Cherokee Court.

State of North Carolina Cherokee County.

1. Salton Freeman, age 78 years, post office Andrews North Carolina, being of sound mind, but considering the uncertainty of my earthly existence do make and execute this my last will and testament.
First: - I declare myself a Cherokee Indian by blood as per official record now on file with the Secretary of Interior Department at Washington, D. C. and believe myself and my legal heirs to be entitled to all lands, money and other properties that I may now or hereafter be entitled to from the United States Government as such.

Second: - My executor, hereinafter named, shall give my body a decent burial at the time of my death and to pay all my funeral expenses.

Third: - It is my will that my beloved niece Jane Patterson of Andrews, North Carolina shall have all the property that I may be possessed of at the time of my death in excess of the items mentioned in the second paragraph of this instrument; and that any and all property of each and every description belonging to my estate from the United States Government by reason of my connection with the Eastern Cherokee Nation or otherwise shall likewise go to Jane Patterson.

Fourth: - That my said niece Jane Patterson shall act as my lawful Executor
