WOMEN AND SOCIETY

EDWARDS-MCLAIN.
M. L. SMITHVILLE.—Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Edwards have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Carrie Mae, to Mr. James Curtis McClain, on the evening of June 6th, at 8.30 o'clock at the Methodist church.

IF YOU WERE A BOY.

If you were a boy this morning, I wonder what you would do? Was ever a day more perfect? Was ever the sky more blue? I'm speaking to you now, and you're not listening. You're not listening. It's into the city. No add to your cent, per cent. I polished your mother's shoes. Your very important mother. And I noticed a boy with his boots. I saw—and you saw—where the river sweeps down to the "swamin' hole." Another boy playing "hooky." A boy with a fishing pole.

If you were a boy this morning, I wonder what you would do? I saw you stooping to whisper a word to the boy you told him seemed to think you were a fool. That nothing tipsy manhood. Like the moment spent in school with the fresh blue sky above it. And the green water such nonsense? No! Just and hypocrite! If you were a boy this morning, you'd be, in spite of a lickspole. The boy with the fishing pole. —T. A. DALY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hilburn have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ora, to Mr. Walter E. Burton, of Cartersville, Ga., the wedding to take place the 27th of June.

BREWER-WINGFIELD.

ELBERTON.—A beautiful home wedding was that of Miss Lucia Carter Brewer and Mr. Edwin Wingfield, of Atlanta, which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. James H. Lofton, May 27. Rev. V. C. Norcross, performing the ceremony.

The house was lovely with its decorations of ferns, palms and sweet peas. Mrs. Wingfield is the youngest daughter of Hon. John M. Brewer, of Elberton, but has recently made her home with her sister, Mrs. J. M. Warren, at Marietta, and by her able management, ready wit and bright disposition, has drawn about her

First Prize Offered By Cooper Institute Won By Georgia Girl, Mollie Newcomb

Miss Mollie Newcomb, of Savannah, the niece of Mrs. William Riley Lloyd, of Atlanta, has been awarded the silver medal, which is the first life-class prize at Cooper Institute. Miss Newcomb has only been studying art at Cooper for five months, and in the contest had to compete with girls who had been studying as many years.

Miss Newcomb had the courage to stand for examination even after so brief a period of study and had the three drawings required of her on exhibition at the commencement, but she hardly expected to win first prize. To avoid favoritism,

Personal Mention

National Federation of Women's Clubs Convenes in St. Paul Wednesday

Mrs. Russell R. Dorr and the St. Paul hostesses are making enthusiastic preparation for the reception of the National Federation of Women's clubs. They have selected the armory building for the convention hall, and say: "It is a large, new building, picturesque on the outside and very conveniently arranged within. The hall will seat 4,000. The acoustical properties are excellent, there is no view of fashionable

Extension. Tuesday, June 5, will be given up to an excursion to Minneapolis. The evening meetings will be of unusual interest. The opening meeting will be held Wednesday evening, May 20, when addresses of welcome will be given by Lie Governor of Minnesota, the mayor of St. Paul, the president of the fourth district of the Minnesota State Federation, Mrs. Sarah B. Smith, and the president of the Gen-
