

"Standing with reluctant feet,
Where the brook and river meet,
Womanhood and childhood fleet."

This group of fair young graduates represent charmingly four of the fine institutions of Atlanta for the education of girls. The young ladies themselves have been chosen in their respective schools as class at College Park.

Miss Sallie B. Connally, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Connally, is class president at Washington seminary.

Miss Jennie Gray, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gray, is class president at Thornbury college.

Miss Madeline Routzahn, of Waynesboro, is president of the senior class at

MISS YONN BUCHANAN, OF AMERICUS GA.

MISS JENNIE GRAY

MISS SALLY CONNALLY

MISS MADELINE ROUTZAHN

presidents, a genuine tribute accorded them by their classmates.

The girls are: Miss Sallie B. Connally, Miss Jennie Gray, Miss Madeline Routzahn, and Miss Yona Buchanan.

The institutions represented are: Washington seminary, Thornbury college, Prather Home and Southern Female college, Prather Home school.

Miss Yona Buchanan, of Americus, is class president at Southern Female college, at College Park.

They make a very charming quartette, and for each of them is prophesied as popular and happy a future career as has been their course at school.