Preface.

The thanks of the Society are due to the Rev. E. R. Dowdeswell, of Pull Court, who has not only supplied an interesting notice of the Registers, originally printed in his Parish Almanack, which, with some modification, forms the Introduction to this volume, but has also made a liberal contribution to the expenses of printing, thereby releasing the funds of the Society for other work ; also to Mr. Rusling, who has made the transcript for the printer, and the indexes, and looked through the proofs with unwearied patience and care.

It will be noticed that the volumes of the Register are separately indexed. This is due to the fact that indexes were made some years ago, and it would have meant a large amount of unprofitable labour to make new ones. To adapt them must have given Mr. Rusling no little labour.

R. A. WILSON.

WITLEY RECTORY.

Introduction.

BUSHLEY lies to the west of the Severn about two miles from Tewkesbury. It is in the lower division of Pershore Hundred and in the Deanery of Upton. The population is about 260.¹

The parish is made up of three manors, two of which, together with the Church, belonged to Tewkesbury Abbey. At the dissolution the Church became a donative and is now a perpetual curacy, the patronage has for many generations been in the Dowdeswell family.

THE CHURCH of St. Peter was rebuilt between the years 1843 and 1857, by members of the said family, from designs by Mr. Blore and Sir Gilbert Scott. Some of the monuments date back to the sixteenth century.²

THE REGISTERS are exceptional. They are among the 38 in this diocese which begin in 1538, the year of Thomas Cromwell's injunction. Very few begin earlier. Rous Lench begins in 1513, and Chesterton in 1529. These must have been the work of individual curates on their own initiative.

When the parchment copy was made in 1599, according to the Injunction of 39 Eliz. (1597), the original paper register was not destroyed, but remains in excellent preservation for the years 1538 to 1576. There is, we believe, only one other parish in the diocese which has both copies for so long a period, namely, Offenham, and there the paper copy is said to be in poor condition. South Littleton has the paper register but not the parchment copy. Great Witley has a paper register from 1553 to 1630, but the parchment copy overlaps only the first three years. The paper and the parchment registers are not exactly identical and the differences are noted in the text of this volume.

Some of the books in which the Parish³ Clerk put down the items to be entered in the register have also survived, and these give additional particulars which have been duly noted.

The Registers are contained in three volumes.

Vol. I. contains Baptisms and Marriages from 1538 to 1695, and Burials from 1538 to 1680.³

It is written on 38 leaves of the original paper, and 90 of parchment, in all 128. It measures 12½ by 9 inches; is in an excellent state of preservation, and is bound in rough calf.

Vol. II. contains Baptisms and Burials from 1696 to 1812, and Marriages from 1696 to 1755, written on 40½ pages of parchment. It measures 14½ by 8 inches, and is bound in rough calf.

¹ In the time of Q. Elizabeth the parish contained 24 families. Nash (1781) gives the number of families as 56 and the population as about 226.

² See "Memorials of Dead in the Church and Churchyard of the Parish of Bushley, transcribed by E.R.D." Tewkesbury, W. North, 1889.

³ Burials for the years 1682, 3, 5, 6 & 8, have been supplied from the Bishop's transcripts.

Vol. III. contains Marriages from 1755 to 1812, on 22 pages of paper. It measures 15 by 9½ inches, and is bound in vellum.

Vol. I. The paper register. It is uncertain by whom the first part was kept. William Kyngett was curate in 1553, when he signed the inventory of Church goods. Queen Mary came to the throne that same year and reconciled the Church of England to the Pope in the year following. All the entries from 1538 to July 23rd, 1554, are made in the same hand. It is likely, therefore, that Kyngett was the first curate of Bushley after the dissolution of Tewkesbury Abbey in 1539, that he retired or was ejected when the change of religion came under Mary, and that he wrote the register till then.

On page 10 for the year 1544, Sir William Butler, curate of Boyssley, makes a note of money received, but as his handwriting is not the same as that of the register adjoining, we may conclude that he was the priest in charge at some later date and only entered his account on this page because he found a vacant space there.

No entry was made between July 23, 1554, and May 20, 1557. This comprises nearly the whole of Mary's reign, and seems to show that during the re-establishment of the Roman supremacy there was no resident priest.

Sir Richard Cubley, who was buried in 1560, seems to have written the register from 1557 to the time of his death. He was probably appointed in the first year of Elizabeth, 1558, and wrote the first three or four entries from information received from others.

After Cubley's death the register was kept by different people, but the first whose name is known is John Wyett, who signs himself "Curat" in 1565. He continued the original paper book down to 1574, and no doubt to a much later date. The latter part of the paper book is lost. He also made the parchment copy, ordered in 1597, and continued to keep it till Oct. 24, 1603. The next entry, on Nov. 16, records his death, so that after 38 years of service here he died in harness. We owe much to him for the care with which the book is written. There is hardly a blot or an erasure in the whole of it. The handwriting is exquisitely clear. The parchment is still white and the ink black. Moreover, the form is the best that could be devised for the purpose. In a broad margin on the left hand is noted whether the entry is Baptism, Marriage or Burial; while the margin on the other side gives the surname. Anyone who has experience in searching registers will appreciate the facility that is thus afforded for tracing names.

At the end of 1567 there is an interesting entry by him :

Si mea penna valet melior mea litera fiet.
per me Johem Wyett, Clerum.

which may be Englished thus :

If it can, every letter my pen shall form better.
At least I will try it, so says John Wyett.

The next two pages are not in his writing, so we may suppose the verse expresses his intention to do better than that, and he certainly succeeded.

Each page of the parchment copy was certified by the Minister and Churchwarden. In spite of this testimony the copy is not absolutely accurate. There are several omissions, notably the death of Mr. Edward Tyndale of the Pole (Pull Court). He was steward for the Abbot of Tewkesbury, and bought a lease of Pull Court from the Abbot and Convent in 1531. He was brother of William Tyndale, the translator of the New Testament, and died and was buried at Slymbridge, so that the omission of his name in the parchment copy may have been intentional.

Wyett came of a Tewkesbury family, and his long connection with the neighbourhood enabled him to make several additions in the copy and to add personal touches to many of the entries.

His successor was Richard Owen, whose marriage with Elizabeth Piffe at Woolstone in 1604 is recorded in the register. He is there described as Curate of Cleeve Episcopi. In the same year he signs as Curate of Bushley, so that he must either have served both curacies, or have resigned Bishop's Cleeve to come to Bushley. The register is kept in the same handwriting, which we presume to be his, from 1603 to 1612.

He was succeeded by Richard Gardiner, who seems to have remained till 1620.

From 1620 to 1622 the register is kept in Latin, there is no clue to the name of the writer.

Simon Jones signs as Curate in 1622, and the handwriting changes in 1626, but no name appears till Henry Spilsbury signs in 1630. His last entry is in 1646. From the beginning of the Civil War in 1642, Parliament had shown marked hostility to the Church. In 1645, Archbishop Laud was beheaded, and the Clergy were required to take the Covenant. It is possible that, as Bushley was a Donative, Mr. R. Dowdeswell, the patron, who was a strong Royalist and Churchman, may have been able to keep Mr. Spilsbury until the Presbyterian form of Church government was established in 1646, in spite of the act of the previous year, which made the use of the Book of Common Prayer illegal.

From 1648 to 1650 there are many changes of handwriting, which suggest that there were many changes of ministers officiating here.

The number of Baptisms and Burials fell slightly below the average : but, as might be expected, Marriages ceased altogether between 1643 and 1653. It was no time for marrying and giving in marriage while Civil War was raging.

In 1653, an Act of Parliament was passed that after banns had been published either in the Church, or at the nearest Market Place, those wishing to be married were to come before a Justice of the Peace, who should declare them man and wife, and no other marriages should be accounted lawful in the Commonwealth.

It is therefore interesting to note that in that very year no less than 18 marriages were registered. This is no doubt due to the fact that in 1652 was fought the decisive battle of Worcester ; so that after that the land had peace, and people could marry without fear of further Civil commotion. But the registering of Civil marriages in the Church Register needs explanation, which may be as follows : In 1653, the Act that made Civil Marriages lawful, also handed over the Parish Registers to a Registrar appointed by the Parish. In it he was to record the Births,—not Baptisms—the Funerals, and Marriages as they occurred, so that the Registers might continue though the Registrar might be changed. These marriages, therefore, were not solemnized in Church, but before a Magistrate, and only recorded here.

It is a little surprising, however, that Baptisms still continue to be registered rather than Births, as ordered by the Act. In the Longdon Register, Births only are recorded, not Baptisms. It is possible that the Ministers continued to baptize the children, but there is no doubt that, speaking generally, Baptism was not administered during the Puritan ascendancy. It is also possible that the Registrar may have continued to write the word Baptized when he should have written Born. Let us hope the infants were baptized.

After 1653, the Presbyterians began to lose their power, and the Independents (who were nearly as much opposed to Presbyterianism as they were to Episcopacy) took the lead.

In 1655, Oliver Cromwell, who was supported by them, passed an Act of toleration for all forms of Religion except Popery and Prelacy,—i.e., the Church of Rome or the Church of England—and appointed a committee of 38 members who were empowered to examine all the Clergy, and exclude from any preferment all who were guilty, in their judgment, of any scandalous conduct, or of being opposed to the present Government, and appoint to every living one whom they judged to be worthy. At the same time the Church Clergy were not to be allowed to act either as private Chaplains or as Schoolmasters, and it was accounted criminal for more than two persons to read the Prayer Book together.

As a result of the proceedings of this Committee of Triers (as they were called) a Mr. Francis Dunn was appointed to Bushley, whose name appears in the Register in 1656. The same name continues till Feb. 28, 1661, so that Mr. Dunn retained his place for a full year after the Restoration of Charles II., in 1660.

When the King came back to the Throne, the Clergy returned to their Parishes. The Act of Parliament which restored the old Clergy to their Livings, ejected the Puritan Ministers who had been intruded into their places. The Act came into operation on S. Bartholomew's Day, 1662. It is calculated that about 1,800 of these Ministers went out. But Mr. Francis Dunn did not wait to be turned out but resigned in 1661. He was succeeded by Mr. Thomas Holder, who died in April, 1666.

We do not know by whom the Register was kept for three years after the death of Mr. Holder. There are several different handwritings. But in 1669 Rev. Robert Wriggan signs as Curate, and remains till 1694. During the latter years of his life he was also Vicar of Longdon, and by his will left £5 to the poor of Bushley. He was succeeded by the Rev. Francis Welles. From 1679 to 1695 the burials were entered in a separate book, which has unfortunately been lost, but the Transcripts for most of the missing years are in the Bishop's Registry at Worcester, and the entries have been supplied from them.

During the period contained in this book,—from 1538 to 1696,—nearly 160 years, the deaths averaged 6 per annum; the Births $8\frac{1}{2}$; and the Marriages 2. Our present rate of Deaths is 2.20 per cent. per annum, and of Births $8\frac{1}{2}$. So that, on a rough calculation, we may say the population then was between 200 and 300, as it is to-day.

For about 100 years after the commencement of the Registers a large proportion of those whose names are mentioned are described as "Of the Pole, a member of this Parish."

The Pole (or Pull) is that part of the Parish which lies between Queenhill Brook and Bushley Green. It was originally a part of the Parish of Longdon, but in William the Conqueror's time was thrown into Bushley, and during the Middle Ages was always treated as a Hamlet of Bushley, and separately taxed. There were probably 20 houses in Pull, including Pull Court but not Hill House, which was in Longdon. These houses stood in what is now called the Park, and Pull End, and were inhabited principally by labourers, but the families of Biddle, Hayward, Hill, Hall, Bracy, Restell, and Wither, were all small Freeholders. The last who is mentioned in the Register, as of the Pulle, was a Biddle, in 1641.

These properties were acquired at various dates by Mr. Dowdeswell, of Pull Court, and the houses were all eventually pulled down to form a Deer Park. Mr. Dowdeswell, who died in 1727, provided in his will, that his widow should be supplied with venison from his Park.

The site of the foundation of the houses may still be traced.

The following names of other localities in Bushley are mentioned in this volume: Bushley Park, The Green, Wood End, Church End, Massey Fields, Freebarn's Well, The Galley Pleck, The Over Lode, The Oxehey, and The Worthens.

Mr. Childe's, "Millard" or Miller, is mentioned, whose mill stood on what is now called Windmill Tump.

Of all the families recorded in this volume none now remain as residents in Bushley except the Dowdeswells.

The first Dowdeswell—John, of Hill House, had a daughter baptized here in 1560. His son Roger bought Hill House in 1606, and Pull Court in 1628. His descendants have remained there ever since.

The name of Mann first appears in 1547. The last of the family, Miss Lizzie Mann, was buried here in 1875.

The Biddle family was a very ancient one in Bushley. They were landowners here in 1282, nearly 250 years before our Register commences, and the last of them, Mr. John Biddle, gent., of Freebarnes End, was buried in 1747.

Besides the Biddles, the families of Barston, Kemble, Wether, Trigge, Marte, Wylshere, and Lane were all here and landowners when the Register begins, but they all died out or removed before it closes in 1695, except the Wylsheres, who remained on till 1792. The Woodward, who appear first in 1570, were possibly the ancestors of John Woodward, of the Wood Street, who died in 1880.

The Carrs of Bushley Park are interesting, because when Dr. Nicholas Ridley was made Bishop of London in the room of Bishop Bonnor, who had been thrown into prison by King Edward VI., Bishop Ridley sold a 99 years' lease of the Park (which then belonged to the See of London) to Mr. George Carr in 1551. When Bishop Bonnor was restored to his See by Queen Mary in 1554, he tried to turn Mr. Carr out, and transfer the lease to his friend Mr. Lechmere. There was much litigation about it, but the Carrs remained here till the end of their lease.

Mr. George Carr had a son whom he named Nycholas, after his friend Bishop Nycholas Ridley, and in the next generation Mr. George Shipside, of Redmarley, was one of the godfathers to George, son of Nycholas Carr. This George Shipside was the son (or grandson?) of Bishop Ridley's brother-in-law, whom the Bishop placed at Redmarley when Mr. Carr came to Bushley Park.

Thomas Payne, who probably built Payne's Place, and was alive in 1471 (when Queen Margaret is said to have slept in his house after the battle of Tewkesbury) died in 1500. The Brass which commemorates him and Ursula, his wife, is still in Bushley Church. We have no record of any of his children as living in this Parish, and it is not known how his house came into the possession of the Stratfords. The first of this family mentioned in this Register is Margaret Stratford, who married J. Ordeway in 1558. Her father was then living in Bushley. The last is Anthony Stratford, gent., who was buried in 1676, but another Anthony, the heir of the estate, was killed at the battle of Worcester in 1651, and we hear no more of them in the Register. They came of an old Gloucestershire family, the Stratfords of Farmcott and Hawling.

The Freemans of Yenley were here for only one generation. The name first appears in 1620. John, the son of John Freeman and Mary (Roberts) his wife, was killed at the Siege of Gloucester in 1643. There is a Brass to the memory of his brother Roberts Freeman in the Church, who died in 1651, which is the last mention of the family in this book. They were descended from the ancient family of the Freemans of Ebrington. The Freemans of Batsford and of Gaines are from the same stock. It is interesting, in this connection, to note that the famous Warren Hastings, of Daylesford, was descended from John Freeman, of Bushley, through Priscilla, the daughter of his son, Kemmett Freeman.

The family of Cox alias Hayward were among the original signatories of the petition to the Abbot of Tewkesbury to grant us rights of sepulchre in Bushley Churchyard in 1476. They were closely connected with a family of the same name in Forthampton, who were the progenitors of the present Mr. Curtis Hayward, of Quedgeley.

Of the families who appear in the XVII. Century, the most important were the Jelfs. William Jelf married Anne Baccus in 1681. His great-grandson, Sir James Jelf, was Mayor of Gloucester in 1815. From him descended the late Rev. G. E. Jelf, Canon of Rochester. Arthur R. Jelf, a Judge of Assize; and R. H. Jelf, a Colonel of Engineers.

The Spilmans began in 1685, and the family is now represented by Mr. Guilding, of Bushley Park.

The family of Bayliss, who appear in 1583, lingered on among us till 1804.

I have already mentioned Edward Tyndale, who was steward or land agent for the Abbot of Tewkesbury. He acquired a lease of the Manor of Pull Court from the Monks in 1531, and died in 1546. His son Thomas never lived here. The family sold the estate, which was purchased by Mr. William Childe, who, with his wife Appolyn, resided at Pull Court till 1601, when he went to the family house at Northwick, and died soon after.

The Monks throughout England, before the Dissolution of the Monasteries, were the chief supporters of the indigent poor. When their revenues were taken from them in 1539 there was no one to care for these poor people.

It was not till the year 1600 that our system of Poor Laws first began. There are consequently many entries in our Registers between 1538 and 1600, of poor beggar men and women dying and being buried here, as they tramped from place to place, and of children being born of some poor women, in barns and outhouses.

And even after 1600 the Poor Laws were very harshly administered, the great object of the Guardians being to save the rates. The wretched paupers were forced to move on from Parish to Parish, till they reached their native place, where they could demand a maintenance.

The following are some examples of miseries endured by homeless wanderers :—

- 1566. The IX. day of Maye was buried Thomas Barnes, a pore man out of William Kemble's " Shippon " (cowhouse).
- 1584. XXVI. day of Marche was buried one Patriarke, a beggar's son, of the age of 2 yeares or thereabouts brought to the Church by certain poore beggers, &c.
- 1591. XI. daye of Ffebruarye was buried a beggar man from Nicholas Wilshire's House.
XIII. daye of Ffebruarye was buried a poore boy from William Child's House at Church end (no name given).
- 1596. XXI. daye of April was baptized, Margaret Prosser the daughter of a poore wandering woman, &c.
- 1597. XXIV. daye of June were baptized two twynnes the mother being delivered of them in Mr. Childe's Barne, where one Barnes sometime dwelt.
- 1606. Item. Upon Ste. Marke's day was buried one John Griffin, a poore creepie, who, travelling from London, was apprehended as a vagrant person at Bampton, in Oxfordshire, and was sent from Tithing to Tythinge unto Carmarthen, to an uncle of his there dwellinge, who died on this side the Lode, and was brought hither by poore men out of Tewxbury.
- 1608. Upon the 13th daye of October a poore woman whose name was unknown to us was deceased in an outhouse of Symon Halle's at the Poole end and was buried the day and yeare above said."
- 1612. 2 Oct. Elizabeth daughter of a vagrant person, was baptized, and in 1613 John the son of another vagrant person.
- 1619. Thomas the sonne of a poore beggar man was baptized the XIX. day of March, and was buried the XXI. day of the same month.

With all the faults of our present Poor Law system, no one need now be so utterly cast away as these poor wretches were.

To turn to more happy records, it is pleasant to read that on Oct. 6th, 1566, " were married Thomas Norcoate and Ales Dey in the presence of all the Parishioners on Dedication Sunday." It gives one the idea of the Parish being one great family rejoicing with the young couple on their wedding day.

So also on the 9th of October, 1597, " were maryed John Clarke and Joan Kynge, also the same daye and hower were married Richard Burlingham and Elinor Smythe, both of the maydes from Mr. Carr's howse for they were his servants."

The testimony to the character of Mr. Anthony Stratford, who died in 1608, is of interest.

" Anthony Stratford gent. who although he was not buried here was notwithstanding, not to be forgotten or left out of this place, for that the remembrance of the man will not easily be forgotten. I have not heard of any man that was buried within this fourty years that his death was more lamented of all sorts of people than this man's was. He died on horsebacke ryding towarde Stanwaye in Gloucestershire and was buried in Stanway Church the XVII. day of Marche Anno 1608."

On the other hand, it is rather pathetic to read this simple record, "Poore James Ap-howell was buried on the XVII. day of January 1636."

While on the 15 of December 1566 "was buried John Wade the Innocente, or Aulff," the parish idiot poor fellow. Note that the word Oaf (here spelt Aulff) is still in use, meaning a silly person.

The following entry, though sad, has its humorous side :—

"Upon the XXVII. day of Julie 1612, was buried one Ffowke a boatman who was drowned in Seaverne at the Gallowe Plecke as he was entending to washe himselfe being the daye before the Sabbath day and after the crowner's quest he was buried on the Monday in the Churchyard of Bushley."

It would seem that the poor fellow thought he ought to have a wash once a week at least.

Not many instances are recorded of exceptional longevity, but in 1607, "Ales Nicholls was buried nearly 100," and in 1637 Mary Biddle was baptized—her godparents were "Old Edward Biddle of the Green, old Elynor Hall of the Poole Inne, and old Margaret Tony of Longdon, the age of which three were 200 yeares."

There is only one mention of the Plague, which was so justly dreaded. It occurs in 1593, when 3 members of one family died within 3 weeks of each other, no doubt from some infectious disease. It is thus recorded :

"On the 29th daye of Maye was buried William Harryson the elder from Bushelie Greene and died of the plague as the comon talke goeth and therefore was drawn to his grave with a mare and a little drey or sleade by his wyfe and William and Oliver his sonnes and one of his daughters."

"On the X. daye of June dyed Anne Harryson the daughter of the above said William, and one Anker Blower was hyred to carry her to her grave and received for his paynes iijjs. and iiijd."

"On the XVI. daye of June dyed Oliver Harryson and was buried the XVII. daye of June aforesaid by Anker Blower & Richard Savage, and had for their paynes vis. and viijd."

There is an interesting list of collections made in the Parish for charitable objects between 1670—92, on what were called Briefs. A Brief is a short official letter authorising the holder of it to collect money for the specified object.

The Briefs that are recorded in our Register were Letters Patent, issued by the Government. Before the days of Insurance Companies those who had suffered great loss by fire or other calamity, had no means of recouping any part of their loss except by the contributions of the benevolent. And to prevent the public being deceived by impostors no one was allowed to ask publicly for contributions unless they had the authority of a Brief.

At the last revision of the Prayer Book in 1662 the Curate was instructed to read out after the Nicene Creed all Briefs—citations and excommunications—which proves that these collections were often made in Church on Sunday and perhaps accounts for a record of them being kept in the Register.

On the other hand, though begun in Church, the collection was probably continued from house to house.

During the 22 years, from 1670 to 1692, no fewer than 71 collections have been recorded. In 1685 there were 10, in 1682 there were 9, in 1672, 1673, and 1690 there were 6, but in no year less than one. They were chiefly for losses sustained by fire, and they come from all parts of the kingdom. The sums collected were small; the largest for a fire was 8/5, the least 1/-.

One John Clopton was said to have lost £12,000 at sea. Our Bushley people subscribed 4/- for him.

We helped to build, or re-build, the Churches at S. Alban's, Portsmouth, Edgbaston, Newent and Oswestre, with modest sums, but to the re-building of S. Paul's Cathedral in London after the Fire we gave no less than £8.

From 1680 to 1690 the Protestant spirit of the country was very strong. We sent a large collection to the Reformed Church of Poland, and no less than three collections—all over £5—to Distressed French Protestants, and two in aid of Irish Protestants.

During the same period the Moorish Pirates of Algiers, who had long been the scourge of the Mediterranean, were at open war with the French, and plundered the merchant ships of the English and all other European powers, and carried off many captives, for whom they demanded enormous ransoms. We collected in 1683 £5 4s. 6d. for the redemption of the English captives at Sally and Algiers, and again in 1692, £2 3s. 5d. for the same object.

In 1691 we sent a contribution to repair the damage done to Teignmouth by the French in 1689.

On p. 25 there is a curious old remedy :

For Ague.

Take mercury levys vyolet levys strebyrry lvys
Pseley Rots and all, tyme and Isop a porcyon
Sowthystylls a handfull of the best sort

MEMORANDUM.

Jan. 31, 1708.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dowdeswell, spinster, by her last will and testament (bearing date on or about the 14th day of Janry., 1705—6), left eighty pounds to purchase four pounds a year in land for ever, for ye better maintenance of the Minister of Bushley.

Her Will's prov'd in London. Mrs. Elizabeth Dowdeswell of Tewkesbury (her aunt and executrix) has bought of Richard Dowdeswell, of Pool Court, Esq., wth. part of the said eighty pounds a parcel of land (formerly Stratford's) called by the name of Bull tail Acre (now in ye tenure of Thomas Taylor). On the West part of it is Bushley Ham ; on the North part is the land late of George Dowdeswell, gent., now purchased too by ye said Mrs. Eliz. Dowdeswell for the Minister, being two pieces of meadow ground, ye one called the Bultayle and the other ye Three Quarters. On the East of ye said Bultail Acre is ye land of Mr. John Heyward and the said Richard Dowdeswell, Esq., lying in Coverlong and now in ye tenure of Tho. Knipe, and on the South is a parcel of meadow ground called Bultail Acre, too belonging to the said Richd. Dowdeswell, Esq.

For Bultail Acre, bought of Richd. Dowdeswell, Esq., Mrs. Elizth. Dowdeswell paid four and twenty pounds purchase money.

It is sett along with his land at twenty four shillings a year for ye benefit and to ye proper use of ye Minister. To yt no beast pasture belongs. To the other two pieces of meadow ground (late Mr. George Dowdeswell's but now the Minister's) belongs two beast pastures. Richard Turberville of ye Ox Eye at prsent rents the same wth ye land thereto belonging, and is to pay three pounds two shillings and sixpence rent to the Minister p. an., and one shilling and two pence chief rent and all the Parish payments to Church, poor, and Constable's charges and all other payments ye Minister is to allow except those beyond named.

Memor.

The said Mrs. Elizabeth Dowdeswell of Tewkesbury, spinster, has out of her own generosity lay'd out and expended of her own money the sum of about eight pounds for the Benefit of the Minister in the said Purchases.

In Pious Memory of the said Benefactrix, deceased, and of Mr. Wriggan is a Table erected in ye Church, the one half of ye charges whereof ye Parish pays, ye other ye prsent Minister, ye living Mrs. Elizabeth Dowdeswell's modesty will not pmit her name to be inserted, for wt. she has added to the Purchase money, thinking it too little.

R.C., Anno Dom., 170⁸.

Memor., Jan. 31, 170⁸.

Mr. Robert Wriggan, sometime Minister of this place but at last Vicar of Longdon, by his last Will and Testament (as appeares by the loose Copy herein), gave five pounds for ye use of the Poor of this Parish of Bushley, wch. money is to be placed out at Interest or disposed of by the Churchwardens and Overseers of the same Parish for the time being with ye consent of Richard Dowdeswell of y^s Parish, Esq.; and ye yearly Interest and Product thereof is according to his sd. Will to be laid out in bread, viz., five great loaves to be given by the Churchwardens (for the time being) on Christmas day, yt is to say, one to the Clerk for ye time being and ye other four loaves are to be given to four poor people who do most frequent ye Church. They shall in like manner give five Great Loaves on Easter Day, and five more on Whit Sunday, still including ye Clerk for one each time. At prsent Daniel Alcock has the said five pounds on Bond.

Nov. 18, 1770.

There was the highest flood that ever was known or Remembered for many years by whatever can be learned from our forefathers, it being almost up to the lower poarch at our Church yeard, so that a Coal barg was brought up to the Church porch to unload Coals.
