

my property in Norfolk, and the remainder of my other estate, shall be appropriated to the raising and schooling my children, except ten dollars every year of the rent of my house in Norfolk, which I give to my daughter Sally C. Casey, untill my daughter Lucy Sawyer Casey, is sixteen years old, my children being raised and schooled, my will is, that all the profits arising from my property and house in Norfolk, with my perishable property, shall be equally divided among all my children, except my two sons, to whom I have given my land. My will is that my sons shall all be put to Trade; such as are secular, thinks proper, in some Town. My will is, that my land shall only one half be tilled in Indian corn at a time, and the other half sowed in any kind of small grain. I leave my son Thomas C. Casey my executor, to this my last will and Testament, with full power, to act according to my will; also to sell any property at private sale, that he thinks proper. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and seal, this the sixth day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, being the thirty eighth year of American Independence, signed and sealed in the presence of us,

June the sixth day one thousand eight hundred and fourteen. This day came before me Mashack Sawyer, Scur, and Robert Hobbs, and made oath that William Rogers left this world on the fifth of the said instant, and that it was his desire, that his brother John Rogers and Joseph Best, should settle all his affairs, and all his property, both real and personally should be sold, and be equally divided amongst all of his lawful heirs, and that they believed him to be in his sound senses and memory, at the time he told them these words.

The above was sworn to before me the day and date before mentioned.
