(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EATONTON, Ga., June 14.—The graduating class of the Eatonton public schools rank as one of the brightest in the history of the school.

Miss Georgia Jenkins, daughter of the late Speaker H. V. Jenkins, won the first honor in the class.

Miss Minnie Paul entered the school direct from Russia, not knowing a word of English, only a few years ago, yet shared second honor with Mr. William Nathaniel Rainey.

Miss Susie Little won fourth honor.

Frank Dennis, the bright young boy at the top of his class on the right, though not yet sixteen, is well known in commercial circles over the state. He started a bank account of five cents of his own accord when four years of age. Today he is the proprietor of a thriving grocery store, going into business before he was twelve years of age. Three months ago he bought a farm of one hundred acres.

Frederick Griffith is already noted as a brilliant speaker.

Every member of the class is a typical Georgian of the class destined to make a greater Georgia.

Prof. W. C. Wright is the universally beloved superintendent of the school.
