

A SWEAT-SHOP HORROR.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST IN A NEW YORK FIRE.

Two Hundred and Fifty Hungarian Hebrews in a Panic-The Cannibals.

New York, June 13.—A six-story building filled with "sweater shops," at Nos. 10 and 12 Montgomery street, caught fire at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and in the mad rush to the street of the 250 souls working there at the time, three were killed and several injured.

At the near-by hospitals twelve people were treated for injuries received at the fire. It is said that two of the injured will die.

It was reported at 11 o'clock that two more bodies had been found.

The blaze started on the first floor, and in a few minutes the flames shot up as far as the third and fourth floors. Then a panic followed. The inmates, all Polish Hebrews, excited under any circumstances, were maddened.

Two hundred and fifty people rushed to the fire escapes on the front of the building, and fought like demons. All were fighting for good places on the fire escapes. Suddenly the flames burst like a rocket from the second and third floors and leaped out nearly across the street.

There was no longer any fighting on the fire escapes. People poured through the manholes like water. They fell on each other's heads as they came down and were piled three tier deep. The ladder from the first fire escape had not yet been covered and the people began to jump from the balcony to the pavement. The first was a large woman. She fell on the iron railing and reeled over dead. A man jumped further into the street, his head struck the pavement, his skull was crushed and he never moved.

A second man followed and struck on his head, but didn't die immediately. A young girl was the fourth to leap out. She fell on her side. Several jumped into the police officers' arms and were not hurt.

PARAFFINE WORKS BURNED.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 13.—The works of Matiam & Morgan, paraffine company, at the corner of Seneca and Ohio streets, were partially destroyed by fire last night. The plant consisted of a three-story brick building used in making paraffine ware, a three-story frame cooper shop, and a four-story brick candle factory. The first two buildings were completely destroyed, and the other slightly damaged. The loss is about $200,000, partially insured.

The Annual Concert Last Evening Was a Grand Success.

Special to The Journal.

ATHENS, June 13.—Yesterday's exercises at the Lucy Cobb Institute were among the best yet rendered, and two large audiences witnessed both the morning and evening entertainments.

The Spang-Storall chapel may be truly said to be the central point of Athens, for there everyone—citizens, visitors and students—are continually congregated.

Accompanying is the morning program. The recitations were all excellent—both those of the serious and the humorous style—and a very difficult task lies before the judges who are to award the medals.

The annual concert, which occurred last evening, was pronounced by musical critics to be the best in several commences. The new feature of the Cantata added greatly to the interest of the program.

Mrs. R. T. Dorsey and Mrs. George Hillier, of Atlanta, are visiting Miss Faith Dorsey and Miss Ellen Hillier at the institute.

Professor W. M. Slaton, who is on the board of visitors at the university, is now in town.

The invitations being issued by the O. R. German club are very handsome, and are now being distributed.

NEWS FROM MACON.

ONLY A FEW PLUMS FELL

FROM THE PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENT TREE TODAY.

THE GEORGIA PLACES STILL HUNG UP.

A Successor Named for "Cousin Ben" Folsom as Consul at Sheffield.

Trammell Still in the Lead—New Georgia Applicants—General Gordon Returns—Brunswick's Banks.

Special to The Journal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Today's New York Herald prints what purports to be a correct account of the Victoria hotel dinner conference, held just before the election between Cleveland and Whitney on one side and the New York state leaders on the other.

It makes very good reading, and it is generally believed here to be accurate, even to details.

Of course Cleveland made no bargain, and instead of Sheehan "reading the riot act" to Cleveland, as he had promised to do, he was promptly called down by both Cleveland and Croker.

GORDON BACK FROM NEW YORK.

General Gordon returned yesterday afternoon from New York where he has been the recipient of many unusual courtesies. The metropolitan newspapers are full of the address which he has decided to make on Lee and Grant.

The senator is stopping out in the country with his son Frank, and is not very accessible. Today being cabinet day, he has made no calls.

NO POSTOFFICE DEVELOPMENTS.

The Atlanta postoffice matter is in statu quo, with a bare possibility that if the powers that be do not agree, the president may slip in an outsider.

THE REVEREND COLLECTIONSHIP.

A treasury official high up in the ranks told me this morning that he believed Trammell would surely be appointed. "If he is not," he said, "endorsements count for absolutely nothing."

TWO NEW APPLICATIONS.

The papers are still at the treasury department. Some fresh ink on the application book at the treasury department shows that Colonel McClure, of LaGrange, has put in for collector of internal revenue and that W. E. Haygood, of Milledgeville, desires to be a Chinese inspector.

A RECRUITING INSPECTOR.

Comptroller Eckles this morning announced the appointment of Joseph Bennett, of Brunswick, a popular young lawyer of that city, to be receiver of the Oglethorpe National bank.

President Borikridge and the vice-president of the First National Bank of Brunswick are still here, trying to get permission to reopen their bank. They have another conference with the comptroller at 12 o'clock tomorrow.

The probabilities are that the bank will not be reopened.

There is nothing now in Gate City National bank affairs.

Secretary Hoke Smith returns to Washington in the morning.

ONLY A FEW POSTMASTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The president today appointed D. Price Porter postmaster at Jackson, Miss., vice W. H. Gibbs, removed; Thomas R. Robertson, at Charlotte, N. C., vice A. Brady, removed; Bennett Dunn, at Rocky Mount, N. C., vice W. L. Person, removed; William A. Gilliam, at Covington, Va., vice G. T. McGinnis, removed; Frank W. Shield, at Hampton, Va., vice R. B. Wood, resigned.

TO SUCCEED "COUSIN BEN."

The president today also appointed Holmes Conrad, of Virginia, to be assistant attorney-general, vice John B. Cotton, resigned, and Benjamin R. Bedie, of New Jersey, to be consul at Sheffield, England.

BASEBALL IN MISSISSIPPI.

Special to The Journal.

COLUMBUS, Miss., June 13.—For the second time the Columbus Baseball team has suffered a defeat at the hands of the A. & M. college. The score stood 15 to 10 in favor of the college boys. The game was a good one and was free of errors. The college team "got on" to Young's balls and burned the grass over the diamond. Several "sky robbers" were also made off Young's pitching. The college pitcher was a good one and the Columbus team could not find his balls.

AINSWORTH NOT PRESENT

AT THE INQUEST ON THE THEATRE SLAUGHTER TODAY.

He Secures a Rufe Against the Coroner, However—He Waits to Attend.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The inquest on the victims of the Ford theatre disaster was continued publicly at Willard hall this morning.

In order to prevent a repetition of the trouble of yesterday, Lieutenant Ames and a squad of police were on hand. Colonel Ainsworth and his attorney were not present.

Judge Jers Wilson, who volunteered his services in the interest of the employees of the record and pension division, was greeted with applause by the clerks when he entered the hall.

A RULE AGAINST THE CORONER.

Chief Justice Bingham, of the supreme court of the district, has issued an order requiring the acting coroner to show cause at 3 o'clock this afternoon why Colonel Ainsworth should not be allowed to be represented by counsel at the inquest.

MRS. WALLACES FUNERAL.

With Impressive Ceremonies Her Body Was Consigned to the Earth.

With impressive ceremonies the body of Mrs. Campbell Wallace was consigned to the earth in Oakland cemetery this morning.

The funeral services were conducted from the residence of her son-in-law Mr. Charles J. Martin.

Rev. Dr. Strickler, the aged lady's pastor, made a short talk which was filled with beautiful thoughts.

Mrs. Knight sang two beautiful solos, "Asleep in Jesus," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul," both favorite songs of Mrs. Wallace, and then Rev. Dr. Barnett and Rev. Dr. John Jones, the venerable minister, made short prayers, after which the casket was borne to the hearse, and the solemn procession wound its way to the silent city of the dead.

The floral offerings were choice and beautiful.

Rev. Dr. Buttolph, of Marietta, Mr. Wallace's old pastor and friend, closed the services at the grave by pronouncing the benediction.

A HOUSE DIVIDED.

A Big Split in the Solicitor's Legal Family Yesterday Afternoon.

The legal house, in which Solicitor Charles Hill resides, was badly divided against itself in the criminal superior court yesterday afternoon.

It came up in the case of the state against John Dorsey, charged with assault with intent to murder upon the person of C. H. Harbuck.

Solicitor Hill is a member of the legal firm of B. H. & C. D. Hill, and his special battif or assistant solicitor general is Mr. John Monagan.

When the case against Dorsey was called Mr. B. H. Hill, the solicitor's brother and his law partner, appeared as his attorney, and worse than that Mr. John Monagan was one of the witnesses for the defense.

Solicitor Hill made one of his strong speeches against Dorsey, who had his Harbuck with a railroad coupling pin.

Mr. Ben Hill, in reply, said his distinguished brother, the solicitor, was on hand when the humor for the Hill family was being distributed and he secured it all, and also inherited a large part of the family brains, but unfortunately for him when he weathered approached they seemed a little and when ever he opened his mouth all he ever knew ran out of his brains whether it had any connection with the case or not.

When the speeches were concluded Dorsey was acquitted and everybody had the laugh on the solicitor, who was caught in the downfall of his legal house—about his ears.

SALISBURY GOES "WET."

Special to The Journal.

SALISBURY, N. C., June 13.—A local option election was held here yesterday, resulting in the town going "wet" by 153 majority. Little interest was taken in the election. The total number of votes cast was 477. A few colored people voted but these voted principally for whisky. The town was exceptionally quiet and orderly throughout the day.

YACHTS IN COLLISION.

LONDON, June 13.—The second of the series of yacht races off Dover took place today, but the sport was practically spoiled by a collision in which the Britannia, the Vendetta and the Valkyrie were mixed up in the most confusing manner.

The shock was so violent that many hands on the Britannia and the Vendetta were thrown over.

So far as is known all were rescued, but the vessels had to withdraw from the race. When the Valkyrie finally got started she was twenty minutes behind, but rapidly overhauled her opponents, and finished second. The Calluna finished first.

CHRIS. EVANS CAPTURED.

VALISIA, Cal., June 13.—Chris. Evans, Sonntag's companion in crime, is at last a prisoner in the county jail here. His eyes
