. Teece of Allfield, 1766; Mr. John Rogers, 1768; Mr. John Wall of Wheathall, 1765—1772; Mr. William Bollen of Pulley, 1774; Mr. De la Vanade, a Frenchman, 1775; Mr. Richard Crompton and Mrs. Susanna Margaretta Newcomb, 1775; Mr. Elias Evans of Berrywood, 1777; Mr. John Bowen and Mrs. Elizabeth Wall, 1779; Mr. John Bayley of Lyth Parva, 1780; Mr. Richard Wood of Chatford, 1780; Mr. John Williams of Bomere, 1780; Mr. William Rubathan of Frodesley Hall, 1781; Mrs. Isabella Alexander from Ryton Parva, 1781; Mr. Samuel Collings from Chatford, 1781; Mrs. Anne Deykin of Westley, 1782; Mr. Thomas Harrison of Longnor Forge, 1783; Mr. Henry Peele, 1783; Mr. James Holt, 1785; Mr. Thomas Jones, Chatford, 1812;

The 19th century entries very rarely give any title or clue to social position, except in the marriage register. In 1778, the Rev. Edward Powys of St. Mary's, Shrewsbury, married Mrs. Mary Hodges, and the following year, Mr. James Compson of Cleobury Mortimer, Attorney-at-law, married Mrs. Martha Hodges. In 1772, the Rev. John Edwards of Ludlow married Molly Harrison.

Several of the Rectors of Frodesley were buried at Condovery. One, in 1657, is simply described as "Minister of God's word." Other clergy whose names occur in the registers are the Rev. Richard Cross, 1740, George Hodges, Rector of Wolstaston and of Wentnor, buried in 1780, and the Rev. William Crosse Curtis, whose children were baptized at Condovery between 1786 and 1792.

The present transcript was made by Miss Beatrice Hughes and collated with the original by Miss Auden, who has also seen the proof sheets through the press. It is here printed by permission of the Rev. T. Auden, the present Vicar, who has also borne half the expense.

Condover Terrier, 1701.

A terrier of the Lands & Tythes belonging to the Vicaridge of Condover in the County of Salop, given in at the Visitation of the Rt. Reverend father in God John Ld. Bp. of Leichf: & Cov: held at Salop, Oct. 21, 1701.

The Glebe of this Vicaridge is about three strikes sowing of barley, a small orchard & gardens. The buildings upon it are about four Bays besides a small barne & stable.

The Tythes consist principally of Wool & Lamb, with all other Vicaridge Tythes & Home-closes w^{ch} pay the product of them. One Township, viz: Dorrington, pays Tyth Hay, one Township, viz: Lythwood, said to belong to a forrest, pays nothing but offerings, all the rest of the Parish, except this Lythwood, pay Mortuaries according to the statute. Mortuaries also are payd from the Parish of Frogley & Stapleton; and from this last there is payd for two home-closes, for the one now in the possession of one Tho: Reynolds one shilling: And for the other, now in the Possession of one John Olivers twenty pence. The Township of Longnor has a private Chappel. It payes the greater Tyths to the Impropiator but payes no Vicaridge Tyths to the Vicar; neither do communicate at their Parish church on any of the great festivals, nor at any other Time, for what reason, I know not.

WM. THOMAS, Asst. Curate.

THOS. GWILLIAM, JOHN BOOTHBY, Ch. Wardens.

The Reverend Rich. Scott, Master of Arts, of Brase-nose College, Oxford, Chaplain in Ordinary to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, was instituted to the Vicarage of Condover the 17th day of July, 1807, on the Presentation of Edward William Smythe Pemberton, of Longnor in the County of Salop, Esquire.

MEMORANDUM that on Sept. 29, Ano. Domi. 1769, Part of the Vicarage Garden was by the Consent of Rev. Roger Barnston, Vicar of this Church, taken into Possession by Nicholas Smyth, Esqr., in Order to enlarge his own, for w'ch after the Rate of One Pound, & ten Shillings pr. Ann: I received on Feb. the 22nd, 1773, four Pound and ten Shillings. Also at the same time two Guineas for Easter Dues.

[This Memorandum and Terrier are in the writing of the Rev. Richard Podmore.]

A Terrier of the Glebe Land & Tythes belonging to the Vicar'ge of Condover.

Imprimis.—The Glebe of this Vicarige is about eight Strike sowing of Rye.

The Buildings upon it are about four Bays besides a small Barn or Stable; two small Gardens.

The Tythes consist principally of Wool & Lamb with all other Vicarial Tythes & Home-Closes which pay the Annual Product of them. One Township called Dorrington pays Tythe Hay. One Township called Lythwood, formerly said to belong to a Forrest, pays nothing but Easter Offerings.

All the Parish (except this Lythwood) pay Mortuaries according to the Statute.

Mortuaries are also paid from the Parishes of Frodsley and Stapleton.

And from this last there is payd for two Home-Closes: from the One now in Possession of Widdow Allen, One Shilling by the Year; from the other now in Possession of Widdw. Olivers, One Shilling & eight Pence by the Year.

The Township of Longnor has a private Chappel. It pays the great Tythes to the Impropriatrix but pays no Vicarial Tythes to the Vicar. Neether do they communicate at their Parish-Church on any of the great Festivals, nor at any other Time. For what Reason we know not.

N.B.—A Copy of the above was delivered into Court September the 11th, 1745, by

THOS. EASTHOPE, the Elder,

JAMES HARTSHORN, the Younger,

Chur. Ward'ns.

Upon failure of Issue Male in the Family of the Owens, Patrons of this Vicarige there fell to the Vicar an Annuity 69*l.*, payable out of the Estate of Berrington, Esqr., but the Land Tax & Bread Weekly to the Poor deducted from it reduces it to 60*l.* pr. annum.

[Written, apparently, by the Rev. Osborne Wight, but afterwards crossed out.]

This is not true, as there is no Bread paid by the Vicar, but Mr. Barnston freely gave £2 10*s.* annually, & the statem't of the Land Tax is wrong also.

OSBORNE WIGHT, Vicar.
