

GIRLS HIGH SCHOOL IS PREPARING FOR COMMENCEMENT

GRADUATION EXERCISES WILL BE HELD THURSDAY NIGHT WHEN
58 DIPLOMAS WILL BE AWARDED.

Next Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock the graduation exercises of the Girls' High school will be held at the Grand, and the program which has been arranged for that occasion promises to be the prettiest ever presented by the school.

The fact that 58 pretty school girls will be upon the stage for the purpose of receiving their diplomas is in itself a sufficient inducement to secure a house filled to the very doors. Miss Nettie Sergeant, principal of the school, has been busy for the past few weeks practicing her girls, who will be seen in some of the most graceful drills ever put on the stage at the Grand.

One of the prettiest features of the program will be the march in which every member of the literary and commercial graduating classes will participate. Each young lady will carry in the fancy drill a fan which she will put to graceful use, and will be bedecked with yards of ribbon.

The following is the program:

Prayer—Class.

Chorus, "Night" (A. Ergmann)—Class.

Greeting—Nellie Harris, president Malton society.

Chorus, "The Morning Ramble" (Veazle)—Class.

Part-Song, "Sing on, Sweet Bird" (Walter E. Owen)—Class.

Essay, "Reading; Its Use and Its Abuse"—Cleveland Zahner.

Chorus, "Be Glad, Lass and Lad" (Gumbert)—Class.

Presentation of diplomas by Hamilton Douglas, president of board of education.

Class March—Leaders, Beatrice Lieberman, Bessie Stahl.

Awarding of scholarships.

Alumnae scholarships awarded to Isabel Stephens and Mary McDonald.

Agnes Scott scholarship awarded to Mary Thompson.

History medal awarded by Thomas Jefferson chapter D. A. R., to Emma Askew.

The graduating class is one of the largest and brightest ever turned out of the high school. The class numbers 58, of which 20 belong to the commercial and the remainder being in the literary department.

The young ladies who will receive diplomas from the latter department are as follows:
