

DUBLIN SCHOOLS BEGIN COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

DUBLIN, Ga., June 10.—Next Friday the commencement exercises of the Dublin public school will begin. Friday morning at 10 o'clock there will be a declamation contest of the pupils in the grades between the first and fifth.

Sunday the commencement sermon will be preached in the school auditorium by Rev. L. R. Christie, of Valdosta. Monday night a musical concert will be given by the music class of the school in charge of Miss Lucy Chapman. Tuesday morning the pupils in the grades between the fifth and ninth grades will meet in a warm oratorical contest, the contest promising to be a delightful feature of the commencement exercises, as Dublin ranked second at the recent state oratorical contest at College Park.

Hon. John T. Boileuillet, of Macon, a speaker of great distinction, will deliver the graduating address at the close of the graduating exercises Tuesday night.

The class this year is composed of six graduates, five young ladies and one young man. They are: Misses Etta Sanders, Gussie Bel Rawls, Annie Turpley, Blanche Baum, Effie Geffekins and Mr. Ovid Bush.

The teachers for another year have been elected and consist of the following: Superintendent, Prof. W. R. Lanier; Miss Minnie Ramsey, Miss Lella Vinson, Miss Maggie Whitaker, Miss Maggie May Rawls, Miss Annie Green, Miss Tommie Lee Hightower, Miss Alma Smith, Miss Mary Belcher, Musical director, Prof. Carl Leak. Piano, Miss Lucy Chapman; art, Mrs. J. S. Simms. The assistant principal and elocution teacher will be elected at a later date.
