VII

Should either of my said two daughters marry prior to the distribution herein after provided for, and desire a home, my trustees shall, upon not exceeding the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) in buying or building for her the home at such place and under such plan as she may determine, the title to which property shall be vested in my said daughter for and during her natural life and for her sole and separate use, with the remainder in fee to her children, share and share alike. Daniel, Katharine Lucian, Margaret M., share and share alike, one ninth to each, and in this distribution each child will be charged with the advancements I have heretofore made to each, without interest, so as to equalize them, which advancements will be evidenced by notes I have taken from my several children, or memoranda, which will be found in my papers, equalizing all of my eight (8) children in said distribution. The part, there, going to my two daughters will be vested in them to their sole and separate use, free from the marital rights of any husband they may ever have, should either of my said children be dead at the time of this distribution, leaving no children surviving, the share going to the deceased child shall become and constitute a part of my trust estate to be distributed among the surviving children, should either son leave surviving a widow, the corpus will not be paid over to said widow, but the income from same will be paid to her as long as she may live, or as long as she remains his widow, and upon her death or re-marriage in income shall cease and said corpus become a part of the trust estate.

Should my wife die before this division then her share shall become and constitute a part of my trust estate, and be distributed among all my surviving children, or their children per stirpes.

Should either son die leaving surviving a widow, the corpus will not be paid over to said widow but the income from same will be paid over to her as long as she remains his widow, and upon her re-marriage or death the income shall cease, and said Corpus shall then be distributed among the surviving brothers and sisters, or their representatives. Should my wife die before the division then her share shall become and constitute a part of my trust estate, and be distributed among all of my surviving children, or their children per stirpes-

X

When my youngest daughter becomes thirty years of age, or in the event she should die before attaining that age, then when my youngest son, Lucian W. Briscoe becomes thirty-three years of age, it is my will that all the residue of my estate, then existing in the hands of my trustees, real and personal, shall be divided, share and share alike, among my eight children and my wife (9 persons) share and share alike, per stirpes, free from the marital rights of any husband. But if the widow or widows of any of my sons be then living, and there be no children, said widow or widows will be paid simply the income upon her husband's part of said estate, so long as they remain his widow, and after they re-marry or die, the Corpus shall then be distributed among my other children, share and share alike, per stirpes.

Should either of my children be dead at the time of this distribution, leaving no children surviving, the share going to the deceased child shall become and constitute a part of my trust estate, to be distributed among the surviving children, or their children, per stirpes.

Should either son die leaving surviving a widow the Corpus will not be paid over to said widow, but the income from same will be paid over to her as long as she remains his widow and upon her re-marriage or death the income shall cease, and said Corpus shall then be distributed among the surviving brothers and sisters, or their representatives.

Should my wife die before this division then her share shall become and constitute a part of my trust estate, and be distributed among all of my surviving children, or their children per stirpes-

In making such division under this clause, my trustees shall have the power to divide in kind, if the real estate can be divided in kind, or taken jointly by some and others paid money, it shall be done. But, if not, the whole real estate shall be sold and the proceeds divided as above stipulated, sales to be made upon such terms as my trustees may deem best, and either at public or private sale.

XI

I hereby give express power to my said trustees to invest any personal property I may leave in real estate on Gay Street or on Market Square, or on Prince Street and further give them full power to change from time to time any investment and re-invest the same, a majority of said trustees controlling. In the determination of any controversy that may arise between them, touching any investments or re-investments, or other matters in regard to the management of the estate, but they shall consult my brother P. J. Briscoe, touching same.

Addendum to XI

One of my executors and trustees, as herein after appointed, will have no interest in my estate, and it is my will that he be paid out of my estate the sum of $300.00 (Three Hundred Dollars) per year for his services as executor and trustee. The other executors and trustees will be directly interested, and it is my wish that they shall not charge anything for their services, nor be paid anything.

XII

I hereby constitute and appoint, Lucy S. Briscoe, J. Earnest Briscoe, P. J. Briscoe Jr., and S. V. Carter as executrix and executors of this my last will, and also as joint trustees of my estate, and hereby expressly exonerate them from giving any bond, either as executors or as trustees, and from filing any inventory, and from making any settlements with the County court of Knox, either as executors or as trustees, having full confidence in them, and knowing that they will faithfully execute the trusts herein imposed upon them. Should either one of said executors and trustees decline to qualify, or should die after qualification, then in that event the others shall have all the powers herein given to them as a whole. Should two of said executors and Trustees decline to act, or should two die, then the remaining Trustees shall have the power to constitute and appoint in the room and stead of the two deceased Trustees another trustee, who shall have all the powers, as though appointed by the original terms of this will, and shall not be required to give bond nor make settlements, and this appointment shall be evidenced by an instrument duly acknowledged and recorded in the Register's office of Knox County, Said executor and Trustees are requested to keep a set of books showing their transactions as Executor and Trustees, which books shall be subjected at all times to inspection by any of the devisees by my estate.
